Nicholas N. Patricios,2014-04-24 The churches of the Byzantine era were built to represent heaven on earth Architecture art and liturgy were intertwined in them to a degree that has never been replicated elsewhere and the symbolism of this relationship had deep and profound meanings Sacred buildings and their spiritual art underpinned the Eastern liturgical rites which in turn influenced architectural design and the decoration which accompanied it Nicholas N Patricios here offers a comprehensive survey from the age of Constantine to the fall of Constantinople of the nexus between buildings worship and art His identification of seven distinct Byzantine church types based on a close analysis of 370 church building plans will have considerable appeal to Byzantinists lay and scholarly Beyond categorizing and describing the churches themselves which are richly illustrated with photographs plans and diagrams the author interprets the sacred liturgy that took place within these holy buildings tracing the development of the worship in conjunction with architectural advances made up to the 15th century Focusing on buildings located in twenty two different locations this sumptuous book is an essential guide to individual features such as the synthronon templon and ambo and also to the wider significance of Byzantine art and architecture Advances in Utopian Studies and Sacred Architecture Claudio Gambardella,Claudia Cennamo,Maria Luisa

The Return of Sacred Architecture Herbert Bangs, 2006-11-14 An inspirational call for a return to the tenets of traditional architecture as a remedy for the dehumanizing standards of modern architecture Explains how modern architecture is emblematic of our current estrangement from the spiritual principles that shaped humanity's greatest civilizations Reveals how the ancient laws of sacred proportion and harmony can be restored The ugly buildings that characterize the modern landscape are inferior not only to the great cathedrals of medieval Europe and the temples of ancient Egypt and Greece but even to lesser buildings of the more recent past The great masterworks of our ancestors spoke to humanity's higher nature Architect Herbert Bangs reveals how today's dysfunctional buildings bring out the worst in humanity reinforcing that which is most base within us He shows how through the ancient laws of proportion and number architecture once expressed the harmonious relationship between man and the cosmos In early times the architect worked within a sacred and esoteric tradition of creating structures through which human beings could gain insight into the nature of the divine reality Today that tradition has been abandoned in favor of narrowly defined utilitarian principles of efficiency and economy In The Return of Sacred Architecture Bangs provides the key to freeing architecture from the crude functionality of the twentieth century the architects of the modern human landscape must find the deep felt connection to the cosmos that guided the inner lives of those who built the temples of the past The form of their buildings will then reflect the sacred patterns of geometry and proportion and bring forth greater harmony in the world

Religious Architecture in Louisiana Robert Heck, Otis B. Wheeler, 1996-01-01 An enormous number of churches and other religious structures have been built in Louisiana over the past 250 years many of which still stand Today in New Orleans alone there are more than 850 churches representing more than seventy denominations The state s religious buildings encompass not only a wide range of faiths but also a striking diversity of architectural forms In Religious Architecture in Louisiana author Robert W Heck and photographer Otis B Wheeler provide the first photographic survey of this rich architectural heritage Their goal has been not to document every religious building in the state a nearly impossible task but to isolate prime examples of the historically and architecturally significant Robert W Heck presents a brief history of Louisiana s religious architecture He describes the dominating influence of Catholicism during the eighteenth century during which time the original Church of St Louis was built on the site of the present Cathedral of St Louis King of France in New Orleans He then discusses the burgeoning construction that accompanied the expansion of religious freedom following the Louisiana Purchase in 1803 as Protestants and Jews erected their own places of worship The author also considers the various architectural influences that have marked Louisiana s religious buildings from the Colonial style of the eighteenth century to the Classical Revival and Gothic Revival styles that predominated during the middle part of the nineteenth century to the Eclectic style that gained currency after the Civil War and persisted until about 1930 The great part of the book is devoted to 162 religious buildings located throughout the state In addition to presenting photographs of the structures each place of worship is identified by name address date of construction when known and architectural style For each building the author also provides comments on design construction materials and structural and decorative details To enhance the usefulness of the book a glossary of architectural terms and an appendix that lists those religious buildings in the state included in the National Register of Historic Places is included as well as another appendix that lists known early religious structures that are no longer standing Religious Architecture in Louisiana will prove a valuable resource for architects religious congregations historic preservationists and religious and architectural historians

Jackson, Leonardo Meraz Quintana, 2024-12-02 In the sixteenth century Franciscan Dominican and Augustinian missionaries attempted to evangelize the indigenous peoples of central Mexico Indigenous peoples incorporated the new faith into their belief system on their own terms and continued to conceptualize a sacred geography that ordered their world and regulated time At the same time the missionaries had new sacred complexes built but the question remains why did indigenous peoples dedicate labor and community resources to these projects This study analyzes the urban plan of indigenous communities the construction of new sacred complexes and the ways in which the urban plan conformed to the notion of sacred geography
