Photographic Guide To Ferns Of New Zealand:

A Photographic Guide to Ferns of New Zealand Lawrence James Metcalf, 2003 Ferns occur in great abundance in New Zealand there are nearly 200 native species alone occurring everywhere from the coast through to the country's alpine regions Then there are the fern allies including clubmosses and forkferns that have an even longer fossil history than ferns However most of the ferns and fern allies described in this guide are the commoner species that are more likely to be seen when journeying around the New Zealand countryside all species described are listed according to their scientific names so that their affinities with related species may be seen more easily

A Photographic Guide to Trees of New Zealand Lawrence James Metcalf, 2002 In this text fact filled descriptions highlighting key identification features of New Zealand trees are supported by distribution maps and colour photographs of over 100 species Compact and easy to use this text should appeal to those interested in natural history
