Paul Et Virginie Roman:

Die Wende Von Der Aufklärung Zur Romantik 1760-1820 Horst Albert Glaser, György Mihály Vajda, 2000 This volume is the twelfth to date in a series of works in French or English presenting the epochs and movements of a Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages Histoire Comparée des Littératures de Langues Européennes The original intention of the editors was to publish a four volume history of European literature from 1760 1820 and the first of these volumes Des Lumières au Romantisme Genres en Vers appeared as long ago as 1982 The volumes Genres en Prose and Théâtre are still awaited In their absence the present volume Epoque im _berblick attempts a more comprehensive and rigorous treatment of the period and its historiographical problems than was initially planned providing the reader with an overview of sixty eventful years of European literary history years in which German Classicism coincided with the birth initially in Germany and England of Romanticism And at the centre of this turbulent period of European intellectual and literary history stands the French Revolution

Nulle Part Et Ses Environs Jean-Michel Racault, 2003 Etude l'utopie dans la littérature du XVIIe et XVIIIe siècle et plus particulièrement les oeuvres voquant un déplacement dans l'espace plutôt qu'une cité idéale autre sens du terme Ainsi la littérature de voyage est abordée sous ses différentes formes romans contes philosophiques satires et récits de voyage avec des auteurs tels que Chateaubriand Voltaire Marivaux

Regressive Fictions Robin Howells, 2017-12-02 In a cultural shift around the mid point of the French eighteenth century the mode of wit is increasingly displaced by bourgeois pathos Social sophistication and sexual experience are rejected in favour of a retreat into ideal imagination Instead of the novel of worldliness we encounter fictions of better worlds original natural familial innocent and harmonious protected against reality and time The regressive shift is traced in this study in general terms and then through detailed analysis of three of the best selling novels of the period The turning point is represented by Mme de Graffignys Lettres d'une Péruvienne 1747 1752 with its profound ambivalence towards knowledge A new order is revealed and set out but still declared lacking in Rousseaus Julie ou la Nouvelle Héloïse 1761 The visionary return to the organic wholeness of nature is offered by Bernardins Paul et Virginie 1788

Thinking About Tears Marco Menin, 2022-07-28 A crucial period for the birth of the modern subject France's long eighteenth century approximately 1650 1820 was an era marked by the formulation of a new aesthetic and ethical code revolving around the intensification of emotions and the hyperbolic use of weeping Precisely because tears are not a simple biological fact but rather hang suspended between natural immediacy on one side and cultural artifice on the other the analysis of crying came to represent an exemplary testing ground for investigations into the enigmatic relations binding the realm of physiology to that of psychology Thinking About Tears explores how the link between tears and sensibility in France's long eighteenth century helps shed light on the process through which the European emotional lexicon has been built from viewing tears as governed by the sphere of passions and feelings thinkers began to view crying as first a matter of sensibility and then of sensiblerie a pathological excess of sensibility thereby presupposing an intimate connection with the category of sentiments For this reason this volume examines not only or even primarily the actual emotion of crying but also the attempt to think about and explain this feeling Drawing on a wide range of early modern philosophical medical religious and literary texts including moral treatises on the passions medical textbooks letters life writings novels and stage plays Thinking About Tears reveals another side to a period that has too often been saddled with the cursory label of the age of reason Graziella Alphonse de Lamartine,2018-11-13 In its first modern translation a novel cum memoir of a Frenchman s erotic awakening in Italy by a preeminent writer of the Romantic period In 1812 Alphonse de Lamartine a young man of means traveled through southern Italy where during a sojourn in Naples he fell in love with a young woman who worked in a cigar factory and whose death after he returned to France would haunt him throughout his writing life Graziella Lamartine called this lost girl in his poetry and memoirs and also in Graziella a novel that closely follows the story of his own romance When I was eighteen the narrator begins as if penning his memoir my family entrusted me to the care of a relative whose business affairs called her to Tuscany The tale that unfolds of the young man s amorous experiences amid the natural grandeur and subtle splendors of the Italian countryside is one of the finest works of fiction in the French Romantic tradition a bildungsroman that is also a melancholy portrait of the artist as a young man discovering the muse who would both inspire and elude him Remarkable for its contemplative prose its dreamy passions and seductive drawing of the Italian landscape and its place in the Romantic canon Graziella is a timeless portrait of love chronicling the remorse and the misguided ideals of youth that find their expression if not their amends in art Bernardin De St Pierre, 1737-1814 M. C. Cook,2017-12-02 Bernardin de St Pierre 1737 1814 was a major figure of the late French Enlightenment In this first full length critical biography of the author in English Malcolm Cook seeks to understand the importance of Bernardin s major works Drawing heavily on unpublished manuscript material he provides a fresh account of the writer s significance and status in a period of French history which during Bernardin s lifetime saw the transition from monarchy to republic and empire The book is both a critical account of a major author and a source of new insights into the cultural revolution taking place around him Colonialism, Race, and the French Romantic Imagination Pratima Prasad,2009-05-07 This book investigates how French Romanticism was shaped by and contributed to colonial discourses of race It studies the ways in which metropolitan Romantic novels that is novels by French authors such as Victor Hugo George Sand Bernardin de Saint Pierre Fran ois Ren de Chateaubriand Claire de Duras and Prosper M rim e comprehend and construct colonized peoples fashion French identity in the context of colonialism and record the encounter between Europeans and non Europeans While the primary texts that come under investigation in the book are novels close attention is paid to Romantic fiction s interdependence with naturalist treatises travel writing abolitionist texts and ethnographies Colonialism Race and the French Romantic Imagination is one of the first books to carry out a sustained and comprehensive analysis of the French Romantic novel s racial imagination that encompasses several sites of colonial contact the Indian Ocean North America the Caribbean West Africa and France Its archival research and interdisciplinary approach shed new light on canonical texts and expose the reader to non canonical ones The book will be useful to students and academics involved with Romanticism colonial historians students and scholars of transatlantic studies and postcolonial studies as well as those interested in questions of race and colonialism The Uniform Trade List

Crossings Carolyn Vellenga Berman,2018-07-05 The character of the Creole woman the descendant of settlers or slaves brought up on the colonial frontier is a familiar one in nineteenth century French British and American literature In Creole Crossings Carolyn Vellenga Berman examines the use of this recurring figure in such canonical novels as Jane Eyre Uncle Tom s Cabin and Indiana as well as in the antislavery discourse of the period Creole in its etymological sense means brought up domestically and Berman shows how the campaign to reform slavery in the colonies converged with literary depictions of family life Illuminating a literary genealogy that crosses political familial and linguistic lines Creole Crossings reveals how racial sexual and moral boundaries continually shifted as the century s writers reflected on the realities of slavery empire and the home front Berman offers compelling readings of the domestic fiction of Honor de Balzac Charlotte Bront Maria Edgeworth Harriet Jacobs George Sand Harriet Beecher Stowe and others alongside travel narratives parliamentary reports medical texts journalism and encyclopedias Focusing on a neglected social classification in both fiction and nonfiction Creole Crossings establishes the crucial importance of the Creole character as a marker of sexual norms and national belonging

The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1875 Exotic Nations Renata Wasserman,2018-03-15 In this highly original and critically informed book Renata R Mautner Wasserman looks at how during the first decades following political independence writers in the United States and Brazil assimilated and subverted European images of an exotic New World to create new literatures that asserted cultural independence and defined national identity Exotic Nations demonstrates that the language of exoticism thus became part of the New World s interpretation of its own history and natural environment Bulletin of the New England Modern Language Association ,1926 The Bulletin of the New England Modern Language
