Doyle,2012-12-06 In the five years since the publication of Molecular Systematics of Plants the field of molecular systematics has advanced at an astonishing pace This period has been marked by a volume of new empirical data and advances in theoretical and analytical issues related to DNA Comparative DNA sequencing facilitated by the amplification of DNA via the polymerase chain reaction PCR has become the tool of choice for molecular systematics As a result large portions of the Molecular Systematics of Plants have become outdated Molecular Systematics of Plants II summarizes these recent achievements in plant molecular systematics Like its predecessor this completely revised work illustrates the potential of DNA markers for addressing a wide variety of phylogenetic and evolutionary questions The volume provides guidance in choosing appropriate techniques as well as appropriate genes for sequencing for given levels of systematic inquiry More than a review of techniques and previous work Molecular Systematics of Plants II provides a stimulus for developing future research in this rapidly evolving field Molecular Systematics of Plants II is not only written for systematists faculty graduate students and researchers but also for evolutionary biologists botanists and paleobotanists interested in reviewing current theory and practice in plant molecular systematics      The Plant Diversity of Malesia P. Baas,K. Kalkman,R. Geesink,2012-12-06 Although the only publication with a realistic claim to the title The plant diversity of Malesia is Flora Malesiana itself we have hesitantly chosen this title for the present proceedings volume Past present and future work on the Flora Malesiana project was the subject of a successful symposium held in August 1989 This book contains only a selection of the papers presented at that meeting yet it covers a much greater diversity of themes than just the inventory of botanical diversity It even goes beyond the boundaries of the vast Flora Malesiana region in several of its chapters The role of the founder of the Flora Malesiana Project Professor C G G J van Steenis repeatedly recurs in several chapters not only as director of and contributor to the project but also as a pioneer in the fields of Malesian vegetation conservation and biogeography and as an enlightened systematist whose ideas and practical recommendations for taxonomic delimitation still largely apply Botanical information made available in regional and local floras is of vital importance for applications such as the exploitation of natural forests on a sustainable yield basis for establishing gene banks for the benefit of agriculture forestry and horticulture and not in the least for nature conservation Several chapters are devoted to these themes Floristic studies are also at the basis of the biogeographical essays and vegetation studies included in this book      Plants of the World Maarten J.
