Feminist Realism at the Fin de Siècle Molly Youngkin,2007 Molly Youngkin takes on a major literary problem of the turn of the century Was the transition from the Victorian novel to the modern novel enabled by antirealist or realist narrative strategies To answer this question Youngkin analyzes book reviews that appeared in two prominent feminist periodicals circulated during the late Victorian era Shafts and The Woman s Herald Through reviews of the works of important male and female authors of the decade Thomas Hardy Sarah Grand George Gissing Mona Caird George Meredith M nie Dowie George Moore and Henrietta Stannard these periodicals developed a feminist realist aesthetic that drew on three aspects of woman s agency consciousness spoken word and action and emphasized corresponding narrative strategies internal perspective dialogue and description of characters actions Still these periodicals privileged consciousness over spoken word and action and by doing so encouraged authors to push the boundaries of traditional realism and anticipate the modernist aesthetic By acknowledging the role of the woman s press in the development of the novel this book revises our understanding of the transition from Victorianism to modernism which often is characterized as antirealist Late Victorian authors working within the realist tradition also contributed to this transition particularly through their engagement with feminist realism Youngkin deftly illustrates this transition and in so doing proves that it cannot be attributed to antirealist narrative strategies alone

The New Woman and the Empire

Iveta Jusová, 2005 Writing Women of the Fin de Siècle Adrienne E. Gavin, Carolyn Oulton, 2016-02-16 Concentrating on a period of significant social and political change and exploring both canonical and newly rediscovered texts this book critically assesses the changing culture of the late Victorian period as represented by a range of women writers through a range of essays by leading academics in the field and cutting edge work by newer scholars

Edinburgh Companion to Fin de Siècle Literature, Culture and the Arts Josephine M. Guy, 2017-10-23 The late nineteenth century fin de siècle has proved an enduringly fascinating moment in literary and cultural history It is associated with the emergence of intriguing figures such as the new woman and uranian with contradictory impulses of decadence and decay on the one hand and of experiment and renewal on the other as well as with unprecedented intercultural exchange especially between Britain and France The 22 newly commissioned essays collected here re-examine some of the key concepts taken to define the fin de siècle while also introducing hitherto overlooked cultural phenomena into the frame such as the importance of humanitarianism The impact of recent research in material culture is explored particularly how the history of the book and the history of performance culture is changing our understanding of this period A wide range of cultural activities is discussed from participation in avant garde theatre to interior decoration and from the writing of poetry to political and religious activism Together the essays provide new scholarly insights into British fin de siècle and enrich our understanding of this complex period while paying particular attention to the importance of regionalism

Art and Womanhood in Fin-de-Siècle Writing

Catherine Delyfer, 2015-10-06 Lucas Malet is one of a number of forgotten female writers whose work bridges the gap between George Eliot and Virginia Woolf Malet's writing was intrinsically linked to her passion for art This is the first book length study of

Malet's novels The New Woman and Technologies of Speed in Fin-de- Siècle Literature Eva Chen, 2024-11-01 This is the first literary study on the New Woman's interaction with modern speed culture through use of the typewriter and the bicycle. These technologies of speed are among the earliest to be associated with middle class women, exposing them to the discipline of mechanized speed while allowing for the construction of a new machine-savvy, sped-up and energized female subjectivity. Used for women's office work and daily movement, they demand from their women operators a response and adaptation to speed right from the beginning. The ability to catch up with, imitate, adjust to, and finally master this mechanized speed is the key to the New Woman's enlarged freedom in the modern city. By examining New Woman literature penned by George Gissing, H. G. Wells, Grant Allen, Geraldine Edith Mitton, and Mrs. Edward Kennard, and stories and comments published in popular magazines, this book examines how mechanized speed works on the New Woman typist and cyclist: first as discipline and control in typewriting, then as commodity and conspicuous display in cycling, and finally as rejuvenation, stimulation, and active thrill. Being fast, having speed, and adjusting to the shocks, as well as excitement of techno-aided speed, is a crucial part of what makes the New Woman new, as she stakes a claim to modern speed culture. New Woman Fiction, 1881-1899, Part III vol 8 Carolyn W. de la L. Oulton, Andrew King, Paul March-Russell, 2017-09-29 The novels in this collection include one by a fierce opponent to the New Woman movement as well as two from women whose work can be seen as archetypal New Woman fiction. Adolescent Girlhood and Literary Culture at the Fin de Siècle Beth Rodgers, 2016-10-06 This book examines the construction of adolescent girlhood across a range of genres in the closing decades of the nineteenth century. It argues that there was a preoccupation with defining, characterising, and naming adolescent girlhood at the fin de siècle. These daughters of today, juvenile spinsters and modern girls, as the press variously termed them, occupying a borderland between childhood and womanhood, were seen to be inextricably connected to late nineteenth-century modernity; they were the products of changes taking place in education and employment and of the challenge to traditional conceptions of femininity presented by the Woman Question. The author argues that the shifting nature of the modern adolescent girl made her a malleable cultural figure and a meeting point for many of the prevalent debates associated with fin de siècle society. By juxtaposing diverse material from children's books and girls' magazines to New Woman novels and psychological studies, the author contextualises adolescent girlhood as a distinct but complex cultural category at the end of the nineteenth century. New Woman Hybridities MARGARET BEETHAM, Ann Heilmann, 2004-07-31 This book explores the diversity of meanings ascribed to the turn-of-the-century New Woman in the context of cultural debates conducted within and across a wide range of national frameworks. Individual chapters by international scholars scrutinize the flow of ideas, images, and textual parameters of New Woman discourses in the UK, North America, Europe, and Japan, elucidating the national and ethnic hybridity of the modern woman by locating this figure within both international consumer culture and feminist writing. The volume will be essential reading for advanced students and researchers of American Studies Women's Studies and Women's History New Woman Fiction, 1881-1899, Part II vol 6 Carolyn W de la L Oulton, Adrienne E Gavin, SueAnn Schatz, Vybarr Cregan-Reid, 2017-09-29 Covers four texts from the 1890s that helped to crystallize the idea of the New Woman during a period where the role of women was increasingly debated and challenged not least due to the growth of the suffrage movement New Woman Writers, Authority and the Body Stacey Floyd, Melissa Purdue, 2009-10-02 This collection of essays contributes to scholarship on the emerging voices of women writers during the fin de siècle These New Woman writers created a distinctly different body of literature that reflected their concerns about women's limited role in society The essays cover a range of authors shedding light on the ways New Woman texts also often offer new and progressive portrayals of women's authority as connected to strong physical bodies These scholars highlight how New Woman endings re envision the marriage plot self destruction and even empowerment through pain Additionally they help scholars instructors and students contextualize the New Woman writers in terms of the Women's Movement nineteenth century laws related to marriage Darwinian theory athletics for women the New Woman's navigation of urban life and even Jack the Ripper Discourses of Ageing in Fiction and Feminism J. King, 2012-11-13 This book explores the way older women are represented in society Through close readings of novels by major 20th century novelists compared with the more dominant representations of female ageing to be found in popular culture it suggests that they offer a feminist understanding of the invisible woman sometimes lacking in feminism itself

The History of British Women's Writing, 1880-1920 Holly A. Laird, 2016-10-06 The ranks of English women writers rose steeply in the late 19th and early 20th centuries contributing to the era's revolutionary social movements as well as to transforming literary genres in prose and poetry The phenomena of the new New Women New Unionism New Imperialism New Ethics New Critics New Journalism New Man are this moment's touchstones This book tracks the period's new social phenomena and unfolds its distinctively modern modes of writing It provides expert introductions amid new insights into women's writing throughout the United Kingdom and around the globe Women's Playwriting and the Women's Movement, 1890-1918 Anna Farkas, 2019-05-13 The influence of the women's movement has long been a scholarly priority in the study of British women's drama of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries but previous scholarship has largely clustered around two events the New Woman in the 1890s and the suffrage campaign in the years before the First World War Women's Playwriting and the Women's Movement 1890-1918 is the first designated study of British women's drama from a period of exceptional productivity and innovation for female playwrights Both the British theatre and women's position within British society underwent fundamental changes in this period and this book shows how female dramatists carefully negotiated their position in the heated debates about women's rights that occurred at this time while staking out a place for themselves in an evolving theatrical landscape Farkas also identifies the women's movement as a key influence on the development of female authored drama between 1890 and 1918 but argues that scholarly prioritizing of the radicalism of work associated with the New Woman and the suffrage campaign has had a distorting effect in the past Ideal for scholars of British and Victorian theatre Women s Playwriting and the Women s Movement 1890 1918 offers a new perspective which emphasizes the complexity of women playwrights engagement with first wave feminism and links it to the diversification of the British theatre in this period The Victorian Novel in Context Grace Moore,2012-05-24 Structured in 3 parts this book focuses on immediate contexts key texts and wider contexts enables development from background issues through the actual literary texts to criticism and afterlives The Racialization of the Occult in Nineteenth Century British Literature John Bliss,2023-07-19 This book focuses on the representation of the practitioner of the occult in mid to late nineteenth century British literature The occult was a source of emotional support and scientific curiosity during this time of change and uncertainty because it seemed to offer answers to both spiritual and scientific questions through measurable albeit unconventional means However the occult was also viewed as a threat to British society an assault on its values and a fundamental danger to emerging scientific enterprise By examining the ways in which the occult and its practitioners are represented in British novels from 1850 1900 this book traces the ways that the novels commented on participated in and contributed to the racialization of the occult that occurred throughout the nineteenth century in Britain The representations of the occult characters in these novels interpreted and transmitted the social political economic and scientific discourses about race in the nineteenth century to the reading public as well as participating in the discourse surrounding race and the occult Arthur Machen Antonio Sanna,2021-04-21 Arthur Machen Critical Essays offers a study of the works by Arthur Machen 1863 1947 the Welsh writer who has attracted a cult following for decades especially among fans and scholars of weird fiction and Gothic studies These essays take readers into different areas and address several topics in Machen s literary production the literary the artistic the scientific the religious the socio cultural and the personal The twelve chapters constituting the volume examine the representation of human beings in the writer s works and their relationship with the surrounding environment whether it is the omnipresent London or the mysterious menacing nature The contributors also interpret Machen s writings through a series of disciplines and academic theories that were contemporary to the writer such as paleontology and medicine and demonstrate how he was influenced by the scientific discourses of his time and reproduced them in his works The last section of the volume considers Machen s interest in the occult and mysticism and the religious themes present in many of his works
