Veloria,2018-11-20 Europe is a multi ethnic society experiencing a rise of anti immigration racist xenophobic discourses and right wing political rhetoric and movements proposing legislation to further solidify structural inequality and institutionalized systems of oppression that fuel educational inequities Social Justice Education in European Multi ethnic Schools brings together researchers in the fields of sociology and education to examine debates in multicultural education Drawing on critical theory the book takes an in depth look at how these challenges are being addressed or not addressed in educational contexts and in the proposed framework of intercultural education adopted as a conceptual and educational framework by the European Union over the last two decades The book begins with an analysis of the sociological models and theories of migration and their connection to multiculturalism and interculturalism It engages in the current debate between multiculturalism and interculturalism bringing to light the political rhetoric that fueled narratives about the failures of multiculturalism which ushered in the intercultural framework It puts forth a critical analysis of interculturalism linking it to neoliberalism and policies of civic integration and the concept of governmentality Advocating for a transformative framework informed in social justice education that aims to promote more equity in schools it critically analyzes and discusses intercultural education the pedagogical extension of interculturalism as per the European documents highlighting its goals pedagogies tensions and challenges Social Justice Education in European Multi ethnic Schools will be of great interest to academics researchers and scholars in the fields of intercultural multicultural and transformative education      Race, Ethnicity, and Multiculturalism Peter M. Hall,1997 This book examines how teachers administrators and educational institutions contribute to racial and ethnic inequality and offers policy and practice suggestions for change It reviews the literature the national societal and cultural contexts definitions of race and ethnicity family influences and then explores the topic in relation to teachers classrooms school programs school organization and district policy making The book concludes with recommendations on how to integrate current school restructuring with multicultural education      Racial Categorization of Multiracial Children in Schools Jane A. Chiong,1998-05-21 Multiracial students have unique needs that are not being met in schools because teachers and school personnel assume that those needs are the same as those of monoracial minority children Children of multiple races are in fact invisible in the schools On school and federal forms they are racially categorized based on one race only and such categorizations are not limited to documents Schools and teachers may unknowingly transmit monoracial identity messages to multiracial students which is problematic for some students who may want to identify with more than one race Our racial categorization process reflects the deficiencies of the concept of race in American culture and needs to be renegotiated The multiracial child is a microcosm of the American cultural identity Current racial categorization of multiracial children reflects a society that is still renegotiating its own racial and ethnic identities and these children bear the burdens of the difficulties As America continues to become increasingly populated by diverse peoples what it means to be American is in transition Americans are moving away from a fixed notion of the American cultural identity toward an expanded more inclusive resolution

Working with Multiracial Students Kendra R.

Wallace,2006-09-01 Working with Mixed Heritage Students offers a collection of writings that bridges the social science and educational literature related to mixed heritage identity development and schooling in diverse contexts As such it is the first book of its kind to provide a direct focus on multiracial ethnic identity and formal education in the United States based on the scholarship of educational researchers The two common threads linking the chapters are the flexible yet situated nature of ethnic and racial identities among mixed heritage students and the importance of theorizing social contexts when interpreting and representing identity community and belonging In addition to exploring general themes of identity development Working with Mixed Heritage Students addresses theoretical and methodological issues in conducting research on topics related to mixed heritage students as well as implications for teacher preparation and educational practice Ultimately the authors brought together in this volume share a focus on recently mixed heritage students of first or second or third generation multiracial and multiethnic descent This diversity of perspectives on such a complex topic creates a tension within the book one that naturally emerges through interdisciplinary collaboration But it is hoped that this tension is just one of many that will lead to further reflection dialogue and action by researchers and educators working with like populations

The Influence of K-12 Schooling on the Identity Development of Multiethnic Students ,2004 This study examined the influence of K 12 schooling on the racial and ethnic identity development of 23 self identified multiethnic students attending high schools across the San Francisco Bay Area All of the students participated in a semi structured interview nine participated in one of two focus groups and five completed a writing activity I approached this study with a postpositivist realist conception of identity Mohanty 2000 Moya 2000a b that takes seriously the fluidity and complexity of identities as well as their epistemic and real world significance In defining racial and ethnic identity formation I borrowed Tatum s 1997 understanding of it as the process of defining for oneself the personal significance and social meaning of belonging to a particular racial and or ethnic group p 16 The findings from this study indicate that the formal aspects of schooling e g curriculum and diversity education initiatives rarely directly influence the racial and ethnic identity development of multiethnic students They do however shape all students racial and ethnic understandings and ideologies which in turn shape the informal aspects of schooling e g interactions with peers and racial and ethnic divisions within the student body which exert direct influence over multiethnic students experiences and identities Of course schooling is not alone in shaping the racial and ethnic understandings and ideologies of the general student body other influences such as family and neighborhood context cannot be discounted Nevertheless the findings indicate that schools are sites of negotiation that these negotiations influence multiethnic students identities and that these negotiations occur in the context of and are shaped by both formal and informal aspects of schooling including but not limited to school demographics curricula race and ethnicity based student organizations and interactions between all members of the school community Policy and Practice in Multicultural and Anti-Racist Education Peter Foster, 2019-08-13 This fascinating case study first published in 1990 of how policies work out in a real school setting is placed in the context of the wider debate about multi cultural anti racist education This book also makes suggestions for the shaping of future policy This book should be of interest to lecturers and students of education and sociology Race, Ethnicity and Gender in Education Joseph Zajda, Kassie
