Current Contents. Arts & Humanities Institute for Scientific Information,1998      African American Anti-colonial Thought 1917-1937 Cathy Bergin,2016 An investigation of interwar African American critiques of racism and colonialism This volume re publishes key texts produced by African American anti colonial activists between 1917 1937 Some of these texts remain well known but many have disappeared from view and are once again re inserted in their original polemical contexts The context for these writings is the turbulent politics of race in the US in the interwar years and the emergence of a particular race class politics The framing of the material in the book stresses those texts which are specifically concerned with finding connections between the plight of African Americans and those who suffer colonial oppression in order to emphasise the dialectical nature of anti colonial struggle The intention of many of these writers was to create a space for interracial class politics Despite or because of the complexities of negotiating race class and colonialism this material gives us access to an historically specific attempt to create a race class politics attuned to the challenges of confronting racism of the USA and beyond Key Features Introduces a powerful but neglected tradition of African American anti colonial writing Locates African American anti colonial writing of the interwar years in both a US and global context Stresses the dialectical nature of the relationship between anti colonial politics and political activism Reflects upon the relevance of interwar African American anti colonial writings to contemporary debates about racism and neo colonialism Emphasises the relationship between African American politics and the Left during this period      African American Anti-Colonial Thought 1917-1937 Cathy Bergin,2016
