The Everyday Experiences of Reconstruction and Regeneration David Adams, Peter Larkham, 2019-04-09 Set within a wider British and international context of post war reconstruction The Everyday Experiences of Reconstruction and Regeneration focuses on such debates and experiences in Birmingham and Coventry as they recovered from Second World War bombings and post war industrial collapse Including numerous images Adams and Larkham explore the initial development of the post Second World War reconstruction projects which so substantially changed the face of the cities and provided radical new identities Exploring these cities throughout the post war period brings into sharp focus the duality of contemporary approaches to regeneration which often criticise mid twentieth century poorly conceived planning and architectural projects for producing inhuman and unsympathetic schemes while proposing exactly the type of large scale regeneration that may potentially create similar issues in the future This book would be beneficial for academics and students of planning and urban design particularly those with an interest in post catastrophe or large scale reconstruction projects within cities

Coventry: Medieval Art, Architecture and Archaeology in the City and its Vicinity Linda Monckton, 2017-07-05 The British Archaeological Association's 2007 conference celebrated the material culture of medieval Coventry the fourth wealthiest English city of the later middle ages The nineteen papers collected in this volume set out to remedy the relative neglect in modern scholarship of the city's art architecture and archaeology as well as to encompass recent research on monuments in the vicinity The scene is set by two papers on archaeological excavations in the historic city centre especially since the 1970s and a paper investigating the relationships between Coventry's building boom and economic conditions in the city in the later middle ages Three papers on the Cathedral Priory of St Mary bring together new insights into the Romanesque cathedral church the monastic buildings and the post Dissolution history of the precinct derived mainly from the results of the Phoenix Initiative excavations 1999-2003 Three more papers provide new architectural histories of the spectacular former parish church of St Michael the fine Guildhall of St Mary and the remarkable surviving west range of the Coventry Charterhouse The high quality monumental art of the later medieval city is represented by papers on wall painting featuring the recently conserved Doom in Holy Trinity church on the little known Crucifixion mural at the Charterhouse and on a reassessment of the working practices of the famous master glazier John Thornton Two papers on a guild seal and on the glazing at Stanford on Avon parish church consider the evidence for Coventry as a regional workshop centre for high quality metalwork and glass painting Beyond the city three papers deal with the development of Combe Abbey from Cistercian monastery to country house with the Beauchamp family's hermitage at Guy's Cliffe and with a newly identified stonemasons workshop in the barn at Kenilworth Abbey Two further papers concern the architectural patronage of the earls and dukes of Lancaster in the 14th century at Kenilworth Castle and in the Newarke at Leicester Castle

Phoenix Black Dog Publishing, 2004 Phoenix Architecture Art Regeneration records a unique experiment in urban regeneration in

Coventry Taking a rundown and forgotten area of the city it creates a series of new and contrasting public spaces that form a new route from Basil Spence's Cathedral to a new Garden of International Friendship The garden and many other aspects of the scheme celebrate Coventry's association with the international movement for Peace and Reconciliation following the city's devastating destruction in the Blitz during the Second World War Page 4 of cover

Coventry Caroline Gould, 2015-07-15 The Coventry Blitz of 14 November 1940 was a key event of the Second World War and in the growth of public consciousness of the destructive power of warfare The medieval city already undergoing rapid change was largely destroyed on that night The destruction was seen as an opportunity by some including the then City Architect Donald Gibson The result was the first of the master plans for post-war redevelopment of Britain's bombed city centres The redevelopment of Coventry city centre to plans by Gibson and his successors provided an intensely urban and civilised centre embodying new planning principles Post-war Coventry was hugely influential and Gibson's ideas helped to shape the rebuilding of other city centres the post-war new towns and developments in Europe Despite incremental change in the subsequent decades the planning and architecture of Gibson s city centre are still clearly legible The modern demands of a growing city on its centre are now very different from those of the post war years Coventry needs to grow and plan for its future and change will inevitably affect the city centre This book aims to inform the public and decision makers of the significance of Coventry and especially its centre so that change can be managed in ways that will continue the life use and enjoyment of the best of Coventry s remarkable post war heritage
