Family Ministry Charles M. Sell, 1995-02-28 A practical resource for developing congregational stability this updated book guides your church toward being capable of encouraging and sustaining healthy family life Racing Toward Zero Kelly Senecal, Felix Leach, 2021-06-01 In Racing Toward Zero the authors explore the issues inherent in developing sustainable transportation They review the types of propulsion systems and vehicle options discuss low carbon fuels and alternative energy sources and examine the role of regulation in curbing emissions All technologies have an impact on the environment from internal combustion engine vehicles to battery electric vehicles fuel cell electric vehicles and hybrids there is no silver bullet The battery electric vehicle may seem the obvious path to a sustainable carbon free transportation future but it is not the only nor necessarily the best path forward The vast majority of vehicles today use the internal combustion engine ICE and this is unlikely to change anytime soon Improving the ICE and its fuels entering a new ICE age must be a main route on the road to zero emissions How do we go green The future requires a balanced approach to transportation It is not a matter of choosing between combustion or electrification it is combustion and electrification As the authors say The future is eclectic By harnessing the best qualities of both technologies we will be in the best position to address our transportation future as quickly as possible ISBN 9781468601466 ISBN 9781468601473 ISBN 9781468602005 DOI 10 4271 9781468601473 Racing to the Bottom? Kathryn Harrison, 2011-11-01 The spectre of a race to the bottom is increasingly prominent in debates about globalization and also within federal systems where the mobility of both capital and individuals prompts fears of interjurisdictional competition with respect to taxes and environmental and welfare standards While there has been no shortage of either political rhetoric or academic theorizing on this subject empirical studies have been in shorter supply This volume seeks to fill that gap by asking Are Canadian provinces engaged in a race to the bottom and if so what are the consequences The contributors apply insights from economics and political science to several policy fields What emerges is a theoretical and empirical picture of interprovincial competition that shows it to be more complex than the popular image of a race to the bottom and that also contradicts predictions of an inexorable downward spiral This timely practical volume will be of interest to public policy practitioners as well as to students and scholars of economics and political science

Racing to Justice John A. Powell, 2024-11-19 In Racing to Justice renowned social justice advocate John A. Powell persuasively argues that we have yet to achieve a truly post racial society and that there is much work to be done to redeem the American promise of inclusive democracy Gathered from a decade of writing about social justice and spirituality these meditations on race identity and social policy provide an outline for laying claim to our shared humanity and a way toward healing ourselves and securing our future With an updated foreword and a new chapter on polarization this new edition continues to challenge us to replace the attitudes and institutions that promote and perpetuate social suffering with those that foster relationships and a way of being that transcends disconnection and separation Racing to Justice is a thought provoking book that offers readers a look into the issues that continue to plague our society It is reminder that we have yet to address and reckon with the challenges we face in providing equal opportunities for all people in this country and the world

Racing to the Top William R. Thompson, Leila Zakhirova, 2019 In the international political economy of the last two millennia there tends to be one state leading the world as the foremost producer of energy and new technology In Racing to the Top William R Thompson and Leila Zakhirova argue that the US and China like previous leading countries rely on energy transition or the development of alternative energy in order to make new technology relatively inexpensive to develop and to fuel While the US has historically held the lead its edge in the global energy economy appears to be eroding and as energy leadership diminishes so does the country s position in world politics Thompson and Zakhirova take a long view in order to show what will be necessary for a new power to emerge as the system leader then map a path forward for energy policy Informed by a deep knowledge of world history political economy and environmental technology this book is the first complete overview of energy transitions over the past thousand years
