Lyric Poetry Ernest Rhys,1913 English Lyric Poetry Jonathan F. S. Post,2002 A comprehensive reassessment of lyric poetry of the early 17th century directed at beginning and more advanced students of literature It seeks to assimilate many of the theoretical concerns with readings of the authors of the period Donohue's Standard New Century Dictionary of the English Language ,1916 The Imperial Dictionary John Ogilvie,1861 The Publishers Weekly ,1927 English Lyrical Poetry Edward Bliss Reed, The Poetics of Repetition in English and Chinese Lyric Poetry Cecile Chu-chin Sun,2011-01-15 For more than half a century Chinese Western comparative literature has been recognized as a formal academic discipline but critics and scholars in the field have done little to develop a viable common basis for comparison between these disparate literatures In this pioneering book Cecile Chu chin Sun establishes repetition as the ideal perspective from which to compare the poetry and poetics from these two traditions Sun contends that repetition is at the heart of all that defines the lyric as a unique art form and by closely examining its use in Chinese and Western poetry she demonstrates howone can identify important points of convergence and divergence Through a representative sampling of poems from both traditions she illustrates how the irreducible generic nature of the lyric transcends linguistic and cultural barriers but also reveals the fundamental distinctions between the traditions Most crucially she dissects the two radically different conceptualizations of reality mimesis and xing that serve as underlying principles for the poetic practices of each tradition Skillfully integrating theory and practice The Poetics of Repetition in English and Chinese Lyric Poetry provides a much needed model for future study of Chinese and English poetry as well as lucid succinct interpretations of individual poems
