Racing Calendar ,1872 Past Tense Bob Levy, 2002 Adam Baldwin in the middle of his seventh term as a United States Senator is at the pinnacle of his career And he is the front runner for his party's nomination for President at the looming Democratic National Convention. But a dark cloud hangs over his head. There is a seemingly far-fetched accusation that the candidate murdered a young woman decades before when in college. This is scoffed at by the local police but when a suspicious explosion kills the accuser's family the curiosity of the retired Memphis Chief of Police Joe O'Riley, a high school classmate of Baldwin's, is aroused. O'Riley senses truth in the allegations especially after a woman reports knowledge of the same murder. Yet how could the man who made the accusation and this woman know such vivid details of the murder when neither was alive at the time it happened. And how could they know details of O'Riley's past known only to himself. Might all this be a link to an unsolved missing person case O'Riley's first as a rookie cop that had haunted him his whole career. Death and destruction stalk the couple as O'Riley jumps into the fray determined to find out the truth before the country elects a murderer as the next President of the United States.

Knowing the Past Suzy Anger, 2018-08-06 To what extent is it possible to know the past or to know other cultures. Can one describe the past without imposing one's own cultural, political, social or personal preconceptions. Testing the current skepticism that insists that it is impossible not to read one's own moment onto other times and cultures, the essays in this collection use the Victorian era as a means of developing a theory and critique of historical reclamation. In Knowing the Past a distinguished group of Victorian scholars reflect on the Victorian past and examine the Victorians' own sophisticated contributions to debates about historical and cultural knowledge. Confronting, confirming and opposing the skeptics, the essays provide close readings of particular texts. They encompass the larger constellation of ideas and questions that went into the making of the texts while participating in larger theoretical debates about knowledge of the past and other cultures.
