Policing Athens Virginia J. Hunter, 2019-01-15 From household gossip to public beatings this social history explores the many channels through which Athenian maintained public order Virginia Hunter draws mostly on Attic court proceedings which allowed for a wide range of evidence including common rumors about a defendant's character and testimony obtained under torture of slaves against their masters She describes Athenian policing as a form of social control that took place across a range of private and public levels Not only does policing appear to have a collective enterprise but its methods were embedded in a variety of social institutions resulting in the blurring of the line between state and society Hunter's inquiry into topics such as household authority disputes among kin the presence of slaves in the house gossip in the home and neighborhood and forms of public punishment reveals a continuum extending from self regulation among kin and punitive actions enforced by the state Recognizing the bias of legal documents toward the wealthy Hunter concentrates on exposing the voices of the less powerful and less privileged members of society including women and slaves In so doing she is among the first to address systematically such important issues as the authority of women self help and corporal punishment Virginia J Hunter is Professor of History at York University She is author of Past and Process in Herodotus and Thucydides Princeton and Thucydides the Artful Reporter Toronto Originally published in 1994 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

A Commentary on Selected Speeches of Isaios Brenda Griffith-Williams, 2013-09-30 In A Commentary on Selected Speeches of Isaios Brenda Griffith Williams offers a fresh insight accessible to non Greek readers into four disputed inheritance cases from the Athenian courts in the 4th century B C The only comprehensive English language commentary on Isaios Wyse 1904 reflects a negative view of the Athenian legal system as one in which the judges who had no legal training could be easily outwitted by an unscrupulous speechwriter with no regard for the truth By addressing the complex interplay of factual legal and rhetorical issues in the selected speeches Brenda Griffith Williams identifies the strengths and weaknesses of each speaker's case and presents a more balanced assessment of Isaios's work

Lawmaking and Adjudication in Archaic Greece Zinon Papakonstantinou, 2015-12-20 Lawmaking and Adjudication in Archaic Greece re evaluates central aspects of the genesis and application of laws in the communities of archaic Greece including the structure and function of legislative bodies the composition of the courts the administration of justice and the use and abuse of legal norms and procedures by litigants in the courts and everyday settings Combining a detailed analysis of epigraphical and literary evidence and the application of a model of interpretation borrowed from cultural analyses of law this book argues that far from being monolithic creations of archaic polities that unilaterally informed social life archaic legal systems can be more appropriately viewed as ideologically polyvalent and socially complex It includes legal norms and the administration of justice articulated associations with divine and secular authority but also incorporated mainly in their reception and application by average citizens discourses of utility and resistance that actively contributed in the composition of social relations

Sexual Labor in the Athenian Courts Allison Glazebrook, 2021-12-21 Oratory is a valuable source for reconstructing the practices legalities and attitudes surrounding sexual labor in classical Athens It provides evidence of male and female sex laborers sex slaves brothels sex traffickers the cost of sex contracts for sexual labor and manumission practices for sex slaves Yet the witty wealthy and independent hetaira well known from other genres does not feature Its detailed narratives and character portrayals provide a unique discourse on sexual labor and reveal the complex relationship between such labor and Athenian society Through a holistic examination of five key speeches Sexual Labor in the Athenian Courts considers how portrayals of sex laborers intersected with gender the body sexuality the family urban spaces and the polis in the context of the Athenian courts Drawing on gender theory and exploring questions of space place and mobility Allison Glazebrook shows how sex laborers represented a diverse set of anxieties concerning social legitimacy and how the public discourse about them is in fact a discourse on Athenian society values and institutions

The Topography of Violence in the Greco-Roman World Werner Riess, Garrett G. Fagan, 2016-06-15 What soldiers do on the battlefield or boxers do in the ring would be treated as criminal acts if carried out in an everyday setting Perpetrators of violence in the classical world knew this and chose their venues and targets with care killing Julius Caesar at a meeting of the Senate was deliberate That location asserted Senatorial superiority over a perceived tyrant and so proclaimed the pure republican principles of the assassins The contributors to The Topography of Violence in the Greco Roman World take on a task not yet addressed in classical scholarship they examine how topography shaped the perception and interpretation of violence in Greek and Roman antiquity After an introduction explaining the spatial turn in the theoretical study of violence paired chapters review political assassination the battlefield violence against women and slaves and violence at Greek and Roman dinner parties No other book either adopts the spatial theoretical framework or pairs the examination of different classes of violence in classical antiquity in this way Both undergraduate and graduate students of classics history and political science will benefit from the collection as will specialists in those disciplines The papers are original and stimulating and they are accessible to the educated general reader with some grounding in classical history

Citizenship in Antiquity Jakub Filonik, Christine Plastow, Rachel Zelnick-Abramovitz, 2023-06-30

Citizenship in Antiquity brings together scholars working on the multifaceted and changing dimensions of citizenship in the ancient Mediterranean from the second millennium BCE to the first millennium CE adopting a multidisciplinary and comparative perspective The chapters in this volume cover numerous periods and regions from the Ancient Near East through the Greek and Hellenistic worlds and pre Roman North Africa to the Roman Empire and its continuations and with excursions to modernity The contributors to this book adopt various contemporary theories demonstrating the manifold meanings and ways of defining the concept and practices of citizenship and belonging in ancient societies and in turn of non citizenship and non belonging Whether citizenship was defined by territorial belonging or blood descent by privileged or exclusive access to resources or participation in communal decision making or by a sense of group belonging such identifications were also open to discursive redefinitions and manipulation Citizenship and belonging as well as non citizenship and non belonging had many shades and degrees citizenship could be bought or faked or even removed By casting light on different areas of the Mediterranean over the course of antiquity the volume seeks to explore this multi layered notion of citizenship and contribute to an ongoing and relevant discourse Citizenship in Antiquity offers a wide ranging comprehensive collection suitable for students and scholars of citizenship politics and society in the ancient Mediterranean world as well as those working on citizenship throughout history interested in taking a comparative approach
