R101 The Airship Disaster 193:

His Majesty's Airship S C Gwynne, 2024-05-21 The tragic story of the British airship R101 which went down in a spectacular hydrogen fueled fireball in 1930 killing more people than died in the Hindenburg disaster seven years later has been largely forgotten In His Majesty's Airship historian S C Gwynne resurrects it in vivid detail telling the epic story of great ambition gone terribly wrong Airships those airborne leviathans that occupied center stage in the world in the first half of the twentieth century were a symbol of the future R101 was not just the largest aircraft ever to have flown and the product of the world's most advanced engineering she was also the lynchpin of an imperial British scheme to link by air the far flung areas of its empire from Australia to India South Africa Canada Egypt and Singapore No one had ever conceived of anything like this R101 captivated the world There was just one problem beyond the hype and technological wonders these big steel framed hydrogen filled airships were a dangerously bad idea Gwynne's chronicle features a cast of remarkable and often tragically flawed characters including Lord Christopher Thomson the man who dreamed up the Imperial Airship Scheme and then relentlessly pushed R101 to her destruction Princess Marthe Bibesco the celebrated writer and glamorous socialite with whom he had a long affair and Herbert Scott a national hero who had made the first double crossing of the Atlantic in any aircraft in 1919 eight years before Lindbergh's famous flight but who devolved into drink and ruin These historical figures and the ship they built flew and crashed come together in a grand tale that details the rocky road to commercial aviation written by one of the best popular historians writing today

When Food Kills : BSE, E.coli and disaster science T. Hugh Pennington, 2003-09-18 The food scare concept took on new meaning in 1996 which opened with variant CJD emerging as the human form of BSE and closed with Britain's worst E coli O157 outbreak in central Scotland As people died so did trust in government and science This book tells the story of these events what led up to them and what has happened since It breaks new ground by dissecting these tragedies alongside catastrophes like Aberfan Piper Alpha Chernobyl and the worst ever railway accidents in Ireland and Britain Armagh and Quintinshill as well as classical outbreaks of botulism typhoid E coli O157 and Salmonella food poisoning Britain's ability to win Nobel prizes marches with a propensity to have disasters The book explains why demonstrating failures in policy making failures in the application of science and failing inspectorates A unique feature of this book is its breadth since it covers history politics and law as well as science It also makes some fascinating connections like those between 1930's nuclear physics E coli and molecular biology and the links between manslaughter in 19th century mental hospitals syphilis the Nobel Prize and the prospects for successfully treating variant CJD Royal murderers vaccine research in Auschwitz and Buchenwald and the race to develop the atom bomb appear as well For the general reader its non technical but authoritative account of the science behind these tragedies its critical appraisal of how the government responded to them its coverage of public inquiries and its analysis of risk will be informative and stimulating Scientists will find its approach to the prion theory and the origins of BSE challenging and controversial Policy makers will find not only diagnoses of what went wrong in the past but remedies for the future

Invasion Airfields Winston Ramsey, 2017-08-30 In his 1945 report to the Combined Chiefs of Staff on the success of Operation Overlord the Supreme Commander General Eisenhower wrote that on the morning of June 9 I was able to announce that for the first time since 1940 Allied air forces were operating from France and that within three weeks of D Day 31 Allied squadrons were operating from the beach head bases In their forecasts for the first three months following D Day the planners plotted the number of the advanced landing grounds that would be required in Normandy to support the Allied air forces up to September 1944 Using maps and aerial photographs individual sites were surveyed and plans drawn up so that when each location was captured either US Aviation Engineers the Royal Engineers or RAF Airfield Construction Wings could move in without delay to begin work to build them This book tells the story of every airfield that became operational by D 90 explaining the methods used to construct them and the units that flew from them The vast majority of the temporary airstrips have now been returned to the farmland from which they came but by using engineers plans from the period and modern aerial photographs we have portrayed the sites in true After the Battle fashion as they were then and as they are today

Tragic Journeys HMSO Books, 2001 The Loss of the Titanic The story of the sinking of the Titanic as told by the official enquiry reveals some remarkable facts which have been lost in popular retellings of the story A ship of the same line only a few miles away from the Titanic as she sank should have been able to rescue passengers so why did this not happen Readers of this fascinating report will discover that many such questions remain unanswered and that the full story of a tragedy which has entered into popular mythology has by no means been told

The R 101 Disaster In the golden age of air travel the R101 was the biggest and most splendid airship in the world On the evening of the 4th October 1930 she left her mooring mast at Cardington on her ill fated journey to India As the ship ploughed on through increasingly threatening weather The Air Minister and his guests retired to their well appointed cabins Seven hours later at 2 05 am her burning frame lay shattered on a hillside in France 46 of its 54 passengers killed instantly The high hopes and ambitions of a brief but glorious era in aviation perished with them in the flames changing forever the way we would fly

Conduct Risk Management Roger Miles, 2017-01-03 Conduct risk is at the core of behavioural regulation a new approach to regulating financial services whose new agencies and public prosecutors have spread rapidly across the world Its prosecutors intervene assertively to challenge financial service providers to show clear evidence of a new customer centric approach which understands and responds to the hidden drivers of customer behaviour They use their unprecedented powers to levy very large fines and even to imprison wrongdoers often for not taking precautions rather than for any active wrongdoing Conduct Risk Management is a tool for recognizing acting on and predicting conduct risk impacts in regulated business Conduct Risk Management sees beyond econometric and other box ticking traditions of risk management Whilst protecting senior managers it helps all staff to make positive use of conduct risk to promote behaviour the regulator will accept as good as good behaviour is good business The new conduct regulations personally affect every manager in financial services and their suppliers with new regulations making senior managers liable to imprisonment for failures in organizational conduct Conduct Risk Management sets out plainly what practitioners need to know to understand the regulator s intentions to prove compliance protect competitiveness and maintain licence to operate
