Zaloga, 2011-03-15 A thorough investigation of the strengths and weaknesses of two of the twentieth century s most lethal combatants the M1 Abrams and the T 72 The Gulf War bore witness to a number of deadly encounters between these two great adversaries Heavily armoured highly mobile and capable of killing at over 2500m the M1 Abrams is to this day a veritable fighting machine Superior to both Iraq s Soviet era T 55 and T 62 tanks nearly all sources claim that no Abrams tank has ever been destroyed by enemy fire Despite entering service in 1980 the M1 Abrams remained untested in combat until the Gulf War in 1991 where it was to be confronted by its archenemy the Iraqi assembled Soviet designed T 72 Entering production in 1971 the T 72 arguably outstripped its contemporaries in a balance of mobility protection and firepower By the time of Operation Desert Storm however the tables had turned and the tank suffered due to low quality ammunition and poorly trained crews In this fascinating study Steven Zaloga pits these two great fighting machines against one another plotting the development of the Cold War until both tanks met in combat in the deserts of Iraq and Kuwait US Battle Tanks 1946-2025 Steven J. combat performance of US battle tanks from the end of World War II through to the present day In this the second of two highly illustrated volumes telling the full history of the design development and operational use of US Army and US Marine Corps battle tanks Steven J Zaloga takes the story from the end of World War II through the US Soviet rivalry of the Cold War period right up to the latest developments in American armored technology US Battle Tanks 1946 2025 draws and expands on material published in Osprey s New Vanguard and Duel series to explain how the US Army attempted to come to grips with the challenges of the nuclear battlefield and examines the introduction of new tank designs such as the famous Patton tank series as well as short lived attempts to develop more radical tanks such as the T95 It covers the overly ambitious and failed MBT 70 tank program and the more austere M1 Abrams that followed a tank that proved to be the best US tank design of the post World War II period and one that is still in service today Published in association with the AUSA Book Program offering quality books about US Army heritage military theory and policy and security in the modern world M1 Abrams Main Battle Tank 1982-92 Steven J. Zaloga, 1993-01-28 The M1 Abrams was the most radical departure in US tank design since World War II Until the advent of the M1 in the early 1980s the US Army had relied on the steady evolution of the M26 Pershing tank through the M46 M47 M48 and M60 The M1 design came at a time when there were a host of important new tank technologies coming to fruition in terms of structure and weaponry these were integrated into it This book details the design development and operational use of one of the world s best main battle tanks T-64 Battle Tank Steven J. Zaloga, 2015-10-20 The T 64 tank was the most revolutionary design of the whole Cold War designed to provide the firepower and armour protection of a heavy tank in a medium weight design It pioneered a host of new technologies including laminate armour stereoscopic tank rangefinders opposed piston engines smooth bore tank guns with discarding sabot ammunition and gun fired guided projectiles These impressive features meant that the Russians were loath to part with the secrets of the design and the T 64 was the only Soviet tank type of the Cold War that was never exported Written by an armour expert this detailed technical history sheds light on the secrets behind the Cold War s most controversial tank revealing how its highly advanced technologies proved to be both a blessing and a curse US Army and Marine Corps MRAPs Mike Guardia, 2013-11-20 The Mine Resistant Ambush Protected MRAP vehicle is the newest land warfare system in the United States Army and Marine Corps inventory Designed to meet the challenges of operating in a counterinsurgency environment the MRAP has taken survivability to a new level MRAPs are currently manufactured by three companies BAE Systems Navistar International Military Group and Force Protection Inc Each company manufactures an MRAP according to one of three classifications set by the US Department of Defense Category I Category II or Category III The Category I MRAPs are designed for urban combat Category II covers the MRAPs designed for convoy security medical evacuation and explosive ordnance disposal The Category III MRAP performs the same function as Category II but is designed to carry more personnel Since their introduction in 2007 MRAPs have performed remarkably in the asymmetric warfare environment Their unique design and survivability characteristics have saved the lives hundreds of soldiers who otherwise would have been lost to landmines or IED attacks As with any combat system however the MRAP is not without its drawbacks
