Photographing The Self Methods For Observing Personal Orientations:

Photographing the Self Robert C. Ziller, 1990-08 How can researchers avoid the inherent problem of influencing subjects while observing them In this pioneering work Ziller examines the uses of photography and video communication as observation techniques He discusses the advantages and disadvantages of these approaches and outlines various research possibilities when using photo communication Practical examples are drawn from clinical psychology intercultural communication family studies and criminal justice to demonstrate the effectiveness of this approach Research Design John W. Creswell, J. David Creswell, 2022-10-24 The Sixth Edition of the bestselling Research Design Qualitative Quantitative and Mixed Methods Approaches provides clear and concise instruction for designing research projects or developing research proposals This user friendly text walks readers through research methods from reviewing the literature to writing a research question and stating a hypothesis to designing the study At each step in the process authors John W Creswell and J David Creswell address qualitative quantitative and mixed methods approaches to encourage readers to choose the approach that best fits the research question The Sixth Edition has been fully revised to reflect the 7th edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association with more inclusive language updated citation styles and updated writing suggestions Updates reflect the latest developments in mixed methods and new research examples throughout help capture and demonstrate new trends in research Included with this title LMS Cartridge Import this title s instructor resources into your school s learning management system LMS and save time Don t use an LMS You can still access all of the same online resources for this title via the password protected Instructor Resource Site Learn more Environmental Social Sciences Ismael Vaccaro, Eric Alden Smith, Shankar Aswani, 2010-11-11 The relationship between human communities and the environment is extremely complex In order to resolve the issues involved with this relationship interdisciplinary research combining natural sciences social sciences and humanities is necessary In this 2010 book specialists summarise methods and research strategies for various aspects of social research devoted to environmental issues Each chapter is illustrated with ethnographic and environmental examples ranging from Australia to Amazonia from Madagascar to the United States and from prehistoric and historic cases to contemporary rural and urban ones It deals with climate change deforestation environmental knowledge natural reserves politics and ownership of natural resources and the effect of differing spatial and temporal scales Contributing to the intellectual project of interdisciplinary environmental social science this book shows the possibilities social science can provide to environmental studies and to larger global problems and thus will be of equal interest to social and natural scientists and policy makers Research in the College Context Frances K. Stage, Kathleen Manning, 2013-10-18 This handbook provides faculty students and researchers in the college environment with alternative methods and approaches for conducting research Readers will also find advice on research approaches using appropriate techniques and composing results The Moral Ecology of South Africa's Township Youth S. Swartz, 2009-11-23 This book

provides an engaging account of the moral lives of young black South Africans once the struggle against apartheid ended and took away their object of political resistance It shows how partial parenting partial schooling and pervasive poverty contributes to how a group of young people construct right and wrong and what rules govern their behavior ACT Art Therapy Amy Backos,2022-09-21 There is nothing prescriptive about Acceptance and Commitment Therapy or Art Therapy Both involve the client and the therapist cultivating creativity and psychological flexibility by letting go of limited constricted or habitual ways of thinking and being This leads us to think create respond and behave in ways of our choosing bringing richness and renewed meaning to our lives Through this work you will be able to apply ACT informed art therapy to your practice Art activities both illustrate the concepts and exist as stand alone interventions to heighten creative potential and mindful attention to the present moment ACT is effective when treating psychological difficulties such as depression anxiety OCD and psychosis Readers will develop a meaningful context for understanding how ACT and art therapy align to creatively achieve positive outcomes for you and your clients Doing Theology with Photographs Sarah Dunlop,2024-07-25 This book is the first of its kind to fully explain how to use photographs for research within Practical Theology An essential tool for anyone exploring how visual material can shed light on their research questions the book functions as a guide to using the methods well It includes a rationale for using photographs within the emerging field of empirical work within theology which is useful for students or others within the academy who need to justify using a visual approach for their research projects and dissertations Drawing on the author s own experience of using visual approaches the book covers a variety of visual methods including photojournalism different types of photo elicitation photo voice and studies of visual social media Each chapter illustrates the method under discussion via a case study and photographs and contains a practical guide to using the method well and avoiding pitfalls Additionally the book explores how photographs can be used to resource theological reflection and spirituality thus linking research and faithful practice within the rational for using visual material Designed for the classroom use each chapter contains Chapter summary learning points Background information how to with examples of research projects Advantages and limitations of the method Conclusion Case Study Research Arch G. considered and discussed in the context of sensitive and innovative research methods

Environmental Planning in the Caribbean Janet Momsen, 2016-12-05 Illustrated by case studies from both smaller nations such as Carriacou Barbados and St Lucia and larger countries including Cuba Mexico and Jamaica this volume brings together leading writers on environmental planning in the Caribbean to provide an interdisciplinary contemporary critical overview They argue that context is central to the practice of environmental planning in this region Rather than focusing on a deterministic colonial geography and history the contributors propose that whilst a wide range of foreign planning influences can be felt in different contexts environmental planning emerges in specific settings through the fluid interaction between local and global relations of power A number of chapters explore the effects of external discourses upon the region while others examine discourses on Western style democracy and tourism Other important themes covered include participatory planning urban planning physical development planning pest management sustainable development water pollution conservation and ecotourism

Researching the Visual Michael Emmison, Dr Philip D Smith, 2000-03-15 The book has a solid practical feel to it and although it deals philosophically with leading theorists such as Foucault Goffman Bourdieu and Hall it grounds the practice of visual research into everyday use Weaved cleverly throughout are numerous practical exercises which draw together the theoretical concepts and give them a grounded rational element This book is a valuable research tool and I would anticipate that many researchers will find it a worthwhile addition to their armoury

Researching Intimacy in Families J. Gabb, 2008-08-14 An incisive engagement with the subject of intimacy and interpersonal relationships and the methods used to research families and personal life this book introduces readers to contemporary conceptual and methodological frameworks for understanding intimacy and sexuality in families

Representing Consumers Barbara Stern, 2003-09-02 Representing Consumers explores representation and constructions of truth in consumer research Contributions come from the United States and Britain and draw on a wide range of theoretical approaches

Performing Disunion Lawrence T. McDonnell, 2018-06-21 A new history of the causes of the American Civil War highlighting the role played by ordinary men in the secession debate and process

Tourists, Signs and the City Michelle M. Metro-Roland, 2016-02-24 Drawing upon the literature of landscape geography tourism studies cultural studies visual studies and philosophy this book offers a multi disciplinary approach to understanding the interaction between urban environments and tourists This is a necessary prerequisite for cities as they make themselves into enticing destinations and compete for tourists attention It argues that tourists make sense of and draw meaningful conclusions about the places in which they tour based upon the interpretation of the signs or elements encountered within the built environment elements such as graffiti and lamp posts The writings of the American pragmatist Charles S Peirce on interpretation provide the theoretical model for explaining the way in which mind and world or thoughts and objects result in tourists interacting with place This theoretical framework elucidates three applied studies undertaken with foreign visitors to the Hungarian capital of Budapest Based upon extensive ethnographic field work these studies focus on tourists interpretation of the urban landscape with particular attention paid to the encounters with national culture the role of architecture and the importance of the prosaic in urban tourism Understanding Life in School John

Quay,2015-07-27 Attending school is an experience that most people share but this leads us to accept rather than question the experience Using the philosophies of Heidegger and Dewey John Quay explores life in schools and juxtaposes the environment of a school camp with that of an academic classroom Artisans and Fair Trade Mary A. Littrell,Marsha A.

Dickson,2012-03 Addresses the cultural conditions under which artisan work provides a feasible income alternative to other employment options Offers a methodology for assessing the socio economic impacts of fair trade artisan work After agriculture and tourism artisan work provides the next most significant source of income in many developing countries Yet because of its image as a soft or frivolous industry some politicians and development professionals question whether the handcraft sector is worthy of investment An opposing view holds that the creation of sustainable employment opportunities for poor people and a positive alternative to mass production outweighs the costs Until now the debate has been hampered by a lack of industry data The apparel group MarketPlace Handwork of India serves as the perfect case study to provide this missing information Like many fair trade companies it has dual goals to generate income in the global marketplace and foster the empowerment of the low income workers who run and staff the business In conducting interviews with MarketPlace s artisans managers and founders Littrell and Dickson produced an in depth socio economic audit of the group over time The result Artisans and Fair Trade provides a quantitatively and qualitatively illuminating study of fair trade impacts and a methodology that is sure to inform current assessment practices in social entrepreneurship and business social responsibility

The Ethnopoetics of Space and Transformation Stuart C. Aitken,2016-02-17 Change is inevitable we are told A job is lost a couple falls in love children leave home an addict joins Narcotics Anonymous two nations go to war a family member s health deteriorates a baby is born a universal health care bill is voted into law Life comprises events over which we have considerable partial or little or no control The distance between the event and our daily lives suggests a quirky spatial politics Our lives move forward depending upon how events play out in concert with our reactions to them Drawing on nearly three decades of geographic projects that involve ethnographies and interviews with and stories about young people in North and South American Europe and Asia and using the innovative technique of ethnopoetry Aitken examines key life changing events to look at the interconnections between space politics change and emotions Analysing the intricate spatial complexities of these events he explores the emotions that undergird the ways change takes place and the perplexing spatial politics that almost always accompany transformations Aitken positions young people as effective agents of change without romanticizing their political involvement as fantasy and unrealistic dreaming Going further he suggests that it is the emotional palpability of youth engagement and activism that makes it so potent and productive Pulling on the spatial theories of de Certeau Deleuze Massey Agamben Ranci re Zizek and Grosz amongst others Aitken argues that spaces are transformative to the degree that they open the political and he highlights the complexly interwoven political economic social and cultural practices that simultaneously embed and embolden people in places If we think of spaces as events and events encourage change then spaces and people become other through complex relations Taking poetry to be an emotive construction of language Aitken re visualizes contorts and arranges people s words and gestures to
