Patriarchy and Socialist Revolution in China Judith Stacey, Professor of Contemporary Studies Judith Stacey, 1983

The Roots of Patriarchy Ilenia Ruggiu, 2024-10-28 By combining legal and genealogical methodologies this book describes the origin decline resurgence and metamorphosis of patriarchy in the West The book provides the reader with a unified tool for understanding what patriarchy is its dynamics and its main features The reader will find a guide with which to navigate the dozens of definitions and theories of patriarchy and will better understand why despite the proclamations of formal Constitutions of the equality of the sexes the gender gap in the West is still high Approaching patriarchy both as a concept and as a social fact the book shows how patriarchy lay at the Jewish Greek Roman roots of Western civilization how for millennia it was perceived as a benevolent function for social and political life and how feminism reversed this benevolent narrative By reconstructing how patriarchy has been theorized in several disciplines and historical times the book reflects on what has been done and remains to be done to de patriarchalize the West It will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and students in Women s Studies Gender Studies Constitutional Law Cultural Studies Religious Studies and Anthropology Handbook on the Family and Marriage in China Xiaowei Zang, Lucy Xia Zhao, 2017-12-29 This Handbook advances research on the family and marriage in China by providing readers with a multidisciplinary and multifaceted coverage of major issues in one single volume It addresses the major conceptual theoretical and methodological issues of marriage and family in China and offers critical reflections on both the history and likely progression of the field

Chinese Marriages in Transition Xiaoling Shu, Jingjing Chen, 2023-09-15 Outdated models of Chinese gender roles marriage and family transitions portray these changes as streamlined and unidirectional from traditional to modern public to private collective to individual Chinese Marriages in Transition documents the complex nuanced and multidirectional nature of these cultural transformations Using complex and large scale historical national data as well as comprehensive data from multiple countries Xiaoling Shu and Jingjing Chen demonstrate that while the second demographic transition is unfolding in many advanced Western societies it is not necessarily a normative form of societal transition Working instead from a framework of new familism Shu and Chen show that Chinese new familism consists of both old and new values including the persistence of some traditional beliefs and practices accompanied by a transition to modern perceptions of gender and adaption to some modern forms of family formation This book is freely available in an open access edition thanks to TOME Toward an Open Monograph Ecosystem a collaboration of the Association of American Universities the Association of University Presses and the Association of Research Libraries and the generous support of the University of California Davis Learn more at the TOME website available at openmonographs.org Download the open access book here

Reproductive Realities in Modern China Sarah Mellors Rodriguez, 2023-01-19. Lasting from 1979 to 2015, China's One Child Policy is often remembered as one of the most ambitious social engineering projects to date and considered emblematic of global efforts to regulate population growth during the twentieth century. Drawing on a rich combination of archival research and oral history, Sarah Mellors Rodriguez analyses how ordinary people, particularly women, navigated China's shifting fertility policies before and during the One Child Policy era. She examines the implementation and reception of these policies and reveals that they were often contradictory and unevenly enforced, as men and women challenged, reworked, and co-opted state policies to suit their own needs. By situating the One Child Policy within the longer history of birth control and abortion in China, Reproductive Realities in Modern China exposes important historical continuities such as the enduring reliance on abortion as contraception and the precariousness of state control over reproduction.

Asian Cinemas Dimitris Eleftheriotis, Gary Needham, 2006-03-31. The West's current fascination with Asian cinema must be viewed in the context of a complex and often problematic relationship between Western scholars, students, viewers, and Asian films. This book examines a number of detailed case studies such as the films of Ozu, Bruce Lee, Hong Kong and Turkish cinema, Hindi melodramas, Godzilla films, Taiwanese directors, and Fifth Generation Chinese cinema and uses them to investigate the limitations of Anglo-US theoretical models and critical paradigms. By engaging readers with familiar areas of critical discourse such as postcolonial criticism, national cinema, genre, authorship, and stardom, the book aims to introduce within such contexts the unfamiliar case studies that will be explored in depth and detail.

Revisiting Women's Cinema Lingzhen Wang, 2020-12-14. In Revisiting Women's Cinema, Lingzhen Wang ponders the roots of contemporary feminist stagnation and the limits of both commercial mainstream and elite minor cultures by turning to socialist women filmmakers in modern China. She foregrounds their sociopolitical engagements, critical interventions, and popular artistic experiments, offering a new conception of socialist and postsocialist feminisms, mainstream culture, and women's cinema. Wang highlights the films of Wang Ping and Dong Kena in the 1950s and 1960s, and Zhang Nuanxin and Huang Shuqin in the 1980s and 1990s, to unveil how they have been profoundly misread through extant research paradigms entrenched in Western Cold War ideology, post-second wave cultural feminism, and post-Mao intellectual discourses. Challenging received interpretations, she elucidates how socialist feminism and culture were conceptualized and practiced in relation to China's search not only for national independence and economic development but also for social emancipation, proletarian culture, and socialist internationalism. Wang calls for a critical reevaluation of historical materialism, socialist feminism, and popular culture to forge an integrated emancipatory vision for future transnational feminist and cultural practices International Handbook of Human Rights Jack Donnelley, Rhoda E. Howard-Hassmann, 1987-11-06 This collection of essays on the current human rights climate in 19 countries includes Canada Chile China Cuba Israel Poland the USA and USSR and represents a variety of regimes cultural traditions and geographical areas For analysis of the facts this volume excels A well crafted introduction describes current debate about human rights theory and practice traces the development of human rights instruments and discusses problems of implementation Strongly recommended Library Journal The bulk of the scholarly literature on human rights deals with international law and politics In contrast this volume offers nineteen case studies of national human rights practices Although international factors cannot be ignored most human rights violations are perpetrated by states against their own citizens the principal causes of the respect for and violation of human rights lie in national social and political structures
