Seth Low:

Seth Low Benjamin Robbins Curtis Low, 1925 Seth Low: the Reformer in an Urban and Industrial Age Gerald Kurland, 1971 Our Firemen Brooklyn (New York, N.Y.). Fire Department, 1892 Annual Message of Hon. Seth Low, Mayor of Brooklyn Seth Low, 1885 Columbiana Charles Alexander Nelson, 1904 Broken Knowledge Younglae Kim, 1997 Broken Knowledge explores the impacts of the scientific and scholarly ideal of the modern university on theological education at Union Theological Seminary from 1887-1926. During this period the marks of the modern university specialization, the elective system, professionalization, and the empirical research orientation were incorporated into theological education. While vigorously implanting the new university's structural and functional patterns into theological education, the seminary and its theologians strove to bring theological discussions into the arena of secularized academia to achieve independence from church dogmatism, to expand the scope of theological outlook in social domains, and to bind science and religion together. Without doubt, these efforts deserve due recognition. However, it is also undeniable that the current problems in theological education, the fragmentation of the theological curriculum, and the loss of a holistic search for religious truth have to do with the seminary's adaptation to the new university ideal, such as uncritical specialization and narrow modern epistemology at the turn of the century. This book explores how the decline of theology or the sacred in our modern world is connected with the dominance of modern scientific ways of knowing in our search for truth and the lack of holistic approaches to the issue of faith and knowledge. This book searches for the recovery of wholeness in theological education and higher learning in general. Seth Low's Letter Accepting the Nomination for Mayor Offered to Him by the United Organizations Opposed to Tammany Hall Seth Low, 1901 Morningside Heights Andrew S. Dolkart, 2001-03-15 Few aspects of American military history have been as vigorously debated as Harry Truman's decision to use atomic bombs against Japan. In this carefully crafted volume, Michael Kort describes the wartime circumstances and thinking that form the context for the decision to use these weapons, surveys the major debates related to that decision, and provides a comprehensive collection of key primary source documents that illuminate the behavior of the United States and Japan during the closing days of World War II. Kort opens with a summary of the debate over Hiroshima as it has evolved since 1945. He then provides a historical overview of the events in question, beginning with the decision and program to build the atomic bomb. Detailing the sequence of events leading to Japan's surrender, he revisits the decisive battles of the Pacific War and the motivations of American and Japanese leaders. Finally, Kort examines ten key issues in the discussion of Hiroshima and guides readers to relevant primary source documents, scholarly books, and articles. Address of Honorable Seth Low of New York City, at Crown Point, July 5, 1909 Seth Low, 1909 State of New York Supreme Court, The American Monthly Review of Reviews Albert Shaw, 1899 Speech of Hon.
