Race Ethnicity And Difference Imagining The Inclusive Society:

Race Ethnicity and Difference: Imagining the Inclusive Society Peter Ratcliffe, 2004-06-16 This excellent book provides an extremely readable account which deserves to be widely read by a more general audience. In short, the author, in making sense of current imaginings, presents a mix of theoretical and empirical debates as he challenges exclusionary forces. The book's principal aim is to take a critical look at the nature and sources of inequalities in contemporary societies and examine the prospects for an inclusive society. This aim captures an important strength of the text as the analysis attempts to move beyond simple description and provide explanations and possible solutions to enable policy and practice to tackle disadvantage and discrimination. Social Policy This book addresses many of the key problems facing contemporary societies. The social significance attached to various forms of difference, most notably race and ethnicity, has been seen as resulting in the exclusion of some groups from their full rights as citizens. This in turn is viewed as presenting a series of barriers to the creation of more inclusive societies. Peter Ratcliffe explores these arguments in a variety of substantive contexts, for example immigration and the treatment of refugees and asylum seekers, housing and segregation, education, labour markets and policing and urban conflict. Particular emphasis is placed on the role of social agency on the part of minorities in confronting exclusionary forces. This lively and highly readable account deals with difficult theoretical, ethical and policy issues without resort to unnecessary jargon. It is essential reading for undergraduate students in sociology, social policy, urban geography, law and political science and is also of value to the general reader and researcher.

British Asians, Exclusion and the Football Industry Daniel Kilvington, 2016-02-22 This book examines the exclusion of British Asians from the football industry, drawing on a wealth of empirical work with players, coaches, scouts, managers, fans, anti-racist organisations, community officers and key stakeholders. It adopts a critical race theory (CRT) perspective to offer a platform for excluded communities to discuss their experiences and offer their advice, guidance and criticisms. Notions of whiteness, intersectionalities and gender are explored and filter throughout. This book highlights historical and contemporary reasons for the British Asian exclusion from football, critically examines a number of tried and tested inclusion strategies and offers recommendations for reform to help achieve equality and inclusion. The research aims to dehomogenise British Asian football experiences, offer the counter-narratives of British Asian male and females to challenge master narratives, comprehend the importance of intersectionalities, understand identity shifts and cultural changes, challenge socio-cultural stereotypes and racial myths, highlight contemporary manifestations of racism in football at all levels, examine the role parallel football environments have played in the exclusion, cast a critical eye over inclusion initiatives, promote recommendations for reform which are born out of empirical research. As long as marginalized groups such as British Asians are excluded from a field of popular culture in this case football, it is a topic that demands attention, deserves investigation and requires solutions. It is hoped that this book can be of use to students, researchers and policymakers who share an active interest in football exclusion and equality.

Working with Diversity in Youth and Community Work Sangeeta Soni, 2011-09-09 This book focuses on the nature of cross cultural practice an inevitable aspect of working as a youth and community worker in multicultural Britain today It enables students to understand how cross cultural dynamics can set the tone of their relationships with their clients and helps them to understand how individual action and some processes in society can contribute to the marginalisation of others This book looks at the processes involved in the everyday relationships forged through practice and how these can inadvertently influence the dynamics of oppression through lack of self awareness or lack of awareness of others in society Racism and Education David Gillborn, 2008-03-11 Education policy is not designed to eliminate race inequality but to sustain it at manageable levels This is the inescapable conclusion of the first major study of the English education system using critical race theory David Gillborn has been described as Britain s most influential race theorist in education In this book he dissects the role of racism across the education system from national policies to school level decisions about discipline and academic selection Race inequality is not accidental and things are not getting better Despite occasional good news stories about fluctuations in statistics the reality is that race inequality is so deeply entrenched that it is effectively locked in as a permanent feature of the system Built on a foundation of compelling evidence from national statistics to studies of classroom life this book shows how race inequality is shaped and legitimized across the system The study explores a series of key issues including the impact of the War on Terror and how policy privileges the interests of white people how assessment systems produce race inequality exposes the gifted and talented programme as a form of eugenic thinking based on discredited and racist myths about intelligence and ability documents the Stephen Lawrence case revealing how policy makers have betrayed earlier commitments to race equality shows how model minorities are created and used to counter anti racism how education policy is implicated in the defence of white power Conspiracy Racism Education takes critical antiracist analyses to a new level and represents a fundamental challenge to current assumptions in the field With a preface by Richard Delgado one of the founders of critical race theory Promoting social cohesion Ines Newman, Peter Ratcliffe, 2011-05-11 This book makes a forthright case for a shift in policy focus from community cohesion to the broader notion of social cohesion and is distinctive and innovative in its focus on evaluation It constitutes an extremely valuable source both for practitioners involved in social cohesion interventions and for researchers and students studying theory based evaluation and the policy areas highlighted housing intergenerational issues the recession education communications community development Linking Integration and Residential Segregation Gideon Bolt, A. Sule Özüekren, Deborah Phillips, 2013-09-13 Policy makers tend to view the residential segregation of minority ethnic groups in a negative light as it is seen as an obstacle to their integration In the literature on neighbourhood effects the residential concentration of minorities is seen as a major impediment to their social mobility and acculturation while the literature on residential segregation emphasises the opposite causal direction by focusing on the effect of integration on levels of de segregation This volume however indicates that the link between integration and segregation is much less straightforward than is often depicted in academic literature and policy discourses Based on research in a wide variety of western countries it can be concluded that the process of assimilation into the housing market is highly complex and differs between and within ethnic groups The integration pathway not only depends on the characteristics of migrants themselves but also on the reactions of the institutions and the population of the receiving society Linking Integration and Residential Segregation exposes the link between integration and segregation as a two way relationship involving the minority ethnic groups and the host society highlighting the importance of historical and geographical context for social and spatial outcomes This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies European Union Non-Discrimination Law Dagmar Schiek,Victoria Chege,2009-06-02 This edited collection addresses the multidimensionality of EU equality law from conceptual as well as practical perspectives Bringing together academics from all over Europe and from different disciplines including law politics and sociology the book focuses on the question of multidimensionality and intersectionality and deals with the consequences of multiplying discrimination grounds within EU equality law Equality and Diversity in Further Education Sheine Peart,2025-02-28 Further Education is the most diverse of all the education sectors Managing diversity and promoting equality a legislative requirement of the 2010 Equalities Act brings significant challenges for practitioners who are tasked with making the rhetoric of politicians a reality often with little guidance and few resources This book provides practical guidance for existing lecturers and trainee teachers explaining how they can overcome these challenges and establish a positive learning environment to meet the needs of all learners This accessible and up to date book extends the scope of the diversity and inclusion debate to consider a wide range of issues including age working with cross cultural groups promoting effective gender relations sexual orientation and working with current and ex offenders Each chapter includes clear objectives case studies critical thinking tasks chapter reflections and a learning review audit Migration, Whiteness, and Cosmopolitanism Miloš Debnár,2016-09-23 This book analyzes the increase in contemporary European migration to Japan its causes and the lives of Europeans in Japan Deconstructing the picture of highly skilled privileged cosmopolitan elites that has been frequently associated with white or Western migrants it focuses on the case of Europeans rather than Westerners migrating to a highly developed non Western country as Japan this book offers new insights on increasing diversity in migration and its outcomes for integration of migrants The book is based on interviews with 57 subjects from various parts of Europe occupying various positions within Japanese society What are the motivations for choosing Japan how do white migrants enjoy the privilege based on their race what are its limits and to what extent are the social worlds of such migrants characterized by cosmopolitanism rather than ethnicity These are the main questions this book attempts to answer The Routledge Companion to British Media History Martin Conboy,John Steel,2014-09-15 The Routledge Companion to British Media History provides a comprehensive exploration of how different media have evolved within social regional and national contexts The 50 chapters in this volume written by an outstanding team of internationally respected scholars bring together current debates and issues within media history in this era of rapid change and also provide students and researchers with an essential collection of comparable media histories The Routledge Companion to British Media History provides an essential guide to key ideas issues concepts and debates in the field Chapter 40 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 3.0 license <https://www.routledgehandbooks.com/doi/10.4324/9781315756202.ch40>

Navigating Multiculturalism Dawn

Zinga, 2021-04-16 This provocative volume explores multiculturalism from different disciplinary perspectives as well as examining the associated issues from the perspectives of various countries It considers how multiculturalism has been defined and the various meanings that the term holds while also focusing on the realities faced in different societal contexts The authors address difficult and at times divisive questions about race ethnicity and identity This collection challenges readers to examine their own perceptions of multiculturalism and to consider how the perspectives in this volume can inform their thinking By examining the issues from different perspectives the authors have encouraged individuals to consider how to navigate multiculturalism and negotiate change

New Directions in Race, Ethnicity and Crime Coretta

Phillips, Colin Webster, 2013-10-08 The disproportionate criminalisation and incarceration of particular minority ethnic groups has long been observed though much of the work in criminology has been dominated by a somewhat narrow debate This debate has concerned itself with explaining this disproportionality in terms of structural inequalities and socio economic disadvantage or discriminatory criminal justice processing This book offers an accessible and innovative approach including chapters on anti-Semitism social cohesion in London Bradford and Glasgow as well as an exploration of policing Traveller communities Incorporating current empirical research and new departures in methodology and theory this book also draws on a range of contemporary issues such as policing terrorism immigration detention and youth gangs In offering minority perspectives on race crime and justice and white inmate perspectives from the multicultural prison the book emphasises contrasting and distinctive influences on constructing ethnic identities It will be of interest to students studying courses in ethnicity crime and justice

East Asian Mothers in Britain Hyun-Joo Lim, 2018-04-12

How do Chinese Japanese and Korean mothers in Britain make sense of their motherhood and employment What are the intersecting factors that shape these women's identities experiences and stories Contributing further to the continuing discourse and development of intersectionality this book examines East Asian migrant women's stories of motherhood employment and gender relations by deploying interlocking categories that go beyond the meta axes of race gender and class including factors such as husbands ethnicities and the locality of their settlement Through this Lim argues for more detailed and context specific analytical categories of intersectionality enabling a more nuanced understanding of migrant women's stories and identities East Asian Mothers in Britain will appeal to students and scholars across a range of disciplines and with an interest in identity gender
