Wendy Swartz, 2020-10-26 In a formative period of Chinese culture early medieval writers made extensive use of a diverse set of resources in which such major philosophical classics as Laozi Zhuangzi and Classic of Changes featured prominently Reading Philosophy Writing Poetry examines how these writers understood and manipulated a shared intellectual lexicon to produce meaning Focusing on works by some of the most important and innovative poets of the period this book explores intertextuality the transference adaptation or rewriting of signs as a mode of reading and a condition of writing It illuminates how a text can be seen in its full range of signifying potential within the early medieval constellation of textual connections and cultural signs If culture is that which connects its members past present and future then the past becomes an inherited and continually replenished repository of cultural patterns and signs with which the literati maintains an organic and constantly negotiated relationship of give and take Wendy Swartz explores how early medieval writers in China developed a distinctive mosaic of ways to participate in their cultural heritage by weaving textual strands from a shared and expanding store of literary resources into new patterns and configurations

The Study of Philosophy Andrew Pessin, S. Morris Engel, 2015 This seventh edition of The Study of Philosophy presents a comprehensive treatment of the major fields and figures of philosophy alongside primary readings by seminal thinkers to fuel debate and further study New features of this edition include a substantive account of philosophical theology a reorganized treatment of early modern rationalism and empiricism discussion of the major highlights of twentieth and twenty first century philosophy a survey of major contemporary moral problems From Plato to Plantinga from Aristotle to Ayer and from Socrates to Singer this text brings the power of both ancient and modern philosophy to students of the twenty first century
