Philosophy And Its Others Ways Of Being And Mind:

Philosophy and Its Others William Desmond, 1990-07-05 Philosophy and its Others responds to the widespread sense that philosophy must renew its intellectual community with other significant ways of being and mind. The author articulates philosophy's community of mind with the aesthetic, the religious, and the ethical without losing any of its own distinctive voice. He develops an original and constructive position between these extremes: the Hegelian extreme which reduces the plurality of others to a dialectical totality and the Wittgensteinian and deconstructive options that celebrate plurality but without a proper sense of the connectedness of philosophy and its others. The Intimate Strangeness of Being William

Desmond, 2012-04-09 This book explores the contested place of metaphysics since Kant and Hegel, arguing for a renewed metaphysical thinking about the intimate strangeness of being. Being and Dialectic William Desmond, Joseph

Grange, 2000-07-20 Diverse voices explore the possibility of doing metaphysics in light of contemporary critiques. Being and the Between William Desmond, 1995-03-30 As Plato told us long ago, the human being is neither a god nor a beast but someone in between. Philosophy too is in between. How do we philosophize in between? What is the being of the between? This book answers the question in the most comprehensive terms possible. It offers an original understanding of metaphysical thinking and the fundamental senses of being: namely, the univocal, equivocal, dialectical, and metaxological senses. Part I of Being and the Between focuses on the nature of metaphysics: the question of being in terms of the above fourfold sense. Part II develops a metaphysics of being as between, relative to our basic perplexities concerning origin, creation, things, intelligibilities, selves, communities, being true, being good. The book calls for a generous hermeneutical rethinking of the philosophical tradition. Major figures and positions are reinterpreted. Desmond addresses the issue common since Hegel and endemic since Heidegger: concerning the end of metaphysics. Granting a proper understanding of the between, Desmond believes that we need a resurrection of metaphysics where the old perplexities ever new stand before us again. Being

Human in the Ultimate, 2022-03-16 For John M. Anderson, philosophy as the love of wisdom is a concern for what is ultimate. The essays in this volume take to heart this understanding of philosophy and are therefore responses to the ultimate. The first four essays by Kaelin Schrag, Baillif, and Johnstone deal with Anderson's own account of ultimacy as it is presented in his reflections on the aesthetic, the occasion, the experience of the sublime, on freedom, and on insight. The concern for what is ultimate is formulated differently by each of the other eight essays. Desmond articulates ways of our encounter with the ultimate by means of what he calls essential perplexity. Gendlin reflects on Aristotle's characterization of thinking as an activity that is ultimate. Biemel and Lingis present death as an aspect of the ultimate. Hersch sees our loss of meaning and value as the result of our refusal of finitude and thus of our denial of the ultimate, which reveals itself in this finitude. Ginsberg initiates us into the ultimacy of the human encounter that is dialogue. Verene speaks of the ultimate through his account of the fool. For Kockelmans, philosophy, unlike science, deals with what is as it manifests itself in our encounter with our lived world which is a source of meaning and in that sense an ultimate. Finally John M Anderson writes of the awareness of our becoming more than we are and does so by bespeaking the origin of the dialogue we are. Philosophies of Christianity Balázs M. Mezei, Matthew Z. Vale, 2020-01-09 This book examines key issues in Christianity from various philosophical points of view. It brings together European authors with American theologians and philosophers on an interconfessional basis. Coverage combines analytical and continental approaches in a unique way. This comprehensive innovative analysis will help readers gain a deep understanding into a wide range of philosophical approaches to basic Christian problems. The novelty of this volume is the unique combination of philosophical and theological approaches. It merges these points of view in a rational manner which characterizes segments of Anglo American and Continental thought. The scope of the work covers historical issues, contemporary problems of atheism and also novel approaches to fundamental notions. Readers will learn about questions surrounding the French New Theology, Žižek's philosophical sources, the notion of revelation and much more. As a work produced by European and United States scholars, this volume is an important contribution not only to the dialogue between various academic cultures but also to the expression of their fruitful cooperation which grounds and inspires serious academic research. The readership of this work begins at an undergraduate level and reaches up to academic researchers and professors interested in borderline problems between philosophy and theology, history and contemporary issues.

Perplexity and Ultimacy William Desmond, 1995-01-01 Desmond explores perplexity regarding ultimacy, the metaphysical perplexity that precedes and exceeds scientific and commonsense curiosity. The Metaphysics of Becoming Thomas Padiyath, 2014-01-31 This study attempts to elucidate a possible meeting point of the traditions of Eastern and Western metaphysical thinking. In discussing Whitehead's and Aurobindo's views on being and becoming, it seeks the possibility of a better engagement between the East and the West in the light of the philosophical insights. It is an initiation into the Sitz im Leben of Whitehead's philosophy and his general thought pattern. It carries a perceptive analysis to show the clear primacy of Becoming or Process in Whitehead that extends even to the Divine. It also highlights Aurobindo as a unique Indian Philosopher who articulated Indian thought in Western categories. He was able to integrate the evolutionary theory of the West with the Indian understanding of becoming. The relationship between God and Creativity and Sachchidananda and the Supermind is studied within the context of Enlightenment and Modernity and the way of doing philosophy in the West and in the East. F. C. Baur's Synthesis of Böhme and Hegel Corneliu Simut, 2014-10-16 In this book Professor Simu shows how Christian theology started to be understood as a Gnostic philosophy of religion in the thought of the 19th century scholar F. C. Baur. Although Baur was seen traditionally as a theologian and biblical exegete, Simu argues that he was in fact a philosopher of religion and it was his philosophical reading of Christian theology that informed his biblical preoccupations. Specifically, Baur's perspective on Christian theology was heavily influenced by Jakob Böhme's esoteric theosophy and Hegel's religious philosophy in some key issues such as creation, Lucifer dualism and the connection between spirit and matter coupled with
