Race, Ethnicity and Education in Globalised Times Ruth Arber, 2008-02-12 What is the specificity of contemporary racism And what happens to questions of race in a context where multiculturalism is taken for granted Few authors address these kinds of questions with subtlety For the most part questions of racism are treated either as self evident or alternatively as self evidenced The first approach accentuated in everyday life and played out in media exposés is the tendency to treat racism as manifestly self evident We just know what racism is in principle and we just know what it looks like when we see it in practice Dualistic assumptions dominate this sense of identity relations persons are racist or they are not an act is racist or it is not However despite the obviousness of racism in contexts where different people have different seating arrangements on a bus or somebody says I am better than you because your skin colour is different this approach barely comes to terms with the depth of embodied politics and the elusiveness of structures of racism in the contemporary world      The Crisis of Race in Higher Education William F. Intersectionality of Race, Ethnicity, Class, and Gender in Teaching and Teacher Education Norvella P. Carter, Michael Vavrus, 2018-04-16. In Intersectionality of Race, Ethnicity, Class, and Gender in Teaching and Teacher Education, the editors bring together scholarship that employs an intersectionality approach to conditions that affect public school children, teachers and teacher educators. Chapter authors use intersectionality to examine group identities not only for their differences and experiences of oppression but also for differences within groups that contribute to conflicts among groups. This collection moves beyond single-dimension conceptions that undermine legal thinking, disciplinary knowledge and social justice. Intersectionality in this collection helps complicate static notions of race, ethnicity, class and gender in education. Hence, this book stands as an addition to research on educational equity in relation to institutional systems of power and privilege.

Beyond Marginality Hollie J. Mackey, Elizabeth T. Murakami, 2018-09-01. The book Beyond Marginality: Understanding the Intersection of Race, Ethnicity, Gender and Difference in Educational Leadership Research promotes new theoretical and conceptual frameworks for the study of race and ethnicity in educational leadership. In this volume, new generations of scholars of color are moving beyond research that has not been necessarily focused or generated by diverse groups. The authors are purposeful in transcending systemic inequities and injustices in the stratified representation of practitioners and researchers by bringing in a new movement with innovative and impactful theoretical and conceptual frameworks in educational leadership.
