Photography And Literature:

Photography and Literature in the Twentieth Century David Cunningham, Andrew Fisher, Sas Mays, 2005 Photography and Literature in the Twentieth Century offers an accessible and fresh approach to an object of interdisciplinary research that is currently receiving increased international attention Providing a broad historical schema and examining pivotal moments within it the collection brings together a range of writers and practitioners who help to guide the reader through a historical cross section of current work in this area Unlike most existing studies this volume considers both key literary figures from Proust to Sebald and photographic practitioners from Heartfield to Sekula in order to give a commanding overview of its subject that is both well informed and often ground breaking With original and accessible essays by acknowledged experts in the field this is a book that should be of interest not only to students and teachers in departments of literature and photography but also to those in cultural studies and art history as well as photographic artists

Photography and Literature François Brunet, 2009 Photography photographs On Photography Susan Sontag, 1977 A series of essays about the meaning and career of photographs The Language of Vision Joseph R. Millichap, 2016 The Language of Vision celebrates and interprets the complementary expressions of photography and literature in the South Southern imagery and text affect one another explains Joseph R Millichap as intertextual languages and influential visions Focusing on the 1930s and including significant works both before and after this preeminent decade Millichap uncovers fascinating convergences between mediums particularly in the interplay of documentary realism and subjective modernism Millichap's subjects range from William Faulkner's fiction perhaps the best representation of literary and graphic tensions of the period and the work of other major figures like Robert Penn Warren and Eudora Welty to specific novels including Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man and James Agee's Let Us Now Praise Famous Men Fleshing out historical and cultural background as well as critical and theoretical context Millichap shows how these texts echo and inform the visual medium to reveal personal insights and cultural meanings Warren's fictions and poems Millichap argues redefine literary and graphic tensions throughout the late twentieth century Welty's narratives and photographs reinterpret gender race and class and Ellison's analysis of race in segregated America draws from contemporary photography Millichap also traces these themes and visions in Natasha Trethewey's contemporary poetry and prose revealing how the resonances of these artistic and historical developments extend into the new century This groundbreaking study reads southern literature across time through the prism of photography offering a brilliant formulation of the dialectic art forms

Photography and Literature Eric Lambrechts, 1992 Photo-textualities Marsha Bryant, 1996 This anthology investigates books that juxtapose photographs and written language photo texts considering a variety of examples from America Britain Canada and France Ranging from Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Marble Faun to Michael Ondaatje's postmodern novel Coming Through Slaughter and Edward Said's postdocumentary After the Last Sky the contributors analyses address photo textuality's implications for

Victorian Photography, Literature, and the Invention of Modern Memory Jennifer Green-Lewis, 2020-08-07 Analysing a broad range of texts by inventors cultural critics photographers and novelists this book argues that Victorian photography ultimately defined the concept of memory for generations to come including our own The book will be of interest to students of Victorian and modernist literature visual culture and intellectual history as well as scholars working within the emerging field of research at the intersection of photographic and literary studies Victorian Photography, Literature, and the Invention of Modern Jennifer Green-Lewis, 2022-07 Invented during a period of anxiety about the ability of human memory to cope with the demands of expanding knowledge photography not only changed the way the Victorians saw the world but also provided them with a new sense of connection with the past and a developing language with which to describe it Analysing a broad range of texts by inventors cultural critics photographers and novelists Victorian Photography Literature and the Invention of Modern Memory Already the Past argues that Victorian photography ultimately defined the concept of memory for generations to come including our own In addition to being invaluable for scholars working within the emerging field of research at the intersection of photographic and literary studies this book will also be of interest to students of Victorian and modernist literature visual culture and intellectual history

Picturing the Maghreb Mary B. Vogl, 2002-12-10 Among the visual media photography is one of the most powerful means of representation because of its immediacy and its supposed objectivity photography has been popularly accepted as an accurate reflection of what is real Contemporary thinkers however are questioning these assumptions looking at the vocabulary of possession and aggression photographers use in taking a picture load aim shoot and investigating the implications of such vocabulary especially on Western notions of non Western cultures Some of today s most prominent French writers acutely aware of this crisis of representation and suspicion of the image have used photography in their fiction to examine the problematic issues of identity marginality alienation and exile in contemporary France and postcolonial North Africa Picturing the Maghreb is a unique project that investigates how North Africans have been represented in photographs and portrayed in literary texts Probing a variety of images colonial and contemporary negative and positive demonizing and idealizing French and North African Mary B Vogl displays the enormous power photography and writing have to stereotype and essentialize In this singular and significant contribution to cultural studies she explores the possibilities for nonexploitative cross cultural discourse in a globalized world      Literature and Photography in Transition, 1850-1915 O. Clayton, 2014-11-21 Literature and Photography in Transition 1850 1915 examines how British and American writers used early photography and film as illustrations and metaphors It concentrates on five figures in particular Henry Mayhew Robert Louis Stevenson Amy Levy William Dean Howells and Jack London      Enlightening Encounters Giorgia Alu, Nancy Pedri, 2015-01-15 Enlightening Encounters traces the impact of photography on Italian literature from the medium's invention in 1839 to the present day Investigating the ways in which Italian literature has responded to photographic practice and aesthetics the contributors use a wide range of theoretical perspectives to examine a variety of canonical and non canonical authors and a broad selection of literary genres including fiction autobiography photo texts and migration literature The first collection in English to focus on photography's reciprocal relationship to Italian literature Enlightening Encounters represents an important resource for a number of fields including Italian studies literary studies visual studies and cultural studies      Victorian Photography, Literature, and the Invention of Modern Memory Jennifer Green-Lewis, 2020-08-07 Analysing a broad range of texts by inventors cultural critics photographers and novelists this book argues that Victorian photography ultimately defined the concept of memory for generations to come including our own The book will be of interest to students of Victorian and modernist literature visual culture and intellectual history as well as scholars working within the emerging field of research at the intersection of photographic and literary studies      Still Modernism Louise Hornby, 2017-09-01 Casting new light on the relationship between photography and film Still Modernism articulates the struggle between the still and the kinetic at the center of modernist culture      Searching for Sebald Lise Patt, Christel Dillbohner, 2007 W G Sebald's books are sui generis hybrids of fiction travelogue autobiography and historical expos in which a narrator both Sebald and not Sebald comments on the quick blossoming of natural wonders and the long deaths that come of human atrocities All his narratives are punctuated with images murky photographs architectural plans engravings paintings newspaper clippings inserted into the prose without captions and often without obvious connection to the words that surround them This important volume includes a rare 1993 interview called But the written word is not a true document A Conversation with W G Sebald about Photography and Literature in which Sebald talks exclusively about his use of photographs It contains some of Sebald's most illuminating and poetic remarks about the topic yet In it he discusses Barthes the photograph's appeal the childhood image of Kafka family photographs and even images he never used in his writings In addition Searching for Sebald positions Sebald within an art historical tradition that begins with the Surrealists continues through Joseph Beuys and blossoms in the recent work of Christian Boltanski and Gerhard Richter and tracks his continuing inspiration to artists such as Tacita Dean and Helen Mirra An international roster of artists and scholars unpacks the intricacies of his unique method Seventeen theoretical essays approach Sebald through the multiple filters of art history Krauss film studies Kluge cultural theory Benjamin psychoanalysis Freud and especially photographic history and theory

Barthes Kracauer and 17 modern and contemporary art projects are read through a Sebaldian filter If Sebald's artistic output acts as a touchstone for new critical theory being written on post medium photographic practices Searching for Sebald suggests a model for new investigations in the burgeoning field of visual studies Photography in Children's Literature Elina Druker, Bettina Kümmerling-Meibauer, 2023-10-15 Photography in Children's Literature is the first study that examines the wide array of artistic techniques topics and genres used within photographic books for children Covering a time period from the 1870s to the 1980s the collection offers multifaceted insights into changing perceptions of children and childhood during an era when the world changed in unprecedented ways More than sixty full color illustrations demonstrate an impressive variety of genres from ABC books concept books and country portraits to photo reportage and poetry By discussing photographic books from ten countries and three continents the collection offers an international scope providing a glimpse into the production and reception of photography in children's literature in a range of contexts and cultures Photographic books for children thus open up new vistas for scholars interested in an interdisciplinary and transnational investigation of children's literature text and images across the centuries Writing, Authorship and Photography in British Literary Culture, 1880 - 1920 Emily Ennis, 2022-03-24 At the turn of the 20th century printing and photographic technologies evolved rapidly leading to the birth of mass media and the rise of the amateur photographer Demonstrating how this development happened symbiotically with great changes in the shape of British literature Writing Authorship and Photography in British Literary Culture 1880 1920 explores this co evolution showing that as both writing and photography became tools of mass dissemination literary writers were forced to re evaluate their professional and personal identities Focusing on four key authors Thomas Hardy Bram Stoker Joseph Conrad and Virginia Woolf each of which had their own private and professional connections to photographs this book offers valuable historical contexts for contemporary cultural developments and anxieties At first establishing the authors response to developing technologies through their non fiction personal correspondences and working drafts Ennis moves on to examine how their perceptions of photography extend into their major works of fiction A Laodicean Dracula The Secret Agent The Inheritors and The Voyage Out Reflecting on the first graphic revolution in a world where text and image are now reproduced digitally and circulated en masse and online Ennis redirects our attention to when image and text appeared alongside each other for the first time and the crises this sparked for authors how they would respond to increasingly photographic depictions of everyday life and in turn how their writing adapted to a distinctly visual mass media Camera Works Michael North, 2005 Camera Works is about the impact of photography and film on modern art and literature With examples from the avant garde of the little magazine and from classic authors like Fitzgerald and Hemingway it argues that literature and art become modern by responding to these new means of representation The Law of Copyright in Works of Literature, Art, Architecture, Photography, Music and the Drama Walter Arthur Copinger, 1915 Through the Negative Megan Williams, 2003-11-12 Examines how key nineteenth century American writers attempted to combat understand and incorporate the advent of photography in their fiction and analyzes the impact of photography on narrative histories of the nineteenth century     Spoken Image Clive Scott, 1999-08-01

The Spoken Image considers the nature of photography examining the language used in titles captions and commentaries particularly as they relate to documentary photography photojournalism and fashion photography
