The third edition includes up-to-date information about contemporary photographers like Cindy Sherman and Yang Yongliang and comprehensive coverage of the digital revolution, including the rise of mobile photography, the citizen as journalist, and the role of social media. Highly illustrated with full-color images and contributions from hundreds of artists around the world, Seizing the Light serves as a gateway to the history of photography. Written in an accessible style, it is perfect for students newly engaging with the practice of photography and for experienced photographers wanting to contextualize their own work.

Disappearing Witness Gretchen Garner, 2003-07-25 In documenting this transformation in American photography, Disappearing Witness forcefully rethinks the history of photography itself.

The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter, 2011 Arranged in alphabetical order, these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries.

A Gust of Photo-Philie Alexandra Moschovi, 2020-12-15 The first transnational history of photography's accommodation in the art museum, Photography was long regarded as a middle-brow art by the art institution. Yet at the turn of the millennium it became the hot global art of our time. In this book, part institutional history, part account of shifting photographic theories and practices, Alexandra Moschovi tells the story of photography's accommodation in and as contemporary art in the art museum. Archival research of key exhibitions and the contrasting collecting policies of MoMA, Tate, the Guggenheim, the V&A, and the Centre Pompidou offer new insights into how art as photography and photography as art have been collected and exhibited since the 1930s. Moschovi argues that this accommodation not only changed photography's status in art culture and society but also played a significant role in the rebranding of the art museum as a cultural and social site.

Modernism in the Peripheral Metropolis Tavid Mulder, 2023-08-28 This book shows how Latin American writers and artists in the crisis decades of the 1920s and 1930s used modernist techniques to explore national issues in relation to global capitalism. Drawing on a rich interdisciplinary archive of novels, poetry, essays, photography, and architecture, it includes chapters on major figures and the transformations that marked Latin American cities at the beginning of the twentieth century: the poet Manuel Maples Arce and Mexico City; the essayist Jos Carlos Mariategui and Lima; the novelist Roberto Arlt and Buenos Aires; the novelist Patr cia Galv o and S o Paulo. Tavid Mulder argues that the Latin American city should be understood as a peripheral metropolis, a social space that is simultaneously peripheral relative to the center of the world economy and a metropolis in relation to the region's vast underdeveloped hinterlands.

Conceiving of modernist techniques as ways of understanding how the dualisms of Latin American societies urban and rural wealth and poverty cosmopolitan and national are bound together by the internal contradictions of capitalism this volume insists on the ability of literary and artistic works to grasp the process through which untenable situations of crisis are not overcome but stabilized in the periphery It thereby sheds light on issues in Latin America that have become increasingly urgent in the twenty first century inequality indigenous migration surplus populations and anomie Photographers Peter

E. Palmquist,2000 American Studies Jack Salzman,1990-05-25 This volume supplements the acclaimed three volume set published in 1986 and consists of an annotated listing of American Studies monographs published between 1984 and 1988 There are more than 6 000 descriptive entries in a wide range of categories anthropology and folklore art and architecture history literature music political science popular culture psychology religion science and technology and sociology City

Gorged with Dreams Ian Walker,2002 The author analyses how the Surrealists utilised the tactics of documentary and how Surrealist ideas in turn influenced the development of documentary photography This is a study of what Louis Aragon called surrealist realism the exploration of the real life surreality of the city Depicting Canada's Children Loren

Lerner,2011-04-07 Depicting Canada's Children is a critical analysis of the visual representation of Canadian children from the seventeenth century to the present Recognizing the importance of methodological diversity these essays discuss understandings of children and childhood derived from depictions across a wide range of media and contexts But rather than simply examine images in formal settings the authors take into account the components of the images and the role of image making in everyday life The contributors provide a close study of the evolution of the figure of the child and shed light on the defining role children have played in the history of Canada and our assumptions about them Rather than offer comprehensive historical coverage this collection is a catalyst for further study through case studies that endorse innovative scholarship This book will be of interest to scholars in art history Canadian history visual culture Canadian studies and the history of children

Gods of Earth and Heaven Joel-Peter Witkin,1989 In this our second volume of Witkin's photographs the work is as controversial as ever In often torturous or eroticized still lifes and tableaux cadavers physical anomalies transsexuals and animals are carefully arranged to create a mythology that could originate only in the imagination of this singular artist In Gods of Earth and Heaven Witkin advances an aesthetic point of view in a manner that raises his artistic output to a new level of sophistication As often praised as he is derided by critics his work has become a basis for serious debate on issues of life and death love and sexuality At the very least Witkin's work challenges traditional canons of beauty and the spiritual in art An updated bibliography and exhibition history are included Creative Camera David Brittain,1999 Founded in 1968

Creative Camera has been a forum for influencing the shape and direction of modern photography Photographs

Between the World Wars Sotheby's (Firm),1989 Postcards from the Road Jonathan Day,2014-05-01 Walker Evans said in his 1958 introduction to Robert Frank's The Americans For the thousandth time it must be said that pictures speak for themselves wordlessly visually or they fail The images revolutionized post war American photography With their candid images of men and women from all classes and walks of life the photographs presented a very different story than that portrayed by the wholesome caricature of midcentury prosperity pervading American photography at the time Although initially dismissed by his peers for his pioneering work Frank was ultimately credited with changing the course of the art form and his photography holds a secure status in the history of twentieth century art And he did all this without words It seems appropriate then and not a little overdue that Jonathan Day has created a book that expounds explores and examines Frank s work pictorially Taking Frank s iconic images as his point of reference Day shot new photographs that commented on the road and contemporary America Here these images are paired with critical commentary that details the aspects of the work that are visually expounded and explained in Day s complementary images A visual entryway to the photographs and themes of this iconic book in the history of photography Postcards from the Road represents an innovative carefully considered departure from standard photographic textbooks
