Poison In The Gift:

The Poison in the Gift Gloria Goodwin Raheja, 1988-06 The Poison in the Gift is a detailed ethnography of gift giving in a North Indian village that powerfully demonstrates a new theoretical interpretation of caste. Introducing the concept of ritual centrality, Raheja shows that the position of the dominant landholding caste in the village is grounded in a central peripheral configuration of castes rather than a hierarchical ordering. She advances a view of caste as semiotically constituted of contextually shifting sets of meanings rather than one overarching ideological feature. This new understanding undermines the controversial interpretation advanced by Louis Dumont in his 1966 book Homo Hierarchicus in which he proposed a disjunction between the ideology of hierarchy based on the purity of the Brahman priest and the temporal power of the dominant caste or the king.

The Logic of the Gift Alan D. Schrift, Patrick Murray, 1997 The Logic of the Gift is an interdisciplinary collection that brings together some of the classic essays on gifts and gift giving alongside work especially written for this volume.

Dangerous Giving in Nineteenth-Century American Literature Alexandra Urakova, 2022-04-27 This book explores the dark unruly and self-destructive side of gift giving as represented in nineteenth-century literary works by American authors. It asserts the centrality and relevance of gift exchange for modern American literary and intellectual history and reveals the ambiguity of the gift in various social and cultural contexts including those of race, sex, gender, religion, consumption, and literature. Focusing on authors as diverse as Emerson, Kirkland, Child, Sedgwick, Hawthorne, Poe, Douglass, Stowe, Holmes, Henry, James, Twain, Howells, Wilkins, Freeman, and O Henry, as well as lesser-known, obscure, and anonymous authors, Dangerous Giving explores ambivalent relations between dangerous gifts, modern ideology of disinterested giving, and sentimental tradition.

Women and the Gift Morny Joy, 2013-09-17 Recent inquiries into the concept of the gift have been largely male dominated and thus have ignored important aspects of the gift from a woman's point of view. In the light of philosophical work by Mauss, Lévi-Strauss, Derrida, and Bataille, Women and the Gift reflects how women respond to the notion of the gift and relationships of giving. This collection evaluates and critiques previous work on the gift and also responds to how women view care, fidelity, generosity, trust, and independence in light of the gift.

Poison and Poisoning in Science, Fiction and Cinema Heike Klippel, Bettina Wahrig, Anke Zechner, 2017-11-14 This book is about poison and poisonings; it explores the facts, fears, and fictions that surround this fascinating topic. Poisons attract attention because they are both dangerous and hard to discover. Secretive and invisible, they are a challenging object of representation. How do science, studies, literature, and especially film, the medium of the visible, explain and show what is hidden? How can we deal with uncertainties emerging from the ambivalence of dangerous substances? These considerations lead the editors of this volume to the notion of precarious identities as a key discursive marker of poisons and related substances. This book is unique in facilitating a multi-faceted conversation between disciplines. It draws on examples from historical cases of poisoning figurations of uncertainty and blurred boundaries in literature and cinematic examples from early cinema and arthouse to documentary and blockbuster The contributions work with concepts from gender studies new materialism post colonialism deconstructivism motif studies and discourse analysis God, the Gift, and Postmodernism John D.
