Look Out By Water:

Look Out by Water Helena Ramsay, 2003 Look Out by Water is a no nonsense book with a strong safety message for young children about how they should avoid potentially dangerous situations near water The narrative throughout is in simple straightforward language which is undramatic and reassuring whilst stressing the dangers that seemingly familiar situations can hold for children A mixture of running narrative and speech bubbles has been specially developed in association with the National Centre for Language and Literacy Reading Reading Centre to draw in both confident and less able readers Specially commissioned photographs are combined with child centred artwork to support the text and re iterate the safety message

Irrigation Systems Adrian Laycock, 2007-01-01 Of all the confrontations man has engineered with nature irrigation systems have had the most widespread and far reaching impact on the natural environment Over a quarter of a billion hectares of the planet are irrigated and entire countries depend on irrigation for their survival and existence Considering the importance of irrigation schemes it is unfortunate that until recently the technology and principles of design applied to their construction has hardly changed in 4 000 years Modern thinking on irrigation engineering has benefited from a cross fertilization of ideas from many other fields including social sciences control theory political economics and agriculture However these influences have been largely ignored by irrigation engineers Drawing on almost 40 years of experience of irrigation in the developing world Laycock introduces new ideas on the design of irrigation systems and combines important issues from the disciplines of social conflict management and political thinking

page turning memoir about a young woman s grueling revelatory summers working alone in a remote lookout tower and her eyewitness account of the increasingly unpredictable nature of wildfire in the Canadian north While growing up in Peace River Alberta Trina Moyles heard many stories of Lookout Observers strange eccentric types who spent five month summers alone climbing 100 foot high towers and watching for signs of fire in the surrounding boreal forest How could you isolate yourself for that long she wondered I could never do it she told herself Craving a deeper sense of purpose she left northern Alberta to pursue a decade long career in global humanitarian work After three years in East Africa and newly engaged Trina returned to Peace River with a plan to sponsor her fiance Akello s immigration to Canada Despite her fear of being alone in the woods she applied for a seasonal lookout position and got the job Thus begins Trina s first summer as one of a handful of lookouts scattered throughout Alberta with only a farm dog Holly labeled a domesticated wolf by her former owners to keep her company While searching for smoke Trina unravels under the pressure of a long distance relationship and a dawning awareness of the environmental crisis that climate change is producing in the boreal Through megafires lightning storms and stunning encounters with wildlife she learns to survive at the fire tower by forging deep connections with nature and with an extraordinary community of people dedicated to wildfire detection and combat In isolation she discovers a kind of self awareness and freedom that only solitude can deliver Lookout is a riveting story of loss transformation and belonging to oneself layered with an eyewitness account of the destructive and regenerative power of wildfire in our northern forests
