The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield, 2011-05-27 In The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield challenges the idea that photographs of political violence exploit their subjects and pander to the voyeuristic tendencies of their viewers. Instead, she argues passionately that looking at such images and learning to see the people in them is an ethically and politically necessary act that connects us to our modern history of violence and probes the human capacity for cruelty. Grappling with critics from Walter Benjamin and Bertolt Brecht to Susan Sontag and the postmoderns and analyzing photographs from such events as the Holocaust, China's Cultural Revolution, and recent terrorist acts, Linfield explores the complex connection between photojournalism and the rise of human rights ideals. In the book's concluding section, she examines the indispensable work of Robert Capa, James Nachtwey, and Gilles Peress and asks how photography should respond to the increasingly nihilistic trajectory of modern warfare. A bracing and unsettling book, The Cruel Radiance convincingly demonstrates that if we hope to alleviate political violence, we must first truly understand it and to do that we must begin to look.

Image, Text, Architecture Robin Wilson, 2016-03-09 Image Text Architecture brings a radical and detailed analysis of the modern and contemporary architectural media, addressing issues of architectural criticism, architectural photography, and the role of journal editors. It covers examples as diverse as an article by British artist Paul Nash in The Architectural Review 1940, an early project by French architects Lacaton Vassal published in the journal 2G 2001, and recent photography by Hisao Suzuki for the Spanish journal El Croquis. At the intersection of image and text, the book also reveals the role of the utopian impulse within the architectural media, drawing on theories of utopian discourse from the work of the French semiotician and art theorist Louis Marin and the American Marxist critic Fredric Jameson. Through this, it builds a fresh theoretical approach to journal studies, revealing a hitherto unexplored dimension of latent or unconscious discourse within the media portrait of architecture. The purpose of this enquiry is to highlight moments where a different type of critical voice emerges on the architectural journal page, indicating the possibility of a more progressive engagement with the media as a platform for critical and speculative thinking.
