Gender Inequality in Our Changing World Lori Kenschaft, Roger Clark, Desiree Ciambrone, 2015-07-24 Gender Inequality in Our Changing World A Comparative Approach focuses on the contemporary United States but places it in historical and global context Written for sociology of gender courses this textbook identifies conditions that encourage greater or lesser gender inequality explains how gender and gender inequality change over time and explores how gender intersects with other hierarchies especially those related to race social class and sexual identity The authors integrate historical and international materials as they help students think both theoretically and empirically about the causes and consequences of gender inequality both in their own lives and in the lives of others worldwide Studying Human Rights Todd

Landman, 2006 Draws on theories and methods from the social sciences to develop a framework for the systematic study of human rights problems This book includes an outline of the scope of human rights the factors that have an impact on human rights and a summary of the social science theories It is useful for scholars and practitioners of this area Vital Media

Michael Nitsche, 2022-12-06 A proposal for a new media design to balance the contributions of humans and materials in the world they share How can media design support a balance between our needs for self expression and the material needs of the world we are part of What criteria define a sustainable media ecology In Vital Media Michael Nitsche argues that the current human centric view is not sustainable and that media are best viewed as dynamic networks where cognitive and noncognitive participants co create What we need according to Nitsche is a media design that balances the needs of all partners involved vital media Tracing this ideal through two domains of expression and making performance and craft Nitsche calls on us to embrace material co existence and to design for self expression as well as material evolution We must recognize that the living body and its dependencies on the world around it are at the heart of what media are about Vital media exist to not only help individuals fulfill their potential through expression but to also realize the agencies of materials in the equally active surrounding world Throughout the book Nitsche interweaves theory with close readings of actual artifacts that encompass predigital nondigital and hybrid examples Nitsche s approach counters the current tendency to pit the virtual media world against the reality in which we live British Archives J. The History and Archaeology of Jaffa 1 Aaron A. Burke, Martin Peilstocker, 2011-12-31 Recipient of the G. Ernest Wright Award for Best Archaeological Publication American Schools of Oriental Research 2011 In 2007 the Jaffa Cultural Heritage Project (JCHP) was established as a joint research endeavor of the Israel Antiquities Authority and the Cotsen Institute of Archaeology at the University of California Los Angeles. Among the project's diverse aims is the publication of numerous excavations conducted in Jaffa since 1948 under the auspices of various governmental and research institutions such as the Israel Department of Antiquities and Museums and its successor the Israel Antiquities Authority as well as the Jaffa Cultural Heritage Project. This is the first volume in the Jaffa Cultural Heritage Project series, laying the groundwork for this initiative. Part I provides the historical, economic, and legal context for the JCHP's development while outlining its objectives and the unique opportunities that Jaffa offers researchers. The history of Jaffa and its region and the major episodes of cultural change that affected the site and region are explored through a series of articles in Part II, including an illustrated discussion of historical maps of Jaffa from the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Recent archaeological discoveries from Jaffa are included in Part III, while Part IV provides a first glimpse of the JCHP's efforts to publish the Jacob Kaplan and Haya Ritter Kaplan legacy from Jaffa. Together, the twenty-five contributions to this work constitute the first major book-length publication to address the archaeology of Jaffa in more than sixty years since excavations were initiated at the site.

The Happiness Illusion Luke Hockley, Nadi Fadina, 2015-06-19 The West has never been more affluent yet the use of antidepressants is on the increase to the extent that the World Health Organisation has declared it a major source of concern. How has this state of affairs come about and what can be done? Television and advertising media seem to know. Wherever we look they offer countless remedies for our current situation, unfortunately none of them seem to work. The Happiness Illusion explores how the metaphorical insights of fairy tales have been literalised and turned into commodities. In so doing, their ability to educate and entertain has largely been lost. Instead advertising and television sell us products that offer to magically transform the way we look how we age where we live both in the city and the countryside the possibility of new jobs and so forth All of these are supposed to make us happy But despite the allure of retail therapy modern magic has lost its spell What then are the sources of happiness in our contemporary society Through a series of fairy tales The Happiness Illusion How the media sold us a fairytale looks at topics such as age gender marriage and rom coms Nordic Noir and the representations of therapy on television In doing so it explores alternative ways to relate to the world in a symbolic and less literal manner it suggests that happiness comes by making sure we don't fall under the spell of the illusionary promises of contemporary television and advertising Instead happiness comes from being ourselves warts and all This book will be of interest to Jungian academics film media and cultural studies academics social psychologists and their students as well as reaching out to those interested in fairy tale studies psychotherapists and educated cinema goers Luke Hockley PhD is Research Professor of Media Analysis at the University of Bedfordshire UK He is a practicing psychotherapist and is registered with the United Kingdom Council for Psychotherapy UKCP Luke is joint Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Jungian Studies IJJS and a member of the Advisory Board for the journal Spring and lectures widely www.lukehockley.com Nadi Fadina is a media entrepreneur and a managing partner in an international film fund She is involved in a variety of arts and media related projects both in profit and non profit spheres She teaches Film Business in the University of Bedfordshire however her academic interests outreach spheres of business and cover ideology Russian fairytales sexuality politics anthropology and cinema www.nadi.fadina.com
