Mrozek,1983

Few observers of American life today would doubt that sports occupy a prominent place in our society but equally few have examined the origins of the country s greatest passion Probing our history culture and consciousness Donald J Mrozek shows how sports gained national acceptance and became as standard as fried chicken and church on Sunday Today s boom has its roots in the period from 1880 1910 As Mrozek shows famous and forgotten public figures and athletes helped shaped the modern craze They included nutritionist Horace Fletcher strongman Eugene Sandow journalist Elizabeth Paine and such familiar personalities as Teddy Roosevelt Henry Cabot Lodge and John Muir A national interest in sports could develop only after the governing classes had ceased to oppose organized games Thereafter many forces worked on the public mind National unification after the Civil War changes in the role of women and increases in leisure time all played a part Other contributing trends were interest in an energetic lifestyle the beginnings of a youth culture and a generalized need for acceptable ways of expressing sexuality and sensuality This wide ranging study paints a lively and compelling portrait of the American people in quest of sport

Rejecting Retributivism Gregg D. Caruso,2021-04-29 Within the criminal justice system one of the most prominent justifications for legal punishment is retributivism The retributive justification of legal punishment maintains that wrongdoers are morally responsible for their actions and deserve to be punished in proportion to their wrongdoing This book argues against retributivism and develops a viable alternative that is both ethically defensible and practical Introducing six distinct reasons for rejecting retributivism Gregg D Caruso contends that it is unclear that agents possess the kind of free will and moral responsibility needed to justify this view of punishment While a number of alternatives to retributivism exist including consequentialist deterrence educational and communicative theories they have ethical problems of their own Moving beyond existing theories Caruso presents a new non retributive approach called the public health quarantine model In stark contrast to retributivism the public health quarantine model provides a more human holistic and effective approach to dealing with criminal behavior
