Philosophy Of The Commentators 200 600 Ad Psychology:

The Philosophy of the Commentators, 200-600 AD: Psychology (with ethics and religion) Richard Sorabji, 2005 This is the first work to draw on the four hundred years of transition from ancient Greek philosophy to the medieval philosophy of Islam and the West During this period philosophy was often written in the form of commentaries on the works of Plato and Aristotle Many ideas wrongly credited to the Middle Ages derive from these centuries such as that of impetus in dynamics and intentional objects in philosophy of mind The later Neoplatonist commentators fought a losing battle with Christianity but inadvertently made Aristotle acceptable to Christians by ascribing to him belief in a Creator God and human immortality The commentators provide a panorama of up to a thousand years of Greek philosophy much of which would otherwise be lost They also serve as the missing link essential for understanding the subsequent history of Western philosophy Volume 1 deals with psychology which for the Neoplatonist commentators was the gateway to metaphysics and theology It was the subject on which Plato and Aristotle disagreed most and on which the commentators went furthest beyond them in their search for synthesis Ethics and religious practice fall naturally under psychology and are included in this volume All sources appear in English translation and are carefully linked and cross referenced by editorial comment and explanation Bibliographies are provided throughout The Philosophy of the Commentators, 200-600 AD Richard Sorabji, 2012 This is a sourcebook that draws upon the 400 years of transition from ancient Greek philosophy to the medieval philosophy of Islam and the West Philosophy was then often written in the form of commentaries on the works of Plato and Aristotle Many ideas wrongly credited to the Middle Ages derive from this period e q that of impetus in dynamics and intentional objects in philosophy of mind The later Neoplatonist commentators fought a losing battle with Christianity but inadvertently made Aristotle acceptable to Christians by ascribing to him belief in a Creator God and human immortality They also provided a panorama of up to 1000 years of preceding Greek philosophy much of it otherwise lost They serve as the missing link essential for understanding the history of Western philosophy Psychology was for the Neoplatonist commentators the gateway to metaphysics and theology It was the subject on which Plato and Aristotle disagreed most and the subject on which the commentators went furthest beyond them in their search for an amalgamation Ethics and religious practice fall naturally under psychology and are included in this volume All sources appear in English translation and are carefully linked and cross referenced by editorial comment and explanation Bloomsbury Publishing The Philosophy of the Commentators, 200-600 AD: Psychology (with ethics and religion) Richard Sorabji, 2004 No Marketing Blurb The Philosophy of the Commentators, 200-600 AD: Logic and metaphysics Richard Sorabji, 2005 The third volume of this invaluable sourcebook covers three main subject areas the metaphysics of Aristotle's logical works logic and the higher metaphysics of Neoplatonism Neoplatonism Pauliina Remes, 2014-12-05 Although Neoplatonism has long been studied by classicists until recently most philosophers saw the ideas of Plotinus et al as a lot of religious magical mumbo jumbo Recent work however has provided a new perspective on the philosophical issues in Neoplatonism and Pauliina Remes new introduction to the subject is the first to take account of this fresh research and provides a reassessment of Neoplatonism's philosophical credentials Covering the Neoplatonic movement from its founder Plotinus AD 204 70 to the closure of Plato's Academy in AD 529 Remes explores the ideas of leading Neoplatonists such as Porphyry lamblichus Proclus Simplicius and Damascius as well as less well known thinkers Situating their ideas alongside classical Platonism Stoicism and the neo Pythagoreans as well as other intellectual movements of the time such as Gnosticism Judaism and Christianity Remes provides a valuable survey for the beginning student and non specialist The Philosophy of the Commentators, 200-600 AD Richard Sorabji, 2012 This is a sourcebook that draws upon the 400 years of transition from ancient Greek philosophy to the medieval philosophy of Islam and the West Philosophy was then often written in the form of commentaries on the works of Plato and Aristotle Many ideas wrongly credited to the Middle Ages derive from this period e g that of impetus in dynamics and intentional objects in philosophy of mind The later Neoplatonist commentators fought a losing battle with Christianity but inadvertently made Aristotle acceptable to Christians by ascribing to him belief in a Creator God and human immortality They also provided a panorama of up to 1000 years of preceding Greek philosophy much of it otherwise lost They serve as the missing link essential for understanding the history of Western philosophy Psychology was for the Neoplatonist commentators the gateway to metaphysics and theology It was the subject on which Plato and Aristotle disagreed most and the subject on which the commentators went furthest beyond them in their search for an amalgamation Ethics and religious practice fall naturally under psychology and are included in this volume All sources appear in English translation and are carefully linked and cross referenced by editorial comment and explanation Bloomsbury Publishing Mathematical Commentaries in the Ancient World Karine Chemla, Glenn W. humanism against sectarianism The Appendix provides a synopsis of his relatively inaccessible Latin Church History an exercise in clandestine philosophy from which Hobbes s intentions in Leviathan can be read off Chapters are referenced and cross referenced to be read independently serving both as reference work and text book Conjunctions of Mind, Soul and Body from Plato to the Enlightenment Danijela Kambaskovic, 2014-09-25 This book examines the nexus between the corporeal emotional spiritual and intellectual aspects of human life as represented in the writing of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance Authors from different fields examine not only the question of the body and soul or body and mind but also how this question fits into a broader framework in the medieval and early modern period Concepts such as gender and society morality sexuality theological precepts and medical knowledge are a part of this broader framework This discussion of ideas draws from over two thousand years of Western thought from Plato in the fifth century BC and the fourth century Byzantine dialogues on the soul to the philosophical and medical writings of the early 1700s There are four sections to this book each section is based on where the authors have found a conjunction between the body and mind soul The work begins with a section on text and self perception which focuses on creative output from the period The second conjunction is human emotions which are described in their social contexts. The third is sex where the human body and mind are traditionally believed to meet The fourth section Material Souls engages with bodies and other material aspects of existence perceived studied or utilised as material signs of emotional and spiritual activity Theories of Colour from Democritus to Descartes Véronique Decaix, Katerina Ierodiakonou, 2024-10-25 Theories of Colour from Democritus to Descartes investigates issues of the ontological status and perception of colours such as What is the nature of colours Do they exist independently of the subjects who perceive them And if so how are they generated and how do they differ from one another These are some of the questions raised by philosophers but what has been lacking is an account of the various theories about colours through different periods of the history of philosophy Exploring philosophical debates on the nature and perception of colours from a historical perspective this book presents how different theories from Antiquity through the Middle Ages to the early modern era explain the nature of colours their generation and the way they are perceived Twelve eminent historians of philosophy analyse the theories of colours prevailing at critical points in the history of Western philosophy from its beginnings with Democritus to Descartes and the early modern period This book will appeal to students and scholars working on the history of philosophy ancient medieval Arabic and Latin and early modern as well as those interested in contemporary philosophy philosophy of the mind philosophy of perception phenomenology metaphysics and neurosciences A broader audience may also include researchers in psychology cultural history and the history of art Aëtiana V (4 vols.) Jaap Mansfeld, David Runia, 2020-08-10 A new reconstruction and text of the Placita of A tius ca 50 CE accompanied by a full commentary and an extensive collection of related texts This compendium arguably the most important doxographical text to survive from antiquity is known through the intensive use made of it by authors in later antiquity and beyond Covering the entire field of natural philosophy it has long been mined as a source of information about ancient philosophers and their views It now receives a thorough analysis as a remarkable work in its own right This volume is the culmination of a five volume set of studies on A tius 1996 2020 A tiana I ISBN 9789004105805 1996 II Parts 1 set ISBN 9789004172067 2008 III ISBN 9789004180413 2009 IV ISBN 9789004361454 2018 and V Parts 1 4 It uses an innovative methodology to replace the Self Richard Sorabji,2008-09-26 Drawing on classical antiquity and Western and seminal edition of Hermann Diels 1879 Eastern philosophy Richard Sorabji tackles in Self the question of whether there is such a thing as the individual self or only a stream of consciousness According to Sorabji the self is not an undetectable soul or ego but an embodied individual whose existence is plain to see Unlike a mere stream of consciousness it is something that owns not only a consciousness but also a body Sorabji traces historically the retreat from a positive idea of self and draws out the implications of these ideas of self on the concepts of life and death asking Should we fear death How should our individuality affect the way we live Through an astute reading of a huge array of traditions he helps us come to terms with our uneasiness about the subject of self in an account that will be at the forefront of philosophical debates for years to come There has never been a book remotely like this one in its profusion of ancient references on ideas about human identity and selfhood Readers unfamiliar with the subject also need to know that Sorabji breaks new ground in giving special attention to philosophers such as Epictetus and other Stoics Plotinus and later Neoplatonists and the ancient commentators on Aristotle on the last of whom he is the world s leading authority Anthony A Long Times Literary Supplement Later Platonists and their Heirs among Christians, Jews, and Muslims Eva Anagnostou, Ken Parry, 2022-12-28 Later Platonists and their Heirs among Christians Jews and Muslims offers a thought provoking exploration of the reception of Platonism among communities of faith from early Christianity to the sixteenth century from the Byzantine East to the Latin West Rare emphasis is placed on the importance of Platonic thought and its diffusion in late antique and medieval Syria Armenia and Georgia but also among Arab and Jewish intellectuals from the seventh century onwards As such the volume makes a statement against the separation of Neoplatonic philosophy from Christianity and the other Abrahamic faiths since all four traditions promoted a life of virtue and goodness despite operating under different divine auspices The volume seeks to establish paths of transmission and modes of adaptation across times and places Texts and Culture in Late Antiquity J. H. D. Scourfield, 2007-12-31 Late Antiquity has increasingly been viewed as a period of transformation and dynamic change in its literature as in society and politics In this volume thirteen scholars focus on the intellectual and literary culture of the time investigating complex relationships between late Antique authors and the texts which they had inherited through the classical pagan and Christian traditions Particular emphasis is placed on works that carried special authority Homer Virgil Plato and the Bible The volume thus contributes to the history of the reception of classical texts and through its inclusiveness classical and classicizing philosophical and patristic writing are all represented seeks to offer a view of the textual world of late Antiquity as a unified whole It affords a scholarly introduction to a sweep of late Antique literature in Greek and Latin Authors and genres discussed include Juvencus and Claudian Plotinus and Proclus Jerome and John Cassian geographical and grammatical writing and Christian cento Learning Cities in Late Antiquity Jan R. Stenger, 2018-12-07 Education in the Graeco Roman world was a hallmark of the polis Yet the complex ways in which pedagogical theory and practice intersected with their local environments has not been much explored in recent scholarship Learning Cities in Late Antiquity suggests a new explanatory model that helps to understand better how conditions in the cities shaped learning and teaching and how in turn education had an impact on its urban context Drawing inspiration from the modern idea of learning cities the chapters explore the interplay of teachers learners political leaders communities and institutions in the Mediterranean polis with a focus on the well documented city of Gaza in the sixth century CE They demonstrate in detail that formal and informal teaching as well as educational thinking not only responded to specifically local needs but also exerted considerable influence on local society With its interdisciplinary and comparatist approach the volume aims to contextualise ancient education in order to stimulate further research on ancient learning cities It also highlights the benefits of historical research to theory and practice in modern education Ideas in Motion in Baghdad and Beyond Damien Janos, 2015-10-05 This volume contains a collection of articles focusing on the philosophical and theological exchanges between Muslim and Christian intellectuals living in Baghdad during the classical period of Islamic history when this city was a vibrant center of philosophical scientific and literary activity The philosophical accomplishments and contribution of Christians writing in Arabic and Syriac represent a crucial component of Islamic society during this period but they have typically been studied in isolation from the development of mainstream Islamic philosophy The present book aims for a more integrated approach by exploring case studies of philosophical and theological cross pollination between the Christian and Muslim traditions with an emphasis on the Baghdad School and its main representative Ya y ibn Ad Contributors Carmela Baffioni David Bennett Gerhard Endress Damien Janos Olga Lizzini Ute Pietruschka Alexander Treiger David Twetten Orsolya Vars nyi John W Watt Robert Wisnovsky

Leo Strauss, Philosopher Antonio Lastra, Josep Monserrat-Molas, 2016-05-12 This volume presents for the first time in English the approaches to Leo Strauss being pursued by European scholars in Spain Italy and Germany Whereas the traditions of Strauss interpretation have until recently focused on issues of interest to political science and to a lesser extent religious studies this collection makes a powerful contribution to the recent philosophical consideration of Strauss Each essay treats a unique thread emerging from the tapestry of Straussian thought illustrating Strauss s thinking on the reading of ancient texts and on the relationship between philosophy and politics In doing so Strauss is placed squarely and uncompromisingly within the history of philosophy in conversation with a large range of philosophical figures The Mage's Images: Heinrich Khunrath in His Oratory and Laboratory, Volume 4 Peter J. Forshaw, 2025-09-09 This is the 4th volume in a 4 volume work entitled The Mage's Images The work provides the first in depth examination of the life and works of Heinrich Khunrath 1560 1605 one of the great Hermetic philosophers whose Amphitheatre of Eternal Wisdom 1595 1609 has been described as one of the most important books in the whole literature of theosophical alchemy and the occult sciences Khunrath is best known for his novel combination of scripture and picture in the complex engravings in his Amphitheatre In this richly illustrated monograph Forshaw analyses occult symbolism with previously unpublished material offering insight into Khunrath's insistence on the necessary combination of alchemy magic and cabala in Oratory and Averroes on Intellect Stephen R. Ogden, 2022-03-22 Averroes on Intellect provides a detailed analysis of the Muslim philosopher Averroes Ibn Rushd's notorious unicity thesis the view that there is only one separate and eternal intellect for all human beings It focuses directly on Averroes arguments both from the text of Aristotle's De Anima and more importantly his own philosophical arguments in the Long Commentary on the De Anima Stephen Ogden defends Averroes interpretation of De Anima using a combination of Greek Arabic Latin and contemporary sources Yet Ogden also insists that Averroes is not merely a commentator but an incisive philosopher in his own right. The author thus reconstructs and analyzes Averroes two most significant independent philosophical arguments the Determinate Particular Argument and the Unity Argument Alternative ancient and medieval views are also considered throughout especially from two important foils before and after Averroes namely Avicenna Ibn Sina and Thomas Aguinas Aguinas most famous and penetrating arguments against the unicity thesis are also addressed Finally Ogden considers Averroes own objections to broader metaphysical views of the soul like Avicenna's and Aquinas which agree with him on several key points including the immateriality of the intellect and the individuation of human souls by matter while still diverging on the number and substantial nature of the intellect The central goal of this book is to provide readers with a single study of Averroes most pivotal arguments on intellect consolidating and building on recent scholarship and offering a comprehensive case for his unicity thesis in the wider context of Aristotelian epistemology and metaphysics
