discrimination by identifying features in a colour picture as we teach the child to read simple sentences Visual discrimination can be defined as the ability to determine and classify objects symbols shapes etc by differences in colour form size texture or orientation or shape by the eyes receiving visual input and analysing that information As was stated in Book 1 one of the keys to learning is repetition repetition repetition which used to be called rote learning I know all of my times tables without thinking because they were drilled into me I still know lots of nursery rhymes because we repeated them as children and then I taught them to my own children 50 years on I have used repetition repetition repetition to learn advanced tennis strokes and become a world ranked Senior Tennis player So learning to read using phonics does work and you can start children learning as young as three years of age How Singapore is achieving 90 % literacy is discussed in Book 1 Teach to Read so it will not be repeated here Let me repeat here that reading has to be strongly associated with enjoyment My advice to parents is to have the child next to you on a sofa or a bed when you read them stories
