Machinery Manufacturing in Bangladesh M. M. Huq, K. M. Nabiul Islam, Dr. Nazrul Islam, 1993 Routledge Handbook of Industry and Development John Weiss, Michael Tribe, 2015-09-16 The Routledge Handbook of Industry and Development is a global overview of industrialisation Each chapter will provide readers with contemporary insights into this essential aspect of economic development Industrialisation has been at the forefront of discussion on economic development since the earliest days of development economics But over the last fifty years the manufacturing sectors of different countries and regions have grown at strikingly different rates In 1960 developing countries took a very small share of global manufacturing production Today the position had changed radically with fast growth of manufacturing in many parts of what was originally the developing world particularly in China and the rest of East Asia On the other hand countries in Africa and parts of Latin America have been largely left behind by this process of industrialisation This volume aims to illuminate this uneven development and takes stock of the current issues that hinder and support industrialisation in low and middle income economies This Handbook is a collection of chapters on different aspects of industrialisation experience in a range of countries Key themes include the role of manufacturing in growth the nature of structural change at different stages of development the role of manufacturing in employment creation alternative options for trade and industrial policy the key role of technology and technical change and the impact of globalisation and the spread of global value chains and foreign direct investment on prospects for industrialisation Several chapters discuss individual country experiences with examples from India Mexico South Africa and Tanzania as well as an overview of African industrialisation This authoritative Handbook will be a key reference source for those studying or wishing to understand contemporary economic development Offering inspiration and direction for future research this landmark volume will be of crucial importance to all development economics scholars and researchers Technology and Transition Abdelkader Djeflat, Girma Zawdie, 2014-01-14 The Maghreb countries had a promising start in economic growth after independence For the most part they thrived on industrialisation by import substitution but unfortunately this strategy left them with macroeconomic and structural imbalances which together have effectively constrained their ability to compete in the world economic system and to catch up with the rapidly changing global techno economic circumstances Issues relating to aspects of technology transfer to the Maghreb strategies for technological and resource development and the integration of education and R D systems with the productive systems of the economies in the region are discussed along with relevant cases from Mexico China South Korea India and Bangladesh Building Science, Technology and Innovation Systems in Africa Abdelkader DJEFL, 2010-06-30 The book discusses the policies and strategies for Science and Technology S T and Innovation capability building put up by Maghreb states Algeria Tunisia Morocco in the last three decades The application of structural adjustment programmes SAPs in recent years the opening up of their economies and liberalisation of trade have confronted firms with largely innovation based competition and the attempt to reduce this impact are far from effective particularly in the face of the era of knowledge economy and sustainability requirements The work is articulated around three major themes the difficult path to S T capacity building the attempts to put up National Systems of Innovation NSI and the prospects for a more innovation driven growth at the territorial level notably through intermediate institutions and science and technology poles While pointing out the difficulties of building NSI the book examines how the context of an innovation driven competition put local firms especially SMEs in a difficult position It notes that universities which are prone to internal politics and rent seeking are not producing the necessary human capital The knowledge economy era challenges raise some hopes for better access to innovation and knowledge assets in the world while at the territorial level new innovation dynamics are taking place Based on extensive research and consultancy work done on the analysis of policies in the Maghreb the book also raises the issue of the neighborhood of the European Union and argues that unless Europe integrates the Maghreb in a real neighborhood Innovation System the prospects for innovation take off in the region are limited

Technological Transformation in the Third World: Volume 1 Surendra J. Patel, 2018-03-26 Originally published in 1993 this book contains 4 studies on Asia Bangladesh India South Korea and Sri Lanka The studies reflect 4 different patterns of technological transformation India with its large population has made considerable progress but its overall development has been slow until recently At the other extreme South Korea which had a very low per capita income in the 1950s registered a quantum leap in technological transformation within a short span of 30 years The heritage of Bangladesh s past has constrained its progress in overcoming structural weaknesses but in comparison Sri Lanka displays a very different pattern The sources used draw upon research in development economics economic history technology and studies in general and country studies in particular □□□□□□□□ ,1997-07 Capacity Realization and Productivity Growth in a Developing Country Ruhul A. Salim, 2018-12-14 First published in 1999 Firms in manufacturing industries are influenced by the market oriented liberalization reform policies in many developing countries since the late eighties However studies applying appropriate methodology to appropriate data seldom analyze the impact of reforms on the performance of production units such as manufacturing firms The central point of this book is to address this issue by comparing firms achievement with best practice performance before and after reforms This form of analysis is not new but it emphasizes a new focus or realignment of thinking within neoclassical economics to develop an analytical framework This book examines the productivity growth of Bangladesh manufacturing firms as component measures of changes in capacity realization and technical progress The significant feature of this approach is that it allows for the inefficiency of firms and thus productivity growth is estimated rather than taking it as a residual as is usually measured in the traditional growth accounting approach High rates of technological progress on the one hand can co exist with low rates of capacity realization On the other hand relatively low rates of technological progress can co exist with an improving capacity realization As a result specific policy actions are required to address the difference in the sources of variation in productivity In this respect this book would provide invaluable insights for policy makers development practitioners academics and students of economics

Technological Capability in the Informal Sector Carlos Maldonado, S. V. Sethuraman, 1992 Technology plays a key role in the informal sectors of developing countries yet little is known about the acquisition of technical knowhow or the adaptation of technology
