Race Class Women And The State:

Race, Class, and Gender in the United States Paula S. Rothenberg, 2007 This book undertakes the study of issues of race gender and sexuality within the context of class Pref Women And The State Shirin Rai, Geraldine Lievesley, 2013-07-23 Offering a wide ranging selection of case studies this book evaluates women s political social and economic involvement in Third World countries It explores both specific experiences of women as well as common themes such as identity empowerment and the conflict between tradition and modernity Race, Class, Women and the State Tanya Schecter, 1998 Examines the effect of Canadian immigration policies on both the public and the private worlds of Canadian women The Motherless State Eileen McDonagh, 2009-08-01 American women attain more professional success than most of their counterparts around the world but they lag surprisingly far behind in the national political arena Women held only 15 percent of U S congressional seats in 2006 a proportion that ranks America behind eighty two other countries in terms of females elected to legislative office A compelling exploration of this deficiency The Motherless State reveals why the United States differs from comparable democracies that routinely elect far more women to their national governing bodies and chief executive positions Explaining that equal rights alone do not ensure equal access to political office Eileen McDonagh shows that electoral gender parity also requires public policies that represent maternal traits Most other democracies she demonstrates view women as more suited to govern because their governments have taken on maternal roles through social welfare provisions gender quotas or the continuance of symbolic hereditary monarchies The United States has not adopted such policies and until it does McDonagh insightfully warns American women run for office with a troubling disadvantage Pobladoras, Indígenas, and the State Patricia Richards, 2004 This critical analysis of the role of the state diversity of women s movements and the social and political position of indigenous peoples of Latin America provides an illuminating discussion of the ways in which the state defines women s interest and constructs women s citizenship Experiencing Race, Class, and Gender in the United States Virginia Cyrus, 1997 Women and the Canadian Welfare State Patricia Marie Evans, Gerda R. Wekerle, 1997-01-01 Explains not only how women are affected by changes in policy and programming but how they can take an active role in shaping these changes Our Social World: Condensed Jeanne H. Ballantine, Keith A. Roberts, Kathleen Odell Korgen, 2019-07-09 Our Social World Condensed by Jeanne H Ballantine Keith A Roberts and Kathleen Odell Korgen inspires you to develop your sociological imaginations to see the world and personal events from a new perspective and to confront sociological issues on a day to day basis The award winning author team organizes the text around the Social World model a conceptual framework that demonstrates the relationships among individuals the micro level organizations institutions and subcultures the meso level and societies and global structures the macro level The use of the Social World Model across chapters represented in a visual diagram in the chapter openers helps you to develop the practice of using three levels of analysis and to view sociology as an integrated

Surgery and Salvation Elizabeth O'Brien,2023-10-16 In this sweeping history of reproductive surgery in Mexico Elizabeth O'Brien traces the interstices of religion reproduction and obstetric racism from the end of the Spanish empire through the post revolutionary 1930s Examining medical ideas about operations including cesarean section abortion hysterectomy and eugenic sterilization Catholic theology and notions of modernity and identity O'Brien argues that present day claims about fetal personhood are rooted in the use of surgical force against marginalized and racialized women This history illuminates the theological patriarchal and epistemological roots of obstetric violence and racism today O'Brien illustrates how ideas about maternal worth and unborn life developed in tandem Eighteenth century priests sought to save unborn souls through cesarean section while nineteenth century doctors aimed to salvage some unmarried women's social reputations via therapeutic abortion By the twentieth century eugenicists wished to regenerate the nation's racial profile in part by sterilizing women in public clinics The belief that medical interventions could redeem women children and the nation is what O'Brien refers to as salvation through surgery As operations acquired racial and religious significances Indigenous Afro Mexican and mixed race people's bodies became sites for surgical experimentation Even during periods of Church state conflict O'Brien argues the religious valences of experimental surgery manifested in embodied expressions of racialized and often coercive medical science
