(Firm),1875 Foreign Correspondence Jan Borm,2014-10-16 Though writers and readers have long agreed that travel does not only broaden the mind but that it is also useful to report on such an experience the question of what to report on and how has remained a matter of debate To think of travel and travel writing as foreign correspondence is to apply metaphorically a phrase that has its own complex and overlapping history in journalism politics and international culture The chapters of this volume focus on this notion seen here as a dual problematic oscillating between the private and the public whether as letters or other forms of writing sent from abroad From Mandeville's notorious Travels to fin de siècle Hispanic writing this volume offers readings of accounts by early modern and more recent Lithuanian and Polish travellers representations of the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth the Ottoman Empire and India Quixotic tropes in English travel writing about Spain Galignani's newspaper aesthetics and several contributions on translation issues and the foreign as an idiom to be rendered in more familiar terms The essays collected here thus all take foreign correspondence as their starting point whether as letters or in other narrative forms These texts are involved in complex webs of personal political social and cultural negotiations between travellers and their hosts as well as their presumed target audience a key aspect of the rhetorics of foreign correspondence as the chapters of this volume also go to show Eastern Europe United States. globe not only in terms of national ideologies but also within the context of several protagonists such as scholars collectors and dealers as well as of the objects themselves This volume brings together Islamic Iranian and Central Asian art experts from diverse disciplinary and professional backgrounds and intends to offer a novel insight into what is collectively known as Persian art Travelling with the Argonauts Małgorzata Irek, 2018-06-11 Drawing on rich ethnographic materials from longitudinal fieldwork on informal trading routes across Europe Travelling with the Argonauts offers a new perspective in the research of the social space reflecting on how best to investigate amorphous social phenomena such as informal networks Breaking with much current theory the approach detailed here the Restricted Verticality Perspective examines the horizontal dimension of social relations and understands informality not as marginal or substandard but as life itself as the real experience of ordinary people
