African Literature as Political Philosophy Mary Stella Chika Okolo, 2013-07-04 The politics of development in Africa have always been central concerns of the continent's literature Yet ideas about the best way to achieve this development and even what development itself should look like have been hotly contested African Literature as Political Philosophy looks in particular at Achebe's Anthills of the Savannah and Petals of Blood by Ngugi wa Thiong'o but situates these within the broader context of developments in African literature over the past half century discussing writers from Ayi Kwei Armah to Wole Soyinka M S C Okolo provides a thorough analysis of the authors differing approaches and how these emerge from the literature She shows the roots of Achebe's reformism and Ngugi's insistence on revolution and how these positions take shape in their work Okolo argues that these authors have been profoundly affected by the political situation of Africa but have also helped to create a new African political philosophy

Specters of Liberation Martin J. Beck Matustik, Martin Beck Matuŧtik, 1998-03-19 Advocates a new existential and political coalition among critical and postmodern social theorists and among critical gender race and class theorists in dissent from the New World Order to raise specters of liberation and empower radical democratic change

Classifying Psychopathology Harold Kincaid, Jacqueline A. Sullivan, 2023-10-31 Scholars question the extent to which current psychiatric classification systems are inadequate for diagnosis treatment and research of mental disorders and offer suggestions for improvement In this volume leading philosophers of psychiatry examine psychiatric classification systems including the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders DSM asking whether current systems are sufficient for effective diagnosis treatment and research Doing so they take up the question of whether mental disorders are natural kinds grounded in something in the outside world Psychiatric categories based on natural kinds should group phenomena in such a way that they are subject to the same type of causal explanations and respond similarly to the same type of causal interventions When these categories do not evince such groupings there is reason to revise existing classifications The contributors all question current psychiatric classifications systems and the assumptions on which they are based They differ however as to why and to what extent the categories are inadequate and how to address the problem Topics discussed include taxometric methods for identifying natural kinds the error and bias inherent in DSM categories and the complexities involved in classifying such specific mental disorders as oppositional defiance disorder and pathological gambling Contributors George Graham Nick Haslam Allan Horwitz Harold Kincaid Dominic Murphy Jeffrey Poland Nancy Nyquist Potter Don Ross Dan Stein Jacqueline Sullivan Serife

Tekin Peter Zachar     Sagacious Reasoning ,     An Islamic Reformation? Michaelle Browers, Charles Kurzman, 2004-01-01 This book brings together scholars with expertise in modern Islamic thought and practice to evaluate the claim that we are witnessing something tantamount to an Islamic Reformation by assessing the character and impact of various reformist trends in the Middle East and North Africa Each chapter also addresses the question of the appropriateness and usefulness of comparisons between Christian and Islamic or Western and Eastern reformations     Buddhism and American Cinema John Whalen-Bridge, Gary Storhoff (1947–2011), 2014-07-31 Discusses both depictions of Buddhism in film and Buddhist takes on a variety of films In 1989 the same year the Dalai Lama was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize a decade long boom of films dedicated to Buddhist people history and culture began Offering the first scholarly treatment of Buddhism and cinema the editors advise that there are two kinds of Buddhist film those that are about Buddhists and those that are not Focusing on contemporary American offerings the contributors extend a two pronged approach discussing how Buddhism has been captured by directors and presenting Buddhist oriented critiques of the worlds represented in films that would seem to have no connection with Buddhism Films discussed range from those set in Tibet such as Kundun and Lost Horizon to those set well outside of any Buddhist milieu such as Groundhog Day and The Matrix The contributors explain the Buddhist theoretical concepts that emerge in these works including karma the bardo and reincarnation and consider them in relation to interpretive strategies that include feminism postcolonialism and contemplative psychological approaches

Fanon Lewis Gordon, T. Denean Sharpley-Whiting, Renee T. White, 1996-08-30 The wide range of disciplines represented here enables the volume to stand as a contextualizing work in Fanon studies It contains new original essays on Africana philosophy the human sciences dialectical humanism women of color studies neocolonial and postcolonial studies violence and tragedy     Institutional Violence Deane Curtin, Robert Litke, 2022-05-20 Violence can be physical and psychological It can characterize personal actions forms of group activity and abiding social and political policy This book includes all of these aspects within its focus on institutional forms of violence Institution is also a broad category ranging from formal arrangements such as the military the criminal code the death penalty and prison system to more amorphous but systemic situations indicated by parenting poverty sexism work and racism Violence is as complex as the human beings who resort to it its institutional forms pervade our relational lives We are all participants in it as victims and perpetrators The chapters in this book were written in the hope that violence can be explicated even if not fully understood and that such clarification can help us in devising less violent forms of living even if it does not lead to its total abolition The studies bring new aspects of violence to light and offer a number of suggestions for its remedy     A Guide to Asian Philosophy Classics Puqun Li, 2012-07-19 This book guides readers through ten classic works of Asian philosophy Several major schools of Eastern thought are discussed including Hinduism Buddhism Confucianism Daoism Taoism and Chan Zen The author connects the ideas of these schools to those of Western philosophy thereby making the material accessible to people who are unfamiliar with the cultures and intellectual traditions of Asia A wide range of important topics are addressed reality time self knowledge ethics human nature enlightenment and death      Philosophical Perspectives on Power and Domination Laura Duhan Kaplan, Laurence F. Bove, 1997 The essays in this volume explore in detail many of the ways power structures our daily personal political and intellectual lives and evaluate the workings of power using a variety of theoretical paradigms from Hobbesian liberalism to Foucauldian feminist postmodernism Taken as a whole the book aims towards an end to unjust and destructive uses of power and the flowering of an encouraging educated empowerment for all human beings in a pluralistic world Section I offers a progressive chain of arguments that moves from the acceptance of domination through the rejection of domination and finally to a new vision of power based on equality and mutual respect Section II explores the questions how is the philosophical self that is our very understanding of who we are implicated in the web of power and domination Section III responds to political realism as it explores morally ideal solutions to the global problems of poverty war and hunger Section IV discusses ways in which our thought and practice in both public and private life are bound up in hierarchies of domination      Spiritual and Political Dimensions of Nonviolence and Peace David Boersema, Katy Gray Brown, 2006 This book is a collection of philosophical papers that explores theoretical and practical aspects and implications of nonviolence as a means of establishing peace The papers range from spiritual and political dimensions of nonviolence to issues of justice and values and proposals for action and change      Democracy and Civil Society in Arab Political Thought Michaelle L. Browsers, 2006-10-13 This book provides a significant and unique contribution to the emerging literature of comparative political thought Michaelle L Browsers offers compelling evidence with extensive analysis and references that a rigorous debate is taking place in Arabic concerning the value of democracy and civil society Exploring the globalization of ideas of democracy and civil society Browsers addresses the question of what occurs when concepts cross the boundaries of cultures or languages She analyzes the historical concept of democracy in Arab and Islamic political thought the transformations that have occurred over the past several decades resulting from Arab forays into an international discussion of civil society and what these transformations tell us about the status of ideological and conceptual debates in the region The book s value however lies in its main premise despite the dearth of actual democratic practices in the Arab world intellectual elites of the region have vigorously debated reform concepts for decades Browsers emphasizes that current conflicts involving the Middle East are less about Islam against the west and its secular allies in the region and more about diverse sectors of Arab society grappling with how to reform overreaching and unjust states Browsers shows that the seeds of democratic reform in the region were well planted prior to the war on Iraq and the Greater Middle East Initiative

Peacemaking , 2021-10-25 Peacemaking includes a large array of activities from local to global attempts to attain peace It includes consideration of international interstate and intertribal conflict resolution communal personal and interpersonal social justice deterrence of the use of nuclear weapons design of international treaties that prevent war or other forms of international conflict disarmament international organizations that secure the order among nations and even from some points of view war As the 20th century drew to a close we have witnessed peacemakers trying to end ethnic cleansing reinstate justly elected political leaders and reach compromises in the ideological differences that perpetuate age old conflicts We also see peacemaking in our schools homes and workplaces Philosophers have long been interested in peacemaking in one form or another and philosophical accounts of peacemaking reflect the variety of perspectives methods and activities developed in pursuing peacemaking In some instances philosophers expand upon the situations activities and methods of the peacemaker in the field The essays in this volume propose some theoretical arguments for various aspects of peacemaking offer nonmilitary alternatives to war and discuss practical examples of peacemaking in daily life The contributors analyze power relations language social groupings and distribution of resources At times they draw insight from social and historical models of conflict and conflict resolution This collection of essays on peacemaking aims to enlighten contemporary social and political discussions and contribute to achieving the ever challenging goal of peace

Taking Socialism Seriously Richard Schmitt, Anatole Anton, 2012-03-22 Taking Socialism Seriously raises essential questions about what socialism is and how socialists can reach it by addressing a long list of potential quandaries The contributions compiled by Anatole Anton and Richard Schmitt describe how socialism differs from a reformed and more humane form of capitalism Various chapters discuss suitable forms of love and family in a socialist society and economic arrangements within a socialist system They also break important new paths by calling for significant social change examining detailed questions that have previously been neglected and setting a new direction for radical theorists Critics are often convinced that there is no alternative and therefore are content to reform capitalism This book affirms that another world is possible
