Making Babies Sandra Sabatini, 2006-01-01 Although the infant has been a consistent figure in literature and for many people a significant figure in personal life there's been little attention focused on infants or on their place in Canadian fiction until now In this book Sandra Sabatini examines Canadian fiction to trace the ideological charge behind the represented infant Examining writers from L M Montgomery and Frederick Philip Grove to Thomas King and Terry Griggs Sabatini compares women's writing about babies with the way infants appear in texts by men over the course of a century She discovers a range of changing attitudes toward babies After being seen as a source of financial burden social shame or sentimental fantasy infants have increasingly become a source of value and meaning The book challenges the perception of babies as passive objects of care and argues for a reading of the infant as a subject in itself It also reflects upon how the representations of infancy in Canadian literature offer an intriguing portrait of how we imagine ourselves Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists Tim Woods, 2008-02-21 Taking in novelists from all over the globe from the beginning of the century to the present day this is the most comprehensive survey of the leading lights of twentieth century fiction Superb breadth of coverage and over 800 entries by an international team of contributors ensures that this fascinating and wide ranging work of reference will be invaluable to anyone with an interest in modern fiction Authors included range from Joseph Conrad to Albert Camus and Franz Kafka to Chinua Achebe Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists gives a superb insight into the richness and diversity of the twentieth century novel Roads of Her Own Alexandra Ganser, 2009-01-01 Reading Jack Kerouac's classic On the Road through Virginia Woolf's canonical A Room of One's Own the author of this book examines a genre in North American literature which despite its popularity has received little attention in literary and cultural criticism women's road narratives The study shows how women's literature has inscribed itself into the American discourse of the Whitmanesque open road or more generally the freedom of the road Women writers have participated in this powerful American myth yet at the same time also have rejected that myth as fundamentally based on gendered and racial ethnic hierarchies and power structures and modified it in the process of writing back to it The book analyzes stories about female runaways outlaws questers adventurers kidnappees biker chicks travelling saleswomen and picaras and makes theoretical observations on the debates regarding discourses of spatiality and mobility debates which have defined the so called spatial turn in the humanities The analytical concept of transdifference is introduced to theorize the dissonant plurality of social and cultural affiliations as well as the narrative tensions produced by such pluralities in order to better understand the textual worlds of women's multiple belongings as they are present in these writings Roads of Her Own is thus not only situated in the broader context of a constructivist cultural studies but also by discussing narrative mobility under the sign of gender combines insights from social theory and philosophy feminist cultural geography and literary studies Key names and concepts Doreen Massey Rosi Braidotti Literary Studies Spatial Turn Gendered Space and Mobility Nomadism Road writing Transdifference American Culture Popular Culture Women's Literature after the Second Wave Quest Picara Literary History of Canada William H.
