archive of largely overlooked literature read by black children This volume s combination of analytic essays bibliographic materials and primary texts offers alternative histories for early African American literary studies and children s literature studies From poetry written by a slave for a plantation school to joyful death biographies of African Americans in the antebellum North to literature penned by African American children themselves Who Writes for Black Children presents compelling new definitions of both African American literature and children s literature Editors Katharine Capshaw and Anna black community and offer alternative ways to look at the relationship between children and adults Including two bibliographic essays that provide a list of texts for future research as well as an extensive selection of hard to find primary texts Who Writes for Black Children broadens our ideas of authorship originality identity and political formations In the
