Ethics in Practice Hugh LaFollette, 2020-04-28 The bestselling and field defining textbook which has introduced generations of students to the field of practical ethics now in a new fully revised fifth edition. For more than twenty years Ethics in Practice has paved the way for students to confront the difficult ethical questions they will must or do already face. Accessible to introductory students yet sufficiently rigorous for those pursuing advanced study, this celebrated collection encourages and guides readers to explore ethical dimensions of important controversial topics such as euthanasia, environmental action, economic injustice, discrimination, incarceration, abortion, and torture. In combining new and revised modern texts with works of classic scholarship, Ethics in Practice equips readers to consider wide ranging ideas in practical ethics and to understand the historical basis for contemporary developments in ethical theory. Revisions and updates to the new edition of Ethics in Practice focus on covering pressing global issues and adding depth to key sections. Many sections have been expanded to offer more thorough coverage of topics in ethical theory. Edited by Hugh LaFollette, highly regarded for his contributions in the field of practical ethics, this important volume explores the connections between ethical theory and divisive contemporary debates. Includes general and section introductions which map the conceptual terrain, making it easy for students to understand and discuss the theoretical and practical dimensions of the issues. Offers up to date incisive discussion of global, local, and personal ethical issues. Provides original essays, new perspectives, and revisions of key critical texts. Enables instructors to discuss specific practical issues, broader groupings of topics, and common themes that connect major areas in ethics. Already a market leading text for introductory and applied ethics courses, the latest edition of Ethics in Practice. An Anthology continues to be an essential resource for instructors and students in philosophy departments around the world.

Reading Coetzee. Elizabeth MacFarlane, 2013-07-01 Just as J. M. Coetzee's post-2003 books present essays and narrative alongside one another, this book engages with its ideas through both critical and creative writing. Reading Coetzee interleaves critical essays on Coetzee's works with an autobiographical narrative detailing MacFarlane's more personal response to her reading and writing. The presentation of elements of the creative with the critical and the critical within the creative aims to challenge the traditional boundary between the two. This kind of methodology derives from the idea and practice of embodiment: that an idea or philosophy does not float free but is tied to the idiosyncrasies, divergences, and subjective travel of its speaker or writer Coetzee's Elizabeth Costello Slow Man and Diary of a Bad Year explicitly address themes which abide more surreptitiously throughout his oeuvre the divisions and paradoxes which occur the moment pen gains page the value of literature and the ethics of embodiment In revealing the dialogue between writer self and reader self and between author and character these recent novels invite a rereading of Coetzee's previous literature Reading Coetzee explores Coetzee's preoccupation with the act of writing using his recent books as a lens through which to view his eight previous novels as well as his memoirs and essays
