Keyser,Georgia L. Irby-Massie,2008-11-19 The Encyclopedia of Ancient Natural Scientists is the first comprehensive English language work to provide a survey of all ancient natural science from its beginnings through the end of Late Antiquity A team of over 100 of the world s experts in the field have compiled this Encyclopedia including entries which are not mentioned in any other reference work resulting in a unique and hugely ambitious resource which will prove indispensable for anyone seeking the details of the history of ancient science Additional features include a Glossary Gazetteer and Time Line The Glossary explains many Greek or Latin terms difficult to translate whilst the Gazetteer describes the many locales from which scientists came The Time Line shows the rapid rise in the practice of science in the 5th century BCE and rapid decline after Hadrian due to the centralization of Roman power with consequent loss of a context within which science could flourish

Communal Dining in the Roman West Shanshan Wen,2022-06-27 Communal Dining in the Roman West explores why the practice of privately sponsored communal dining gained popularity in certain parts of the Western Roman Empire for almost 300 years This book brings together 350 Latin inscriptions to examine the benefactors and beneficiaries the geographical and chronological distributions and the relationship between public and collegial dining practices It argues that food related euergetism was a region specific phenomenon which was rooted in specific social and political cultures in the communities of Italy Baetica and Africa Proconsularis The region specific differences in political cultures and long term changes in these cultures are key to understanding not only the long persistence of this practice but also its ultimate disappearance Dictionary Catalog of the Henry W. and Albert A.
