Lunacy And Caprice:

Lunacy and Caprice Henry Van Dyke, 1987 While house sitting for a wealthy eccentric Hugo Wolf a film student at NYU and Delphine Siegfried his girlfriend become involved in a series of events that lead to the discovery of a murder The Law of and Practice in Lunacy Sir Alexander Wood Renton, 1897 The Works of Thomas De Quincey, Part III vol 15 Grevel Lindop, Barry Symonds, 2020-03-25 Thomas De Quincey 1785 1859 is considered one of the most important English prose writers of the early 19th century This is the final part of a 21 volume set presenting De Quincey's work also including previously unpublished material De Quincey's Writings Thomas De Quincey, 1850 The Journal of Mental Science, 1861 Romanticism and Philosophy Sophie Laniel-Musitelli, Thomas Constantinesco, 2015-05-22 This volume brings together a wide range of scholars to offer new perspectives on the relationship between Romanticism and philosophy The entanglement of Romantic literature with philosophy is increasingly recognized just as Romanticism is increasingly viewed as European and Transatlantic yet few studies combine these coordinates and consider the philosophical significance of distinctly literary questions in British and American Romantic writings The essays in this book are concerned with literary writing as a form of thinking investigating the many ways in which Romantic literature across the Atlantic engages with European thought from 18th and 19th century philosophy to contemporary theory The contributors read Romantic texts both as critical responses to the major debates that have shaped the history of philosophy and as thought experiments in their own right This volume thus examines anew the poetic philosophy of Wordsworth Coleridge Blake Shelley and Clare also extending beyond poetry to consider other literary genres as philosophically significant such as Jane Austen's novels De Quincey's autofiction Edgar Allan Poe's tales or Emerson's essays Grounded in complementary theoretical backgrounds and reading practices the various contributions draw on an impressive array of writers and thinkers and challenge our understanding not only of Romanticism but also of what we have come to think of as literature and philosophy Manet and the Family Romance Nancy Locke, 2001 douard Manet's paintings have long been recognized for being visually compelling and uniquely recalcitrant While critics have noted the presence of family members and intimates in paintings such as Le Djeuner sur l herbe Nancy Locke takes an unprecedented look at the significance of the artist's family relationships for his art Locke argues that a kind of mythology of the family or Freudian family romance frequently structures Manet's compositional decisions and choice of models By looking at the representation of the family as a volatile mechanism for the development of sexuality and of repression conflict and desire Locke brings powerful new interpretations to some of Manet's most complex works Locke considers for example the impact of a father son drama rooted in a closely guarded family secret the adultery of Manet's pre-re and the status of Léon Leenhoff Her nuanced exploration of the implications of this story that Manet in fact married his father's mistress makes us look afresh at even well known paintings such as Olympia This book sheds new light on Manet's infamous interest in gypsies street musicians and itinerants as Locke analyzes the activities of Manet's father as a civil judge She also reexamines the close friendship between Manet and the Impressionist painter Berthe Morisot who married Manet's brother Morisot becomes the subject of a series of meditations on the elusiveness of the self the transience of identity and conflicting concerns with appearances and respectability Manet and the Family Romance offers an entirely new set of arguments about the cultural forces that shaped these alluring paintings Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, Volume 57, No. 354, April 1845 Various,2021-03-16 The Tragedy of Life: Being Records of Remarkable Phases of Lunacy John H.
