Race, Law and Hypercriminality Sarah

Corbett-Batson, 2025-08-08 This book considers how neoliberal criminal law constructs racialised hypercriminals In a world of fake news and virtual reality where social media posts seem more real than the materiality of racial capitalism this book develops the idea of hypercriminality as a means of explaining how racial disproportionalities in the criminal legal system persist despite discourses of a post racial meritocracy Drawing on critical race theory the work of Judith Butler and Jean Baudrillard's conception of the hyperreal the book considers how neoliberal legal discourse constructs and reproduces hyperreal racialised legal subjects The simulated violent figure of the racialised gang member rioter drug dealer or sexual predator is made to appear real through legal and evidential concepts such as dangerousness or bad character The belief that this simulation is real is deployed to justify the carceral state and masks the structural and racialised violence of capitalism itself Revealing the hypercriminality of racialised legal subjects the book thus offers a timely critical legal intervention that aims to advance the urgent project of decarceration abolition and transformative justice The book will appeal to scholars and students working in the areas of criminal law and evidence criminology criminal justice socio legal studies and critical race theory

Judaism, Race, and Ethics

Jonathan K. Crane, 2020-03-30 Recent political and social developments in the United States reveal a deep misunderstanding of race and religion From the highest echelons of power to the most obscure corners of society color and conviction are continually twisted often deliberately for nefarious reasons or misconstrued to stymie meaningful conversation This timely book wrestles with the contentious dynamic and ethically complicated relationship between race and religion through the lens of Judaism Featuring essays by lifelong participants in discussions about race religion and society including Susannah Heschel Sander L Gilman and George Yancy this vibrant book aims to generate a compelling conversation vitally relevant to both the academy and the community Starting from the premise that understanding prejudice and oppression requires multifaceted critical reflection and a willingness to acknowledge one's own bias the contributors to this volume present surprising arguments that disentangle fictions factions and facts The topics they explore include the role of Jews and Jewish ethics in the civil rights movement race and the construction of American Jewish identity rituals of commemoration celebrating Jewish and black American resilience the Yiddish gaze on lynchings of black bodies and the portrayal of racism as a mental illness from nineteenth century Vienna to twenty first century Charlottesville Each essay is linked to a classic Jewish source and accompanied by guiding questions that help the reader identify salient themes connecting ancient and contemporary concerns In addition to the editor the contributors include Sander L Gilman Annalise E Glauz Todrank Aaron S Gross Susannah Heschel Sarah Imhoff Willa M Johnson Judith W Kay Jessica Kirzane Nichole Ren e Phillips and George Yancy

Voices of the Race, 2022-09-01

Voices of the Race offers English translations of more than one hundred articles published in Black newspapers in Argentina Brazil Cuba and Uruguay from 1870 to 1960 Those publications were as important in Black community and intellectual life in Latin America as African American newspapers were in the United States yet they are almost completely unknown to English language readers Expertly curated the articles are organized into chapters centered on themes that emerged in the Black press politics and citizenship racism and anti racism family and education community life women Africa and African culture diaspora and Black internationalism and arts and literature Each chapter includes an introduction explaining how discussions on those topics evolved over time and a list of questions to provoke further reflection Each article is carefully edited and annotated footnotes and a glossary explain names events and other references that will be unfamiliar to English language readers A unique fascinating insight into the rich body of Black cultural and intellectual production across Latin America

Race Kenneth Leech, 2005-09 Race does not exist Yet in this extraordinary book Ken Leech exposes how racism grips the imaginations of Christian and non Christian alike shaping our relations with one another and having disastrous results not only in neighborhoods but in foreign policies Pauline like Leech helps us see that race is a power all the more perverse because it is not acknowledged as such In conversation with the best work in science social theory and theology Leech challenges the presumption that we have somehow gotten beyond racialized thinking Moreover drawing on his extraordinary pastoral experience he helps us see a way beyond race This book should be read in both England and America as both countries in quite different ways continue to be dominated by racialized practice The New Voice in Race Adjustments

Arcadius McSwain Trawick, 1914 Youth and the Race National Council of Public Morals. National Birth

Rate-Commission, James Machant (Sir), 1923 Transforming Race Conversations Eugene Ellis, 2024-07-30 A guide to supporting our emergence from the tight grip of race discomfort If we are to address the injustice of racism we need to have the race conversation All too often however attempts at this conversation are met with silence denial anger or hate This is largely because the construct of race resides not only in our minds but principally in the body In order to have productive conversations about race and racism a paradigm shift is needed one which will empower us to remain present and embodied rather than constricted with fear regardless of our racial identities Here psychotherapist Eugene Ellis explores what is needed for this bodily shift to occur as he unpacks the visceral experience of the race conversation He offers a trauma informed neurophysiological approach that emphasizes resourcing body awareness mindfulness and healing Transforming Race Conversations is essential reading for therapy practitioners as well as anyone looking to engage more effectively in the ongoing dialogue around race Strategic Weapons Proposals United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations, 1981 Nomination of Edward L. Rowley United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations, 1981

Race and Place Deirdre Mayer Dougherty, 2025-08-12 Race and Place considers the everyday experiences of community members throughout the process of school desegregation and how race place and truth came to matter in this process in Prince George's County Maryland from 1945 through 1973 The book is organized around several successive policies that emerged in this time school equalization school choice neighborhood schools school construction school closure busing for racial integration and school discipline Dougherty shows how these policies contained and reinforced assumptions about place and created new racial truths about people and schooling

Devaluing Black Space Courtney Marie Bonam, 2010

Do spaces have races Why might space race associations matter Across four studies participants attached racial meaning to a range of locations as well as negatively stereotyped and reported feeling less connected to Black spaces in particular Negative stereotyping and lack of connection to Black space explained why these spaces experienced both housing and environmental discrimination Studies 1 and 2 participants generated raced spaces and then rated the extent to which they thought of these locations i.e. inner cities suburbs as White or Black The more Black spaces were the less White they were showing participants made clear distinctions between these two types of spaces Further the Black spaces were rated more negatively than the White spaces showing participants devalued Black space Study 3 expanded this finding by manipulating the race of one location a house for sale by a Black or White family Participants gave the Black house relative to the White a lower evaluation i.e. they thought it was worth less and were less eager to move there The Black house received this lower evaluation because participants negatively stereotyped it They imagined the neighborhood surrounding it to be lower quality than the neighborhood they imagined around the White house i.e. less safe lower quality schools and municipal services Additionally participants reported feeling less connected to the neighborhood around the Black house which also helped to explain its lower evaluation Study 4 participants again discriminated against Black space this time in the environmental domain Participants read a proposal to place a potentially polluting chemical plant near a majority Black or White neighborhood They reported less opposition to this plant when the nearby neighborhood was Black This Black space received less environmental protection because participants were more likely to think it already housed other industrial facilities industrial space stereotype and again because they reported feeling less connected to it These results are important not only because they expand theory on racial discrimination stereotyping and sense of place but also because they provide an enhanced understanding of the causal role race plays in producing and maintaining disparities in access to high quality healthy living spaces

'Race', Sport and British Society Ben Carrington, Ian McDonald, 2002-01-04

Contrary to the popular belief that sport is an arena largely free from the corrosive effects of racism this book argues that racism is evident throughout British sport From playing fields and boardrooms of sports organisations to the offices of sports policy makers and the media this book breaks new ground in showing how discourses of race and nation continue to pervade our sporting life Looking at a range of sports including football rugby league and cricket this book covers key topics such as British nationalism and nationalist ideology racial science and the images of Asian and black physicality sport racism and the law black feminism and the issues of race gender and sport the role of the media in perpetuating and challenging racial stereotypes Challenging the prevailing liberal view that sport is one area of society where good race relations are developed this book offers a wealth of research material and a strong theoretical perspective on contemporary British sport It will therefore be of vital interest to sociologists sports studies students sport policy makers and anyone with an interest in contemporary British sport The International Quarterly
