Pattern Precision And Repetition In Contemporary Drawing:

By Hand Mary-Kay Lombino, 2001 By Hand showcases a diverse group of drawings by 26 artists ranging in the stages of their careers from emerging to established who hail from cities around the world including Los Angeles New York Paris Tokyo Dublin and London In contrast to a recent surge of art made with the aid of technology the drawings included in By Hand were all created with simple hand held tools This exhibition brings together work that resists the ever present temptation to generate images with a computer even when the artist must laboriously render such minutiae as the pattern of fabric type written passages or pin straight parallel lines Visually prominent in many of the works are the obsessive attention to detail and the painstaking processes required in their making while other works are handmade attempts to recreate an image or a pattern that was originally machinemade thus revealing or concealing the differences between the two

Writing Heidi Byrnes,Rosa M. Manchón,2014-11-14 The book seeks to enlarge the theoretical scope research agenda and practices associated with TBLT in a two way dynamic by exploring how insights from writing might reconfigure our understanding of tasks and in turn how work associated with TBLT might benefit the learning and teaching of writing In order to enrich the domain of task and to advance the educational interests of TBLT it adopts both a psycholinguistic and a textual meaning making orientation Following an issues oriented introductory chapter Part I of the volume explores tenets methods and findings in task oriented theory and research in the context of writing the chapters in Part II present empirical findings on task based writing by investigating how writing tasks are implemented how writers differentially respond to tasks and how tasks can contribute to language development A coda chapter summarizes the volume s contribution and suggests directions for advancing TBLT constructs and research agendas
