Race Daze Australia In Identity Crisis:

Race Daze Jon Stratton, 1998 Stratton argues that the policy of multiculturalism operates to entrench a so called Anglo Celtic mainstream culture and relegates ethnic cultures to second class status Young People and Everyday Multiculturalism Anita Harris, 2013-05-02 Unlike as with previous generations diversity and multiculturalism are engrained in the lives of today's urban youth Within their culturally diverse urban environments young people from different backgrounds now routinely encounter one another in their everyday lives and negotiate and contest ways of living together and sharing civic space What are their strategies for producing disrupting and living well with difference how do they create inclusive forms of belonging and what are the conditions that militate against social cohesion amongst youth This unique ethnography from education and cultural studies expert Anita Harris explores the ways young people manage conditions of cultural diversity in multicultural cities and suburbs focusing particularly on how young people in the multicultural cities of Australia experience define and produce mix conflict community and citizenship This book illuminates rich local approaches to living with difference from the perspective of a generation uniquely positioned to address this global challenge The European Diaspora in Australia Bruno Mascitelli, Sonia Mycak, Gerardo Papalia, 2016-05-11 This volume provides a contemporary reflection on the journey of many former European communities that migrated to Australia in the post war period and their stories of settlement assimilation and integration The chapters provide perspectives from a range of disciplines and approaches across different communities There are common themes that emerge as well as unique issues which define these communities Mediating Multiculturalism Daniella Trimboli, 2020-08-04 Using digital storytelling a new media genre that began in California in the late 1990s and that proliferated across the West in the 2000s as a site of analysis this book asks What is done in the name of the everyday Like everyday multiculturalism digital storytelling is promoted as an accessible enabling and ordinary phenomenon that represents cultural experience more accurately than official sites As such the genre frequently houses stories of migration community and ethnic and racial differences In turn digital story collections often act as digital monuments or repositories of multiculturalism giving a digital life to narratives of migration cultural difference and national belonging This is evidenced in one of the world's largest public collections of digital stories found in the Australian Centre for the Moving Image ACMI and referenced throughout this book Using examples from this collection and pointing to comparable ones in the UK and North America this book investigates how notions of the everyday become a channel through which certain long standing discourses of race get redeployed in multicultural nations What can digital storytelling teach us about the status and future of multiculturalism in these societies Can digital storytelling re mediate multiculturalism in new progressive ways Zainichi Korean Identity and Ethnicity, On Not Speaking Chinese Ien Ang, 2005-07-08 In this major new book leading cultural thinker Ien Ang engages with urgent questions of identity in an age of globalisation and diaspora The starting point for Ang's discussion is the experience of visiting Taiwan Ang a person of Chinese descent born in Indonesia and raised in the Netherlands found herself faced with an almost insurmountable difficulty surrounded by people who expected her to speak to them in Chinese. She writes: It was the beginning of an almost decade long engagement with the predicaments of Chineseness in diaspora. In Taiwan I was different because I couldn't speak Chinese; in the West I was different because I looked Chinese. From this autobiographical beginning, Ang goes on to reflect upon tensions between Asia and the West at a national and global level and to consider the disparate meanings of Chineseness in the contemporary world. She offers a critique of the increasingly aggressive construction of a global Chineseness and challenges Western tendencies to equate Chinese with Asian identity. Ang then turns to the West, exploring the paradox of Australia's identity as a Western country in the Asian region and tracing Australia's uneasy relationship with its Asian neighbours from the White Australia policy to contemporary multicultural society. Finally, Ang draws together her discussion of Asia and the West to consider the social and intellectual space of the in-between, arguing for a theorising not of difference but of togetherness in contemporary societies.

Anxious Histories Jordana Silverstein, 2015-04-01 Over the last seventy years, memories and narratives of the Holocaust have played a significant role in constructing Jewish communities. The author explores one field where these narratives are disseminated: Holocaust pedagogy in Jewish schools in Melbourne and New York. Bringing together a diverse range of critical approaches including memory studies, gender studies, diaspora theory and settler colonial studies, Anxious Histories complicates the stories being told about the Holocaust in these Jewish schools and their broader communities. It demonstrates that an anxious thread runs throughout these historical narratives as the pedagogy negotiates feelings of simultaneous belonging and not belonging in the West and in Zionism. In locating that anxiety, the possibilities and the limitations of narrating histories of the Holocaust are opened up once again for analysis, critique, discussion and development.

Approaching Transnationalisms Brenda Yeoh, Michael W. Charney, Tong Chee Kiong, 2011-06-28 The term transnationalism has gained considerable academic and popular currency despite a lack of clear definitions, in part because its overall form changes as its influence incorporates additional spheres of daily life on a variety of scales and contexts. The purpose of this volume is to bring together different perspectives on this phenomenon using case studies that represent some of the most current thinking on transnationalism in a wide range of disciplines. Central themes which this book explores include legal and economic reactions to transnational migration, the re-negotiation of identities in the context of changing national, social and cultural identities and the emergence of new imaginings of home and social space in transnational communities. Approaching Transnationalisms: Studies on Transnational Societies, Multicultural Contacts and Imaginings of Home foregrounds powerful transnational forces crossing the boundaries of nation-states and at the same time gives attention to the continued significance of the nation-state and the diversity of localized reactions to transnational challenges.

Global Fragments, 2007-01-01 While the world seems to be getting ever smaller and globalization has become the ubiquitous buzz word, regionalism and fragmentation also abound. This might be due to the fact that far from being the alleged production of cultural homogeneity the global is constantly re defined and altered through the local This tension pervading much of contemporary culture has an obvious special relevance for the new varieties of English and the literature published in English world wide Postcolonial literatures exist at the interface of English as a hegemonic medium and its many national regional and local competitors that transform it in the new English literatures Thus any exploration of a globalization of cultures has to take into account the fact that culture is a complex field characterized by hybridization plurality and difference But while global or transnational cultures may allow for a new cosmopolitanism that produces ever changing fluid identities they do not give rise to an egalitarian global village an asymmetry between centre and periphery remains largely intact albeit along new parameters The essays collected in this volume offer readings of literary theoretical and filmic texts from the postcolonial world These texts are read as attempts to articulate the global with the local from a perspective of immersion in the actual diversity of life worlds focusing on such issues as consumption identity politics and modes of affiliation In this sense they are global fragments locally refracted figurations of an experience of world wide interconnectedness

Floating Lives Stuart Cunningham, John Sinclair, 2001 This is an examination of media and communication within diasporic ethnic communities in Australia the Chinese Indian Vietnamese and Thai communities The study explores the ethnic community as a force in negotiating new hybrid identities and experiences common to diasporic groups worldwide

Readings of the Particular, 2007-01-01 The present collection aims at throwing light on transculturality and the identities and masks that people put on in writing as much as in life in an age of global levelling and the struggle for a particular place in a postcolonial world Topics covered include North African identity in France cultural citizenship and the Asian diaspora novels of beur self identity by Maghrebi immigrants in France Scottish fiction Britain and Empire memory amnesia and the re invention of the past in South Africa the Caribbean and elsewhere borders necrophilia and history in Southern African fiction encodings of female control spectating in black documentary cinema theatre performance and the Western presence in Africa masks history transtextuality and other aspects of Irish poetry and drama the masking and unmasking of identity in the African American novel violence and Titus Andronicus in black Nova Scotian poetry notions of the national and of indigeneity in contemporary Canadian drama Native Canadians space and the city Authors and artists treated include William Boyd Andr Brink George Elliott Clarke David Dabydeen Ralph Ellison Bessie Head Seamus Heaney Tomson Highway Isaac Julien Daniel David Moses Paul Muldoon Albert Murray Jean Rhys Sir Walter Scott Robert Louis Stevenson Richard Wright and W B Yeats

Gender and Rurality Lia Bryant, Barbara Pini, 2010-09-13 The study of gender in rural spaces is still in its infancy Thus far there has been little exploration of the constitution of the varied and differing ways that gender is constituted in rural settings This book will place the question of gender rurality and difference at its center The authors examine theoretical constructions of gender and explore the relationship between these and rural spaces While there have been extensive debates in the feminist literature about gender and the intersection of multiple social categories rural feminist social scientists have yet to theorize what gender means in a rural context and how gender blurs and intersects with other social categories such as sexuality ethnicity class and disability This book will use empirical examples from a range of research projects undertaken by the authors as well as illustrations from work in the Australasia region Europe and the United States to explore gender and rurality and their relation to sexuality ethnicity class and disability

Honneth and Everyday Intercultural (Mis)Recognition Bona Anna, 2018-02-21 This book conducts a critical investigation into everyday intercultural recognition and misrecognition in the domain of paid work utilising social philosopher Axel Honneth's recognition theory as its theoretical foundation In so doing it also reveals the sophistication and productivity of Honneth's recognition model for multiculturalism scholarship Honneth and Everyday Intercultural Mis Recognition is concerned with the redress of intercultural related injustice and more widely the effective integration of ethically and culturally diverse societies Bona Anna analyses the everyday experiences of cross cultural misrecognition in a distinctive ethno cultural group including social norms that have been marginalised in the contexts of employment In this endeavour she deploys key constructs from Honneth's theory to argue for individual and social integration to be conceptualised as a process of inclusion through stable forms of recognition rather than as a process of inclusion through forms of group representation and participation This book will appeal to students and academics of multiculturalism interested in learning more about the usefulness of Honneth's recognition theory in intercultural inquiry including the ways in which it can circumvent some of the impasses of classical multiculturalism

Coming Out Jewish Jon Stratton, 2003-09-02 Like many Jews of our generation Jon Stratton grew up in a family more concerned about assimilation than about preserving Jewish tradition While he could easily pass among non Jews he found himself increasingly torn between his fear of not belonging and a deeply felt commitment to his family's past Coming Out Jewish examines the unique challenge of constructing an identity amid the clash between ethnicity and conformity For many Jews the idea of full assimilation ended with the Holocaust But the pressure to adapt to the mainstream Stratton eloquently argues remains powerful especially for those with anglicized names assimilationist parents a history of recent immigration or ambivalent experiences of themselves as Jews With reference to the work of Daniel Boyarin Ien Ang and Homi Bhabha among others Stratton offers fresh analysis on a wide range of topics including the Jewish origins of pluralism in the US anti-Semitism in Germany the Jewishness of sitcoms like Seinfeld and the Yiddishization of American culture since World War II More than a book about Jews and Jewishness Coming Out Jewish smartly and accurately mines the Jewish experience in the West to give voice to the issues of migration Diaspora assimilation and identity that affect those displaced and othered around the world
