Philosophy and Parapsychology Jan Ludwig, 1978 Parapsychology, Philosophy, and Spirituality David Ray Griffin, 1997-01-01 Examines why parapsychology has been held in disdain by scientists philosophers and theologians explores the evidence for ESP psychokinesis and life after death and suggests that these phenomena provide support for a meaningful postmodern spirituality Parapsychology, Philosophy and the Mind Fiona Steinkamp, 2015-10-02 John Beloff is one of our foremost authorities in parapsychology He is credited with an instrumental role in the acceptance of parapsychology into academia On April 21 and 22 2000 a two day international conference was held by the Koestler Parapsychology Unit of the Psychology Department at the University of Edinburgh to celebrate Beloff's eightieth birthday Most of the essays in this work were presented at this conference honoring John Beloff All of the contributors have published a number of articles in mainstream philosophy and their essays promote Beloff's greatest interest a philosophical interaction with parapsychology The book is divided into three sections and each section has three papers The papers in the first section Parapsychology Philosophy and the Mind explore the mind brain problem parapsychology and the principle of closure and a cross cultural perspective on dualism and the self The second section Parapsychology Self and Survival looks at parapsychological phenomena and the sense of self chrysalid therapy and the problem of super psi The third section Parapsychology Religion and Spirituality features papers that discuss parapsychology and how it relates to Hume's view of miracles to religion and to the origin of the Copernican hypothesis Philosophy and Psychical Research Thakur, Shivesh C, 2002 First Published in 2002 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Philosophical Interactions with Parapsychology H. Price, 1995-10-13 This is a collection of the most important writings of Oxford philosopher H H Price on the topics of psychical research and survival of death collected from a wide variety of sources unavailable to most interested readers Included are discussions of telepathy clairvoyance telekinesis precognition hauntings and apparitions the impact of psychical research on western philosophy and science and what afterlife is probably like Few twentieth century English speaking philosophers have written much on these topics Of those who did so and whose writings have not been collected and published in a single source H H Price was the most important Philosophy of Science and Occult, 1st Ed. Patrick Grim, 1983-06-30 Philosophy of Science and the Occult has two aims to introduce the philosophy of science through an examination of the occult and to examine the occult rigorously enough to raise central issues in philosophy of science Patrick Grim has compiled selections by authors with divergent views on astrology parapsychology and UFO's to emphasize topics standard to the philosophy of science He discusses issues such as confirmation and selection for testing possibility and a priori probabilities causality and time explanation and the nature of scientific laws the status of theoretical entities the problem of demarcation theory and observation and science and values A sketch of where these arise in the collection accompanies the table of contents The context of the occult serves to make the initial introduction of these issues immediately understandable and forcefully compelling Philosophical Interactions with Parapsychology Henry Habberley Price,1995-01-01 Many western philosophers have claimed that there are no psychical powers that the human being is simply an advanced form of matter that the world has no purpose and that the very notion that a person could survive the death of the physical body is not just false but nonsensical H H Price is an important English philosopher who did not share these views If it should be true that we have psychical powers and Price was convinced that we do this has very important implications for human nature and destiny we have souls there is some purpose to the features of nature and this life may be just a portion of the process of soul building that is our destiny H H Price is widely credited as being the first modern western philosopher to develop a coherent picture of what the life beyond might look like Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress,Library of Congress. Counter-Movements in the Sciences H. Nowotny,H. Rose,2012-12-06 Heretical thoughts in an orthodox series on sociology of the sciences Devils and science between the covers of one book Games with ambivalence to mask collective uncertainty We anticipate similar future reactions from readers or reviewers when assessing the way in which this volume has been assembled But writings on counter science like the history of colonialism are usually written by the winners therefore unequivocally partial and only too often lacking in social imagination In seeking to redress the balance we admit to having been fully receptive to the latter of having displayed an un measured degree of sympathy with heretics and outsiders including practising scientists and to letting science defend itself The antithetical relationship implied in the volume s title Counter movements in the Sciences stands for what we regard as an ongoing open ended process In collecting material for this volume we have brought together voices speaking from different quarters there are those who although modestly claiming to speak only for them selves have set out to question sacred assumptions of scientific faith or to cast doubt on well known claims scientific knowledge holds over other forms of knowledge others have undertaken to demonstrate the fragility ifnot untenability of attempts at demarcation between science and other systems of belief or practice or shown that demarcations between different forms of rationality rest on other than methodological grounds finally those who wish to re arrange by mapping out some meta point of surveillance familiar territory showing the need for rearrangement and Unsnarling the World-Knot David Ray Griffin,2008-03-25 The mind body problem which Schopenhauer called the world knot has been a central problem for philosophy since the time of Descartes Among realists those who accept the reality of the physical world the two dominant approaches have been dualism and materialism but there is a growing consensus that if we are ever to understand how mind and body are related a radically new approach is required David Ray Griffin develops a third form of realism one that resolves the basic problem common to dualism and materialism of the continued acceptance of the Cartesian view of matter In dialogue with various philosophers including Dennett Kim McGinn Nagel Seager Searle and Strawson Griffin shows that materialist physicalism is even more problematic than dualism. He proposes instead a panexperientialist physicalism grounded in the process philosophy of Alfred North Whitehead. Answering those who have rejected panpsychism as obviously absurd, Griffin argues compellingly that panexperientialism, by taking experience and spontaneity as fully natural, can finally provide a naturalistic account of the emergence of consciousness, an account that also does justice to the freedom we all suppose in practice.
