Philosophy Of Martin Buber:

The Knowledge of Man Martin Buber, 1965      I And Thou Martin Buber, 1970 Martin Buber's I and Thou has long been acclaimed as a classic. Many prominent writers have acknowledged its influence on their work; students of intellectual history consider it a landmark, and the generation born since World War II considers Buber as one of its prophets. The need for a new English translation has been felt for many years. The old version was marred by many inaccuracies and misunderstandings, and its recurrent use of the archaic thou was seriously misleading. Now Professor Walter Kaufmann, a distinguished writer and philosopher in his own right who was close to Buber, has retranslated the work at the request of Buber's family. He has added a wealth of informative footnotes to clarify obscurities and bring the reader closer to the original, and he has written a long Prologue that opens up new perspectives on the book and on Buber's thought. This volume should provide a new basis for all future discussions of Buber.      The Philosophy of Martin Buber Maurice S. Friedman, Paul Arthur Schilpp, 1967      The Philosophy of Martin Buber, 1967      Philosophy of Martin Buber [J], 1963      A Believing Humanism: My Testament, 1902-1965 Martin Buber, 1967      Will and Grace Hune Margulies, 2017-11-13 This book is a poetic reading of the dialogical philosophy of Martin Buber. My reading of Martin Buber takes me to this principal insight: God is not in heaven nor on earth; God is not above nor below, not within and not without, not in the soul or in the flesh; God is not an entity anywhere; God is the between of an I and a thou. These pages are not an academic study in the strict sense; my meditations in this book are not a literal description of Buber's philosophy, for Buber would never have approved of taking his words in any way other than in dialogue. Buber wrote in dialogue with the reader, and I read Buber in the poetic philosophy of his words. In other words, we can say that the essential thinking in Martin Buber's philosophy is that the presence of God in us is always enacted as the presence of God between us. God-like love like poetry is a deed we do; the God-deed is actualized not in rituals or temples but in the practices of the sacraments of the neighbor, for there is nothing we can predicate of God but we can still meet God in the embrace of the neighbor; we meet God as we meet with one another in genuine relationship; God is not in the relationship; God is the relationship; God is no thing but there is nothing that isn't God in the between of an I and a thou.      Martin Buber ["The Philosophy of Martin Buber"] Maurice Friedman, Paul Arthur Schilpp, 1963      Martin Buber Maurice S. Friedman, 2003-09-02 Martin Buber The Life of Dialogue the first study in any language to provide a complete overview of Buber's thought remains the definitive guide to the full range of his work and the starting point for all modern Buber scholarship. Maurice S. Friedman reveals the implications of Buber's thought for theory of knowledge, education, philosophy, myth, history, and Judaic and Christian belief. This fully revised and expanded fourth edition includes a new preface by the author, an expanded bibliography incorporating new Buber scholarship, and two new appendices in the form of essays on Buber's influence on Emmanuel Levinas and Mikhail Bakhtin.      The Educational Philosophy of Martin Buber Adir Cohen, 1983      Martin Buber's Dialogical Thought as a Philosophy of Action Asaf Ziderman, 2024-10-30

This book promotes a philosophical revival of Buber's dialogical thought by repositioning it as a philosophy of action departing from a long established consensus that narrowly viewed it as a post Kantian epistemology. Based on careful analysis of his writings the book's main thrust is to reconstruct Buber's argument that dialogue is the perfected form of action and a perfect action is necessarily dialogical. This reconstruction renders Buber's dialogical thought pertinent to contemporary analytic philosophy by situating it within central discussions in the field of philosophy of action. Martin Buber and the Human Sciences Maurice Friedman, Pat Boni, 1996-05-24 This is the first book on Buber to address the full scope of his seminal influence for any number of thinkers and fields from philosophy to psychotherapy to literary theory.

Martin Buber's Philosophy of Interhuman Relation Alexander Sissel Kohanski, 1982 The Martin Buber Reader A. Biemann, 2002-11-22 Martin Buber was professor of the history of religions and Jewish religion ethics from 1923 to 1933 at the University of Frankfurt. He resigned in 1933 after Hitler came to power and immigrated to Israel where he taught at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. Buber wrote numerous books during his lifetime 1878-1965 and is best known for I and Thou and Good and Evil. His philosophy of dialogue that is the I-Thou relationship which affirms each individual as being of unique value is extremely well known and has influenced important Protestant theologians like Karl Barth, Emil Brunner, Paul Tillich and Reinhold Niebuhr. There is truly no genuine understanding of contemporary Jewish and Christian theology without reference to Martin Buber. His appeal is vast not only is he renowned for his translations of the Old Testament but also for his interpretation of Hasidism, his role in Zionism and his writings in both psychotherapy and political philosophy. Martin Buber and the Eternal Maurice S. Friedman, 1986 A study of the religious philosophy of one of the century's foremost Jewish thinkers. The author a Buber scholar summarizes the philosopher's views on ethics and on the history of religion and his dialog with oriental religions. An existentialist philosopher Buber sees salvation as relatedness to others and to divine revelation in day to day events. Eclipse of God Martin Buber, 1988 The condition Buber calls the eclipse of God is the reality that modern life and the teachings of many scholars have in many ways destroyed the opportunity for intimacy with an eternal ever present Thou or God. Based in part on a series of lectures he gave in the United States in 1951 this book examines Buber's interpretations of Western thinking and belief around this notion of lost intimacy or direct contact with the Divine focusing particularly on the relationships between religion and philosophy, ethics and Jungian psychology.
