Matthew Arnold Literature In Perspective:

Matthew Arnold Michael Thorpe,1969 Twenty-First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature Laurence W. Mazzeno,2014-03-06 Victorian literature's fascination with the past its examination of social injustice and its struggle to deal with the dichotomy between scientific discoveries and religious faith continue to fascinate scholars and contemporary readers During the past hundred years traditional formalist and humanist criticism has been augmented by new critical approaches including feminism and gender studies psychological criticism cultural studies and others In Twenty First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature twelve scholars offer new assessments of Victorian poetry novels and nonfiction Their essays examine several major authors and works and introduce discussions of many others that have received less scholarly attention in the past General reviews of the current status of Victorian literature in the academic world are followed by essays on such writers as Charles Dickens Alfred Tennyson Thomas Hardy and the Brontë sisters These are balanced by essays that focus on writing by women the development of the social problem novel and the continuity of Victorian writers with their Romantic forebears Most importantly the contributors to this volume approach Victorian literature from a decidedly contemporary scholarly angle and write for a wide audience of specialists and non specialists alike Their essays offer readers an idea of how critical commentary in recent years has influenced and in some cases changed radically our understanding of and approach to literary study in general and the Victorian period in particular Hence scholars teachers and students will find the volume a useful survey of contemporary commentary not just on Victorian literature but also on the period as a whole The Comparative Perspective on Literature Clayton Koelb,2019-06-30 Few would deny that comparative literature is rapidly moving from the periphery toward the center of literary studies in North America but many are still unsure just what it is The Comparative Perspective on Literature shows by means of twenty two exemplary essays by many of the most distinguished scholars in the field how comparative literature as a discipline is conceived of and practiced in the 1980s Nearly all of them published here for the first time the essays discuss and themselves reflect significant changes at the core of the field as well as evolving notions as to what comparative literature is and should be The volume editors Clayton Koelb and Susan Noakes have included essays that address the scope and concerns of comparative literature today historical and international contexts of the field and the relationship of literary criticism to other disciplines as well as affording comparative perspectives on current critical issues Matthew Arnold Harold Bloom,1987 Contains a representative selection of critical essays devoted to the poetry and prose of Matthew Arnold Matthew Arnold George Saintsbury,2022-09-04 In Matthew Arnold George Saintsbury offers a comprehensive critique of the titular poet and critic delving into Arnold's thematic concerns stylistic nuances and his position within the Victorian literary landscape This biographical and analytical work is characterized by its eloquent prose and deep literary analysis bringing to light Arnold's contributions to poetry and literary criticism Saintsbury artfully navigates Arnold's seminal ideas on culture morality and aesthetics situating them against the backdrop of a rapidly changing society thus providing essential context for understanding Arnold's enduring influence in literature George Saintsbury was a prominent literary scholar and critic himself known for his extensive writings on English literature His passion for literature and keen intellect were undoubtedly shaped by his own experiences in academia and his exposure to various literary movements This background not only informs his insightful observations into Arnold's work but also connects the dots between the historical influences that shaped Arnold's thought process and the literary currents of the time rendering the biographer's perspective particularly rich and engaging Readers who seek a deeper understanding of Matthew Arnold's legacy will find Saintsbury's scholarly examination invaluable By merging biography and criticism the book serves as an essential resource for students scholars and anyone interested in the evolution of literary thought It invites readers to reassess their own interpretations of Arnold while appreciating the intricate tapestry of 19th century literature

Windows to the World: Literature in Christian Perspective Leland Ryken, 2000-04-10 This is a teacher's book written by an able teacher Most people are interested in literature because of a deep love for literature itself They want to understand the reasons for that love Ryken helps us do this but he also helps Christians understand and validate their love for literature Ryken has also provided a solid means for non Christians to understand a Christian perspective on literature It Windows to the World comes closer to defining the goal and task of the teacher of literature than any work I have read Christianity and Literature

Latin American and Iberian Perspectives on Literature and Medicine Patricia Novillo-Corvalán, 2015-06-05 This is the first study to examine the representation of illness disability and cultural pathologies in modern and contemporary Iberian and Latin American literature Innovative and interdisciplinary the collection situates medicine as an important and largely overlooked discourse in these literatures while also considering the social political religious symbolic and metaphysical dimensions underpinning illness Investigating how Hispanic and Lusophone writers have reflected on the personal and cultural effects of illness it raises central questions about how medical discourses cultural pathologies and the art of healing in general are represented Essays pay particular attention to the ways in which these interdisciplinary dialogues chart new directions in the study of Hispanic and Lusophone cultures and emerging disciplines such as the medical humanities Addressing a wide range of themes and subjects including bioethics neuroscience psychosurgery medical technologies Darwinian evolution indigenous herbal medicine the rising genre of the pathography and the illness as metaphor trope the collection engages with the discourses of cultural studies gender studies disability studies comparative literature and the medical humanities This book enriches and stimulates scholarship in these areas by showing how much we still have to gain from interdisciplinary studies working at the intersections between the humanities and the sciences

ENGLISH LITERATURE ADVANCING THROUGH HISTORY 1 - Old English (Anglo-Saxon) and Medieval Periods Petru Golban, 2020-11-24 It appears that literary work possesses eternal temporal validity due to its autonomous aesthetic value whereas criticism provides points of view having temporary and transitory significance Despite such claims the vector of methodology in our series of books dealing with the history of English literature relies on Viktor Shklovsky T S Eliot Mikhail Bakhtin and especially Yuri Tynyanov whose main reasoning would be that literature is a system of dominant central and peripheral marginalized elements to us tradition centre versus innovation margin engaged in a battle for supremacy demarginalization and the right to form a new literary system and the development or historical advancement of literature is the substitution of systems Roman Jakobson and French structuralism on the whole later Linda Hutcheon with her system and constant and Bran Nicol with the dominant to say nothing about Itamar Even Zohar and his theory of polysystem to a certain extent Julia Kristeva and even Homi Bhabha as well as our humble contribution by means of the books in the present series we would like to believe maintain Tynyanov's line of thinking and concepts alive which have developed and emerged nowadays more like a kind of neo formalism The Arnoldian ,1980

The Formation of an Irish Literary Canon in the Mid-Twentieth Century Wei H Kao,2012-02-03 This scholarly study of the formation of the Irish literary canon in the first half of the twentieth century provides fascinating and often surprising insights into the ways in which different educational institutions responded to the political and historical changes taking place as Ireland moved from colonial to postcolonial status Dr Wei H Kao discusses not only what was included on school and university curriculum but also writers who were excluded in particular women writers who appeared to interrogate a male nationalist agenda for the representation of Ireland Emeritus Professor C L Innes The writers discussed include Daniel Corkery J G Farrell Denis Johnston Mary Lavin Iris Murdoch Kate O'Brien Frank O'Connor Liam O'Flaherty and James Plunkett
