Grossman,2024-06-18 Rhetoric and Public Memory in the Science of Disaster grapples with the role of science in the public memory of natural disasters Taking a psychoanalytic and genealogical approach to the rhetoric of disaster science throughout the twentieth century this book explores how we remember natural disasters by analyzing how we try to prevent them Chapters track the development of predictive modeling methods alongside some of the worst and most consequential natural disasters in the history of the United States From miniaturized physical scale models to cartographic renderings within a burgeoning statistical science to ever more complex simulation scenarios disaster science has long created imaginary versions of horrific events in the effort to prevent them Through an exploration of these hypothetical disasters this book theorizes how science itself becomes a site of public memory an increasingly important question in a world of changing weather Success with Mathematics Heather Cooke,2003 This study guide has been designed to support students studying mathematics to prepare themselves for self directed study and provides guidance and ideas to help make their learning efficient and effective Driver Behaviour and Training Lisa Dorn,2005 This second volume of Driver Behaviour and Training covers recent advances in the study of driving behaviour and driver training how driver characteristics goals and motivations contribute to unsafe driving behaviour and the development of driver training courses that consider all the skills essential for road safety Readership includes road safety researchers from a variety of different academic backgrounds senior practitioners in the field of driver training from regulatory authorities and professional driver training organizations such as the police service and private and public sector personnel who are concerned with improving road safety

Women and Mathematics Susan F. Chipman, Lorelei R. Brush, Donna M.
