"Listen to me, child. You will be a woman soon and must behave well and with modesty. The Kazi will ask you three times whether you will marry Kalloo Mian. Now don't you be shameless, like these modern educated girls, and shout gleefully 'Yes.' Be modest and cry softly and say 'Hoon' "

A marriage is arranged between a little servant girl and a middle-aged cook with an opium habit; an idealistic political worker faces disillusionment; a servant returns to a wife he scarcely knows; a conventional bride has her first encounter with her husband's "emancipated" friends: telling of the lives of servants and children, of conflict between the old traditions and the new, modern civilisation, and exploring the human repercussions of the Muslim/Hindu divide, these twelve short stories present a moving and vivid picture of life in India. To each episode Attia Hosain brings a superb imaginative understanding and a sense of the poignancy of the smallest of human dramas. First published in 1953, Phoenix Fled is a book of "unusual distinction" — Times Literary Supplement.

Attia Hosain was born in Lucknow, India, in 1913 and moved to England in 1947 where she worked as a journalist and broadcaster. She now divides her time between London and India.

Cover shows "A Head-and-Shoulders Portrait of a Girl Holding a Tambura at a Window", Lucknow, c.1780. Private collection.
