presenting Chinese not as a system of signs but as the history of a community this study shows how language has expanded the scope of Chinese imagination and offers a glimpse into the future of younger languages throughout the world A

Imperial Command Fusheng Wu, 2009-01-01 This is the first book length study of panegyric poetry yingzhao shi or poetry presented to imperial rulers in the Chinese tradition Examining poems presented during the Wei Jin Nanbeichao or early medieval period 220 619 Fusheng Wu provides a thorough exploration of the sociopolitical background against which these poems were written and a close analysis of the formal conventions of the poems By reconstructing the human drama behind the composition of these poems Wu shows that writing under imperial command could be a matter of grave consequence The poets work could determine the rise and fall of careers or even cost lives While panegyric poetry has been largely dismissed as perfunctory and insincere such poems reveal much about the relations between monarchs and the intellectuals they patronized and also compels us to reexamine the canonical Chinese notion of poetic production as personal spontaneous expression Chinese Aesthetics Zong-qi Cai, 2004-08-31 This singular work presents the most comprehensive and nuanced studies available in any Western language of Chinese aesthetic thought and practice during the Six Dynasties A D 220 589 Despite a succession of dynastic and social upheavals the literati preoccupied themselves with both the sensuous and the transcendent and strove for cultural dominance By the end of the sixth century their reflections would evolve into a sophisticated system of aesthetic discourse characterized by its own rhetoric and concepts A prologue details the historical context in which Six Dynasties aesthetics arose and sketches out its major stages of development The ten essays that follow bring fresh perspectives to bear on important writings on literature music painting calligraphy and gardening Grounded in close readings of primary texts they reveal the complex dynamic interplay between life and art the sensuous and the metaphysical and the artistic and the philosophic religious that lies at the heart of the aesthetic thought and practice of the time As a whole the collection demonstrates that Six Dynasties achieved a sophistication in aesthetic thought comparable in many ways to that of the West The discussion of disinterestedness in art aesthetic judgment and how mental images mediate between the supersensible and the sensible are reminiscent of Kant The findings of various Chinese critics provide much food for thought in the broad fields of comparative literature and aesthetics Chinese Aesthetics will fill a gap in Western sinological studies of the period It will appeal to scholars and students in premodern Chinese literary studies comparative aesthetics and cultural studies and be a welcome reference to anyone interested in ancient Chinese culture Contributors Susan Bush Zong qi Cai Kang i Sun Chang Ronald Egan Robert E Harrist Jr Rania Huntington Wai yee Li Shuen fu Lin Victor Mair Fran ois Martin The Early Chinese Empires Mark Edward Lewis, 2010-10-30 In 221 BC the First Emperor of Qin unified what would become the heart of a Chinese empire whose major features would endure for two millennia In the first of a six volume series on the history of imperial China Lewis highlights the key challenges facing court officials and scholars who set about governing an empire of such scale and diversity
