Races of Britain J. Beddoe,1971      The Races of Britain John Beddoe,2018-10-08 John Beddoe 1826 1911 was Britain s foremost anthropologist who specialized in the study of race craniology and racial origins The Races of Britain A Contribution to the Anthropology of Western Europe was his first complete overview of the racial and sub racial makeup of the British Isles His primary means of measure was skull and hair eye colour combinations Through cross testing with the European continent he found that the original inhabitants of Britain had been dark haired and dark eyed and that the greater part of the blond population of modern Britain derive their ancestry from the Anglo Saxons and Scandinavians Furthermore he found the proportion of English and Scotch blood in the present inhabitants of Ireland is probably not much less than a third Beddoe also found that dark haired population was re occupying Britain by a reflux migration and that their numbers would steadily increase over time His conclusions have since been verified by DNA testing which serves as a testament to the thoroughness of his research This is a valuable work which serves as a testament to the original make up of the British people and will serve as beacon of the past pointing into the future as mass Third World immigration changes the racial make up of Britain in the present day Classic European anthropology at its best      Anthropology and Race in Belgium and the Congo (1839-1922) Maarten Couttenier,2023-11-03 This book examines the history of Belgian physical anthropology in the long nineteenth century and discusses how the notion of race structured Belgian pasts and presents as well as relations between metropole and empire In a context of competing European nationalisms Belgian anthropologists mainly used physical characters like skull form and the color of hair and eyes to delimitate races which were believed to be permanent and existent Their belief in a supposed racial superiority was however above all telling about their own origins and physical characters Although it is often assumed that these ideas were subsequently transferred to the colony the case of Belgian colonization in Congo shows that colonial administrators at least in theory were reluctant to use the idea of permanent races because they needed the possibility of evolution to legitimize their actions as part of a civilizing mission In reality however colonization was based on military occupation and economic exploitation with devastating effects This book analyzes how in this violent context widespread racial prejudices in fact dehumanized Congolese This not only allowed colonizers to act inhuman but also reduced Congolese or their body parts to objects that could be measured photographed casted and collected This volume will be of use to students and scholars alike interested in social and cultural history as well as imperial and colonial history

The Races of Europe Richard McMahon, 2016-11-15 This book explores a vital but neglected chapter in the histories of nationalism racism and science It is the first comprehensive study of the transnational scientific community that in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries attempted to classify Europe's biological races Anthropological race classifiers produced parallel geographies histories and hierarchies of European peoples that were crucial to the creation of national identities and to the overtly political race discourses of eugenics and popular racist ideologues They lent nationalism the invaluable prestige of natural science and traced the histories conflicts and relationships of national races back into prehistory Racial national character stereotypes meanwhile supported competing political ideologies The book examines the interplay between class gender and national identity narratives and the tensions and interactions between the scientific and political agendas of classifiers Within the elaborate transnational networks of scientific communities for example they had to reconcile competing national narratives

The Races of Britain John Beddoe, 1971 Colonialism, World Literature, and the Making of the Modern Culture of Letters Baidik Bhattacharya, 2024-02-08 In a radical and ambitious reconceptualization of the field this book argues that global literary culture since the eighteenth century was fundamentally shaped by colonial histories It offers a comprehensive account of the colonial inception of the literary sovereign how the realm of literature was thought to be separate from history and politics and then follows that narrative through a wide array of different cultures multilingual archives and geographical locations Providing close studies of colonial archives German philosophy of aesthetics French realist novels and English literary history this book shows how colonialism shaped and reshaped modern literary cultures in decisive ways It breaks fresh ground across disciplines such as literary studies anthropology history and philosophy and invites one to rethink the history of literature in a new light

Race, Racism and Psychology

Graham Richards,2012-03-15 This book offers a comprehensive overview of the ways in which Psychology has engaged with race and racism issues since the late 19th century It emphasizes the complexities and convolutions of the story and attempts to elucidate the subtleties and occasional paradoxes that have arisen as a result This new edition updates the research contained in the first edition and includes brand new chapters These additional chapters draw attention to the importance of the South African Black Consciousness movement and Post colonial Psychology explore recent additional historical research on the fears of hybridisation contain new material on French colonial psychiatry and discuss the awkward status of virtually all the language and terms currently used for discussion of the topic This important and controversial book has proved to be a vital text both as a point of departure for more in depth inquiries and also as an essential reference tool The additional up to date material included in this new edition makes the book an even more valuable resource to those working in and studying psychology and also for anyone concerned with the race issue either professionally or personally Dictionary Catalogue ... Illinois State Library,1894 Dictionary Catalogue of the Illinois State Library Illinois State Library,1912 Anglo-Jewry since 1066 Tony Kushner,2013-07-19 Anglo Jewry since 1066 Place locality and memory is a study of the history and memory of Anglo Jewry from medieval times to the present and is the first to explore the construction of identities both Jewish and non Jewish in relation to the concept of place The introductory chapters provide a theoretical overview focusing on the nature of local studies then moves into a chronological frame starting with medieval Winchester moving to early modern Portsmouth and then chapters covering the evolution of Anglo Jewry from emancipation to the twentieth century Emphasis is placed on the impact on identities resulting from the complex relationship between migration including transmigration and settlement of minority groups Drawing upon a wide range of approaches including history cultural and literary studies geography Jewish and ethnic and racial studies Kushner uses extensive sources including novels poems art travel literature autobiographical writing official documentation newspapers and census data This book will appeal to scholars interested in Jewish studies and British history Oceania and the Victorian Imagination Peter H.

Hoffenberg,2016-05-23 Oceania or the South Pacific loomed large in the Victorian popular imagination It was a world that interested the Victorians for many reasons all of which suggested to them that everything was possible there This collection of essays focuses on Oceania s impact on Victorian culture most notably travel writing photography international exhibitions literature and the world of children Each of these had significant impact The literature discussed affected mainly the middle and upper classes while exhibitions and photography reached down into the working classes as did missionary presentations The experience of children was central to the Pacific s effects as youthful encounters at exhibitions chapel home or school formed lifelong impressions and experience It would be difficult to fully understand the Victorians as they understood themselves without considering their engagement with Oceania While the contributions of India and Africa to the nineteenth century imagination have been well documented examinations of the contributions of Oceania have remained on the periphery of Victorian studies Oceania and the Victorian Imagination contributes significantly to our discussion of the non peripheral place of Oceania in Victorian culture
