Nichol, 2011-07-23 This is a fascinating account of traditional socialisation and Indigenous forms of learning in Australia and Melanesia It draws from rich ethnographic historical and educational material There has never been a greater need for a socially and historically informed yet critical account of the mismatch between traditional ways realities of life in Indigenous communities villages and enclaves and the forms of education provided in schools Raymond Nichol a specialist in Indigenous education and pedagogy surveys the links too often disparities between ethnographic detail of life on the ground and the schooling provided by nation states in this vast region Most importantly he explores and suggests ways community developers and educators Indigenous and non Indigenous may work to bridge the gaps in social rights educational and economic development This is relevant for all Indigenous communities their survival and development Many vexed issues are discussed such as race ethnicity identity discrimination self determination development and relevant effective pedagogical learning and schooling strategies      Routledge Library Editions: Sports Studies Various, 2022-07-30 This set examines sport and leisure from a social science viewpoint The volumes included originally published between 1984 and 1991 take a cross disciplinary approach to explore the social political and cultural roles of sport in today s society They cover issues as diverse as inequality nationalism gender and commercialisation and engage with a range of academic disciplines including cultural studies history politics and sociology      Ibn García's shu'ūbiyya Letter Göran Larsson, 2021-10-11 This volume deals with the medieval shu biyyah movement in which non Arab Muslims sought equality of power and status with Arabs in al Andalus Muslim Spain By analysing a letter composed by Ibn Garc a during the 11th century the tensions between Arab and non Arab Muslims are discussed in detail Symbols stories and legends used in the shu biyyah corpus of writings are analysed in the light of the political and theological development in al Andalus and the Muslim world Authority legitimacy and power are central both to the discussion of Ibn Garc a s letter and the history of the shu biyyah movement The first part gives the historical background to the history of al Andalus Ethnic conflicts and tensions related to authority and power are of special interest The second part gives a detailed analysis of Ibn Garc a s shu biyyah letter in relation to the historical and contemporary situation in al Andalus      'I Want to Disturb My

'Neighbour' Verene Shepherd, 2007 This collection of 21 papers selected from presentations internationally reflect the depth and focus of Professor Shepherd's work over the past ten years in the areas of conquest and colonialization slavery and anti slavery post slavery society the project of decolonialization and the role of gender Culture and Fertility Amelia B. Alfonso, Leda L. Layo, Rodolfo A. Bulatao, 1980 The monograph is concerned with gaining an insight into the relationship between ethnic identity and population behaviour in the Philippines Establishing the linkage between ethnic diversity and fertility differentials will have definite implications for population policies and programmes This interest grows from the general recognition that such policies and programmes have often been planned and implemented on a national scale with little consideration for ethnic diversity While the relationship between ethnicity and fertility will not be directly studied or measured in this manuscript inferences and hypotheses will be drawn from an integration of available literature on the various ethnic groups in the Philippines on the one hand and a review of relevant population data from existing surveys on the other Pluralism in Malaysia Nagata, 2024-09-02 Theoretical Explorations in African Religion Wim van Binsbergen, Matthew Schoffeleers, 2013-10-28 First published in 1985 This collection of papers on theoretical and methodological perspectives in the study of African religion is the outcome of a conference which the editors were asked to convene on behalf of the African Studies Centre Leiden in December 1979 Lynching Robert W. Thurston, 2016-05-06 Addressing one of the most controversial and emotive issues of American history this book presents a thorough reexamination of the background dynamics and decline of American lynching It argues that collective homicide in the US can only be partly understood through a discussion of the unsettled southern political situation after 1865 but must also be seen in the context of a global conversation about changing cultural meanings of race A deeper comprehension of the course of mob murder and the dynamics that drove it emerges through comparing the situation in the US with violence that was and still is happening around the world Drawing on a variety of approaches historical anthropological and literary the study shows how concepts of imperialism gender sexuality and civilization profoundly affected the course of mob murder in the US Lynching provides thought provoking analyses of cases where race was and was not a factor The book is constructed as a series of case studies grouped into three thematic sections Part I Understanding Lynching starts with accounts of mob murder around the world Part II Lynching and Cultural Change examines shifting concepts of race gender and sexuality by drawing first on the romantic travel and adventure fiction of the era 1880 1920 from authors such as H Rider Haggard and Edgar Rice Burroughs Changing images of black and white bodies form another major focus of this section Part III Blood Debate and Redemption in Georgia follows the story of American collective murder and growing opposition to it in Georgia a key site of lynching in the early twentieth century By situating American mob murder in a wide international context and viewing the phenomenon as more than simply a tool of racial control this book presents a reappraisal of one of the most unpleasant yet important periods of America's history one that remains crucial for understanding race relations and collective violence around the world      Shades of Difference Richard W. Rees, 2007 From its prehistory in the biological theories of racial difference formulated in the 1800s to its current position in academic debate Richard Rees investigates the diverse fields of scholarship from which the multifaceted understanding of the term ethnicity is derived At the same time Rees traces the broader historical forces that shaped the needs to which the concept of ethnicity responded and the social purposes to which it was applied Centrally he focuses upon the emergence of ethnicity in the early 1940s as a means of resolving contradictions and ambiguities in the racial status of European immigrants and its subsequent legacy and implications on race and caste Shades of Difference introduces new perspectives on the definition of whiteness in America and makes an original contribution to the larger discussion of race through a detailed account of ethnicity's original meaning and its revaluation when later appropriated by the discourse of Black Nationalism in the 1960s and 70s Rees has produced a powerful new analysis of the cultural and political history of ethnicity in America      The Public Realm Lyn H.

Lofland, 2017-07-12 This book is about the public realm defined as a particular kind of social territory that is found almost exclusively in large settlements This particular form of social psychological space comes into being whenever a piece of actual physical space is dominated by relationships between and among persons who are strangers to one another as often occurs in urban bars buses plazas parks coffee houses streets and so forth More specifically the book is about the social life that occurs in such social psychological spaces the normative patterns and principles that shape it the relationships that characterize it the aesthetic and interactional pleasures that enliven it and the forces anti urbanism privatism post war planning and architecture that threaten it The data upon which the book's analysis is based are diverse direct observation interviews contemporary photographs historic etchings prints and photographs and historical maps histories of specific urban public spaces or spatial types and the relevant scholarly literature from sociology environmental psychology geography history anthropology and architecture and urban planning and design Its central argument is that while the existing body of accomplished work in the social sciences can be reinterpreted to make it relevant to an understanding of the public realm this quintessential feature of city life deserves much more and it deserves to be the object of direct scholarly interest in its own right Choice noted that The author's writing style is unusually accessible and the often fascinating narrative is generously supported by well chosen photos      The Japanese Overseas Merry E. The Copts in Egyptian Politics (RLE Egypt) B. L. Carter, 2012-11-23 This book explores the political relationship between the Muslim majority and Coptic minority in Egypt between 1918 and 1952 Many Egyptians hoped to see the collaboration of the 1919 revolution spur the creation of both a new collective Egyptian identity and a state without religious bias Traditional ways of governing however were not so easily cast aside Some Egyptians held tenaciously to the traditional arrangements which had both guaranteed Muslim primacy and served relatively well to protect the Copts and afford them some autonomy Differences within the Coptic community over the wisdom of trusting the genuineness and durability of Muslim support for equality were accentuated by a protracted struggle between reforming laymen and conservative clergy for control of the community The unwillingness of all parties to compromise hampered the ability of the community both to determine and to defend its interests The Copts met with modest success in their attempt to become full Egyptian citizens Their influence in the Wafd the pre eminent political party was very strong prior to and in the early years of the constitutional monarchy and their formal representation was generally adequate and in some parliaments better than adequate However this very success produced a backlash which caused many Copts to believe by the 1940s that the experiment had failed political activity has become fraught with risk for them At the close of the monarchy equality and shared power seemed motions as distant as in the disheartening years before the 1919 revolution
